ESTABLISHED 1833. FORT WAYNE, IND., MONDAY, JULY 29, 1901. PRICE TWO CENTS

A PEACE CONFERENCE IS HELD

President Shaffer, Colonel French and the Secretary of Ohio Arbitration Board Consider the Strike.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 29.—Secretary Joseph Bishop, of the Ohio board of arbitration, reached the headquarters of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers about 10 o'clock this morning and the newspaper men present were requested to leave the room. Behind closed doors a conference was held between President Shaffer and Secretary Bishop.

Later Colonel French, vice president of the Republic Iron and Steel company, called at the Amalgamated headquarters and was admitted to the inner office, where President Shaffer and Secretary Bishop were in conference. Colonel French was largely instrumental in settling the McKeesport strike last April and his presence today was regarded as significant. William Collier, a prominent labor leader of this city, was also taken into the meeting.

The conference lasted more than an hour and when it was over Colonel French, Secretary Bishop and William Collier were seen, but they refused to say anything concerning the matter under discussion. Shortly before noon President Shaffer quietly slipped out of the office through a rear door and efforts to locate him have so far been fruitless.

Secretary Williams, of the Amalgamated association, said the reported terms of a compromise had been guessed at by someone who is not familiar with the situation and is not official. "We are pledged to secrecy," said he, "and I am sorry the fact that we met officials of the United States Steel corporation was made public. Our intention was to keep the entire matter quiet until something definite was done. No statement will be made from our headquarters today."

TRICKED THE STRIKERS.

McKeesport, Pa., July 29.—The action of the American Tin Plate company at Kemmler in notifying the pipe fitters and millwrights to take a vacation was evidently a ruse, as one set of rolls and one furnace was put in operation. It is supposed that the company smuggled in men from the Monessen plant while the strikers were massed along the river front. Ten or twelve men are sufficient to run the one furnace and set of rolls and that is the number supposed to be at work.

The indignation among the strikers is at fever heat and trouble is feared

DISCUSSED THE STRIKE.

The directors and stockholders of the Indiana Road Machine company held a meeting at the offices of the Fort Wayne Trust company this morning to discuss matters connected with the strike of machinists at the works. None of their decisions were made public. There is little change in the strike situation. It was stated this morning upon the streets that a number of new men had been engaged, but that they had not commenced work.

OLD SCENES HAVE CHANGED

EDWIN C. CRAWFORD, OF CHICAGO, HERE.

Years Ago He Was City Editor of the Gazette, and Later Principal of the Hoagland School.

Edwin C. Crawford, now a prominent Chicago attorney, is in the city the guest of Dr. K. K. Wheelock. Years ago Mr. Crawford was a resident of Fort Wayne, but this is his first visit to the city in twenty-two years.

Mr. Crawford was reared in Cedar Creek township, this county, and in 1871 was city editor of the Gazette. He also held the principalship of the Hoagland school under the administration of Superintendent Smart. Mr. Crawford is amazed at the changes the passing years have made in Fort Wayne.

"I stepped off the Nickel Plate train Saturday," said he, "and had I not known absolutely that this city was Fort Wayne I should never have recognized it. I looked for the old Townley corner, which used to be a central meeting point in my day here, but it is changed beyond recognition. New and handsome business buildings have replaced the old down-town structures, and it doesn't look much like the old Fort Wayne of thirty years ago. Dr. Wheelock has been driving me about the city, and I have enjoyed noting the improvements that have sprung up on every hand. The beautiful Hoagland school building I saw today doesn't in the faintest measure resemble the structure in which I presided years ago, and your court house is as handsome a public building as I have ever seen. It will compare favorably with the best in Chicago."

Mr. Crawford leaves for his home tomorrow. Yesterday he spent the day at Dr. Wheelock's Rome City cottage.

MONKS FOR JUDGE

CHIEF JUSTICE DECIDED ON FOR FEDERAL JUDGE.

SUCCESSOR TO W. A. WOODS

JUDGE R. S. TAYLOR HAS DECLINED HONOR.

REASON FOR THE CHOICE

JUDGE MONKS ON BENCH OF STATE MANY YEARS.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 29.—The Sentinel today says:

Leander J. Monks, chief justice of the supreme court of Indiana, has practically been decided on by Senator Fairbanks to succeed the late Judge Woods on the United States circuit bench for the district composed of Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin.

This information is regarded as most reliable. From the same source it is learned that Judge R. S. Taylor, of Fort Wayne, could have secured the position had he expressed a desire to go on the bench and relinquish his present work, but when Judge Taylor was askd as to his wishes he said he preferred to continue his practice and his work on the Mississippi river commission, from which two sources his income is said to be $30,000.

JUDGE TAYLOR WILL STAY.

It is not stated that Judge Taylor was offered the position on the federal circuit bench, but it is known that he was approached upon the subject and his wishes were ascertained. It has been learned by Senator Fairbanks, after investigation, that Judge Taylor will not be molested by the national administration in his place on the Mississippi river commission so long as his services are available. Under these circumstances Judge Taylor was not considered further.

Judge Monks has been on the circuit and supreme bench for twenty-eight years, or just one-half of his entire life. He was appointed in 1873 to fill a vacancy on the circuit bench of the district composed of Randolph and Delaware counties, was re-elected to the position in 1876, 1882 and 1888, and in 1894 was elected to the supreme court and again re-elected in 1900, being nominatd by acclamation.

In his decisions Judge Monks has shown high ability and at the same time has never caused disappointment in the result to the republican party where a political question was involved. He has for some years lived at the Denison hotel during the terms of the supreme court, but his home has been in Winchester and he still spends his vacations there.

CAPITAL MAN IMPOSSIBLE.

In casting about for a man for the position Senator Fairbanks, as was outlined in the Sentinel a few days ago, first of all determined that it would be the worst of politics to appoint another Indianapolis republican to a high position on account of the intense jalousy of "the state," which it is calculated will unseat one of the two Indianapolis senators unless some good things are given to republicans outside of this city.

Indianapolis candidates for the position were not even considered therefore. Ex-Attorney General Ketcham, with the indorsement of the entire bar of Indiana, would not be strong enough to land the job in the face of the danger such an appointment would be to Senator Fairbank's seat, and Ovid Jameson might know all the law ever interpreted and still not be able to overcome such an obstacle, while A. C. Harris might be the most brilliant jurist in the land and still not be strong enough to cause Senator Fairbanks to assist in his own destruction.

QUALIFICATIONS NECESSARY.

In casting about for a man for the place, therefore, two things were considered above all—the geographical location of the appointee and his fealty to the republican party. No doubt his abilities and judicial powers were a factor, but these ranked third.

In Judge Monks Senator Fairbanks believes he has solved the problem. Judge Monks is but fifty-six years of age, has been one of the most earnest republicans of Indiana, has been a supporter of Senator Fairbanks since that gentleman's aspirations were directed toward the toga, and he comes from a strongly republican section of the state, where Senator Fairbanks has been weak.

Senator Fairbanks declines to discuss the appointment nor will he confirm the statement that Judge Monks has been decided upon for the place. It is generally conceded, however, by those very close to Senator Fairbanks that no other name will be considered.

VISIT TO THE PRESIDENT.

The action of Senator Fairbanks in selecting Judge Monks for the place, as reported, follows close upon the senator's recent visit to President McKinley in company with United States Attorney General Knox. It is known that this visit to the president was in connection with the selection of a successor to Judge Woods and it is announced that Senator Fairbanks left the president carrying with him the assurance that Senator Fairbank's selection of Judge Monks was approved and the appointment would follow. Senator Beveridge has not been considered in the matter at all.

IT WAS WRITTEN IN A DIARY

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF MRS. LOAG.

The late Mrs. Anna R. Loag, who died last week, left a will that is somewhat out of the ordinary class of documents of that character, for it was written in her diary.

The entry was not discovered until a day or two ago, and it is entirely free from the customary legal phraseology, being a simple direction as to the disposition of her property. To her sister, Mrs. Beals, of Chicago, is bequeather $5,000. Richard Henderson, a brother in Iowa, receives $500 and a number of outlots at Kansas City. One thousand dollars' worth of stock in the Fort Wayne Drug company is left to a niece, Miss Minnie Beals, and a nephew, Harry Beals, is also remembered. A diamond ring is bequeathed to Mrs. S. E. Morss, and Miss Josephine Morss receives $1,000 worth of the Drug company stock. A number of other minor bequests were made, and a few shares of the Indianapolis Sentinel stock is left to Mrs. Morss. Hon. S. E. Morss is named as administrator, and will settle the estate in accordance with the wishes of the decedent as expressed by her entry in her diary.

GREAT LAND LOTTERY BEGINS

Western Young Man Draws First and Western Young Woman Second---Thousands of Claimants Watch the Drawing

El Reno, O. T., July 29.—One of the greatest lotteries in history was begun here this morning. It was conducted by the federal government in disposing of 13,000 quarter-section claims thrown open to settlement on the Kiowa-Comanche reservations.

The drawing was delayed until late in the afternoon. Twenty thousand excited, expectant people jammed and crowded about the platform. The approach of the commissioners guarding the precious bundles of envelopes containing the thousands of applications was the signal for a great demonstration that was renewed with fervor from time to time during the progress of the arrangements. When finally ten boys, five for the El Reno and five for the Lawton district, were lined up before the two wheels and awaited the word to draw out the first envelopes from the receptacles a mighty cheer arose, was repeated again and again and the multitude pushed closer to the platform. Eager, drawn faces watched every movement of those about the wheels and necks were craned to hear the name of the first winner. A moment later when a deputy marshal called loudly for order the crowd was stilled instantly.

Colonel Dyer, one of the three commissioners, read the president's proclamation relating to the drawing. The envelopes were then placed in the wheels, each was turned repeatedly to insure a general mixing and then the drawing was on. The first envelope taken from the wheel contained the name of James R. Wood, of Weatherford, Okla., who had registered for a homestead in the Lawton district.

Mattie H. Beals, of Wichita, Kas., whose birthplace is in Missouri, drew No. 2, also in the Lawton district.

The multitude went frantic over the announcement. Without doubt Wood and Miss Beals, who thus have the right to make the first filings, will select the two quarter sections adjoining the Lawton town site district and which are believed to be worth $40,000 each.

When Colonel Dyer announced the woman's age as twenty-three and that her height is the same as that of Mr. Wood, twenty thousand persons shouted in chorus: "They must get married!"

No. 1 in the El Reno district was Stephen A. Holcomb, of Pauls Valley, I. T., and No. 2 was Leonard T. Lamb, of Augusta, Okla.

CHINA ALREADY PAYING INTEREST

Washington, July 29.—Dispatches received by cable from Mr. Rockhill, the United States special commissioner at Pekin, set out some of the details of the financial arrangement respecting the indemnity not heretofore disclosed. He reports that the interest on the indemnity began to run on the 1st of July of this year and the payments will become due semi-annually, the first to be met January 1st next. China will be allowed three years before making the first payment on account of the principal indemnity.

The moneys, both on account of principal and interest, will be received by a financial committee located at Shanghai, to be known as the "committee of encashment." This will be composed of the heads of foreign banks at Shanghai, selected by the governments interested in the payments. The committee is to distribute the funds turned in by the Chinese government among the various powers in proportion to the interest payments due them.

The diplomatic court at Pekin favors the immediate application of the new tariff, the effect of which will be to abolish the free list except as to cereals.

NEW JOBBING FIRM TO OPEN

WAYNE PAPER COMPANY HAS JUST BEEN FORMED.

B. F. Rousseau, J. C. F. Sprankle and F. J. Sprankle Comprise It —Locate on Barr Street.

The Wayne Paper company is the name of a new wholesale concern which will soon open for business at 112 Barr street as jobbers of wrapping paper, stationery and paper novelties.

Comprising the firm are B. F. Rousseau, who was for nine years Fort Wayne manager for Swift & Co.; J. C. F. Sprankle, well known as a dredge contractor and F. J. Sprankle, his son. Mr. Rosseau has been for the past few years a traveling representative of Nelson, Morris & Co., of Chicago, though he has retained his home in Fort Wayne.

A large portion of the stock has already been purchased and is on its way to this city. Workmen will at once place the rooms in condition and Mr. Rosseau stated this morning that the firm expected to begin business within a week. The organization is a simple partnership and will not be incorporated.

BISHOP AT INDIANAPOLIS.

Bishop Alerding, who dedicated a new Catholic church at Elwood yesterday, went directly from that city to Indianapolis, where he will spend several days the guests of old friends. It will be the bishop's first opportunity to spend a few days with the clergy and laity of his former parish and he will not return until Friday.

FORM TEMPERANCE SOCIETY

MEETING IS CALLED FOR TUESDAY EVENING.

Organization Will Work Along Prohibition Lines and Expects Large Membership.

A call has been issued for a meeting of temperance workers to be held at the South Congregational church Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock for the purpose of forming a temperance society, and a number of leading prohibitionists are at the head of the movement.

It is designed to bring the temperance workers into closer association, and it is the idea to have the new organization thoroughly equipped for effective work along prohibition lines in this city. It is understood that the project has already had much encouragement, and the promoters feel assured that a large membership will be acquired within a short time. At the meeting Tuesday evening officers will be elected and a name chosen for the society.

Mrs. J. Imler has returned from a visit to friends in Kendallville.

HE WAS M'KINLEY'S FRIEND

FATHER OF MRS. ADAM SERVA, OF FORT WAYNE.

Dropped Dead at Canton, Ohio, and President Honors His Memory —Mrs. Serva There.

Mrs. Adam A. Serva, of 510 South Calhoun street, is at Canton, Ohio, attending the funeral of her father, Leopold Biechele, who died very suddenly Friday evening. Mrs. Serva was nearly prostrated by the sad intelligence.

Mr. Biechele was a neighbor and a close friend of President McKinley, their residences being but a few doors apart. A complimentary concert was to have been given on the McKinley lawn Friday evening by the G. A. R. band, but Mr. Biechele dropped dead about 5 o'clock and the president, out of respect to his memory, ordered the concert postponed.

The telegraph this afternoon brings the intelligence that the president today attended the funeral services over his old neighbor and friend.

L. V. Lindemuth and wife, of Oklahoma, are in the city the guests of a brother, George Lindemuth, of the auditor's office. This is Mr. Lindemuth's first visit to Fort Wayne in seventeen years and is the first of a family of nine bothers to arrive to take part in a family reunion which will take place in a few weeks. He expects to remain in the county visiting friends and relatives for six or seven weeks.

Mrs. George W. Boswell and daughter, Rhoda, will return this evening from a brief visit in Chicago, where they have been guests of Mrs. Whitfield.

The Misses Flora and Edith Stier, Carrie Hoffman and Teresa Stier are at Clear Lake for an outing.

AMERICAN LOCOMOTIVES FOR FRANCE

Paris, July 29.—The newspapers here today announced that the Lyons-Mediterranean railroad had bought a number of American locomotives. The correspondent of the Associated Press questioned M. Baudry, the chief engineer of the railroad, on the subject. He said:

"The report is true. We have purchased ten American locomotives. They have just arrived at Arles (a railroad junction about forty-five miles from Marseilles), where they are now being put together. We intend experimenting with them, with the view of adopting the points, if there are any, in which they are superior to the French engines."

The correspondent questioned M. Baudry respecting the use of American coal on his road and the chief engineer said:

"We bought a large quantity last year when the prices were much below the prices of Cardiff coal. But now the prices of Cardiff coal have fallen and we have given up using American coal, which needs to be cheaper, because we found it to be of poorer quality. However, if American coal can be landed here cheap enough our company is ready to buy it."

BEGIN WORK ON A BIG HILL

SOUTHWESTERN GRADERS AT END OF TAYLOR STREET.

Extensive Job to Be Done Before New Bridge Can Be Reached—Grading Nearly Done.

This morning C. C. Robertson, grade foreman for Townsend, Reed & Co., began work at the end of Taylor street, placing a large force of men and teams at work cutting down the big hill at that point.

There is an extensive job of cutting and filling to be done before the new bridge over the St. Mary's river can be reached. The grading of the road from Huntington to Fort Wayne is practically completed up to this point and only the delay in obtaining rails is retarding the laying of steel. Mr. Robertson, who has been with the company from the start of the work, is said to be one of the best railroad construction men in the country.

PASTOR GETS A VACATION.

The official board of Wayne street M. E. church has granted the pastor, Rev. A. S. Preston, a vacation of one month during the heated term, and this week Rev. Preston and family will go to their farm at Lake James, in Steuben county. The pulpit will be supplied at the morning service, but the evening meetings are to be abandoned for a few weeks.

SACK OF SILVER MISSING.

Chicago, July 29.—A sack of 1,000 silver dollars has mysteriously disappeared from the Commercial National bank, and although several detectives have been put on the case their efforts so far have been futile. The package, which weighed about sixty pounds, was left outside of the vault by mistake when the bank closed for the night and since then no trace of it can be found. This is the second strange disappearance of a package of money belonging to the Commercial National bank within a year. Detectives are still looking for a bundle of $20,000 in bills shipped by the bank with the Adams Express company to the National State bank at Burlington, Iowa, August 17 last. When the package was opened at Burlington it contained only clippings of paper.

OLD BOAT IS AGAIN THE VICTOR

Bateman's Point, R. I., July 29.—The old cup defender Columbia won the $1,000 Astor cup today, leading the new aspirant for cup honors, the Constitution, at the finish by two minutes and fourteen seconds, shore time. The race was sailed in a fine breeze from the north, the course being a triangular one of thirty-eight miles. The Constitution got over the line first and the two ninety-footers had a hot race around the first mark and well down to the turn. On the second leg the Columbia passed the Constitution to windward and increased this lead to about two minutes and a half at the turn. On the last leg of six and one-half miles the Constitution gained a few seconds, but it was not sufficient to bring her within hailing distance of the old boat and for the second time in the history of these racers, a new aspirant for international cup honors was defeated by an old one.

FIRE AT THRESHING.

Last Saturday a fire occurred on the farm of Leslie Husted, of Maumee township, three miles north of Woodburn, which resulted in the total destruction of a grain separator, the property of Joel Sweet, and valued at $900. The machine was a new one and the Husted job was only the third or fourth that Mr. Sweet had worked out this season. The fire caught in the straw stack while the threshers were at dinner and when discovered was so far advanced that saving anything but the engine was entirely out of the question. The engine was uninjured, but the separator, stacker, water wagon and several other wagons, together with a large quantity of grain, were consumed. There was no insurance on the machine or other of the property destroyed.

MUST NOT TALK.

Washington, July 29.—Secretary Long this morning issued the following general order:

All persons in the naval service are strictly enjoined to refrain from any public statement concerning the subject matter of the court of inquiry requested by Rear Admiral W. S. Schley.

"John D. Long, Secretary."

SOLDIERS REACH HOME.

Battery B, Capt. W. F. Ranke, and company D, Capt. O. C. Meyer, reached the city at 1 o'clock Sunday morning from Indianapolis, where they were in attendance at the state encampment last week. The encampment was an interesting and enjoyable one, though the excessive heat caused much discomfort.

FIRE AT RICHMOND.

Richmond, Ind., July 29.—Fire today destroyed several buildings in the business portion of the city. Total loss, $35,000; partly insured.

Mrs. C. S. Tuckey, who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Brown, of East Lewis street, returned today to her home at Crestline.

The little son of Frank Mungovan was painfully injured yesterday by a nail penetrating his foot.

THE CIGARMAKERS GET A RAISE

Advance of $1 a Thousand on Five-Cents Goods ---Most Factories Granted Demand Readily---Others Consider It.

Nearly all the larger cigar manufactories in Fort Wayne this morning granted the demand of the union cigarmakers for an increase of $1 per thousand on the manufacture of all five-cent cigars, and it is expected that others will accept the new scale within a few days.

The demand was made by Cigarmakers' union No. 37 and presented to the proprietors of the shops on Saturday, the scale covering surrounding towns under union jurisdiction as well as Fort Wayne, and becoming effective today. It is said that most of the factories granted the request readily, and at noon today it was announced that the following Fort Wayne factories had accepted the new scale:

Cooney Bayer, F. J. Gruber, A. C. Baker, J. C. Eckert, Kasten & Kohlmeyer, F. J. McCormick, H. F. Fisher, George Reiser, Fred Schneider, William Steckbeck, Braun & Alexander, F. Grewe, William Smith, George Humbrecht, Phil Arantz, Paul Kirbach & Bro., B. H. Trentman, Charles Albrecht and William Horn.

It is stated that these factories regard the demand as just and fair, and the men employed in the above shops are at work as usual. Several manufacturers have expressed a wish to consider the matter a few days before answering the request of the union. The committee of the union workmen was in session today at Saengerbund hall.

A SOP TO THE AGRARIANS

WHAT GERMANY'S NEW TARIFF IS INTENDED FOR.

Is a Declaration of Commercial War on Russia, Austria and the United States.

New York July 29.—A dispatch to the Herald from Berlin says:

The tariff project, which was published in all the papers Saturday, is an open declaration of commercial war with Russia, Austria and the United States, but Count Von Buelow knows that the bundesrath will not confirm it.

It is, therefore, a cleverly concealed sop to the agrarians, however, intended to show his sympathy for them. Commerce means everything in Germany's future relations with Russia.

Count Von Buelow, as is well known, is keenly anxious to resume the old time good relations with Russia. That can only be achieved by the maintenance of good trade relations.

Count Von Buelow has now faced the biggest difficulty he has ever encountered. It is to reconcile the demands of Russia for favorable treatment in the forthcoming treaty of commerce and at the same time to meet the urgent demands of protection made by the agrarians, a most powerful party, which is composed of the most solid supporters of the crown.

For months past the German chancellor has been struggling against the well organized efforts of the agrarians. Do what he would it was always the same cry: "Protect us or we will bring all the power of our opposition against you."

Count Von Buelow is resourceful and knows most of the political moves upon the board likely to bring the opinion of partise round to his side, but with these hard-headed agrarians his attempts to coerce or cajole have been fruitless.

The result is the publication of the new tariff, which is to go into force when the present treaties of commerce with Russia and other countries expire.

Hitherto Russian wheat has paid a duty of 3½ marks. In future it will pay from 5 to 6½ marks. Cattle and horses will also be subjected to much heavier taxation, but these will affect Austria and the United States much more than Russia.

It is the wheat tax which will hit Russia so hard, and which will undoubtedly call forth from M. De Witte a very stiff counter duty upon a multitude of cheap manufactured goods, with which Germany floods Russia, just as she does other countries.

M. De Witte will probably hit back very hard, all the more so as Russia has done so much to build up an important grain trade with Germany. The diminution of such trade will inflict a very heavy blow upon the carrying trade which is necessary for the prosperity of the daily increasing railroad system of the empire.

Thus Germany will find countervailing duties imposed upon her manufactures, particularly upon the curios—small things which are such large financial resources, such as purses, celluloid collars, shirt-fronts and a thousand other things sold cheaply in second rate shops all over Russia.

The new tariff does not, it is said, go into operation until the month of December, 1903, so that there is plenty of time for the two countries to try to arrange some modus vivendi.

In the meantime the outlook is as bad as possible, and not only applies to Russia, but to Germany's allies, Austria and Italy, and in a marked degree to the United States.

KILLED IN A RIOT IN OHIO.

Cambridge, Ohio, July 29.—One man dead one dying, another probably fatally shot and a fourth man with the back of his head crushed in. This, with the threatened lynching of a negro is the result of a free-for-all fight yesterday at King's mines, a short distance from Black Top mine, where a riot between Hungarian and Slavish miners occurred Saturday. The dead man is Grant Taylor. The injured:

Joe Reedon, shot twice in the bowels, one bullet going through the body.

Melvin Sheldon, shot in the breast.

All the other men are white. Busby was arrested and is in jail here. He was saved from lynching by quick work by the sheriff. He is blamed for the trouble. Taylor and his wife had been warned to leave the neighborhood. Mack Sheldon met Busby near the company's store yesterday and after a few words Busby knocked him down with a stone. Melvin Sheldon and Reedon quickly appeared, but Busby ran to his home and armed himself, threatening to shoot anyone trying to get him. Taylor, walking along the street, made a remark to Sheldon and Reedon and all three drew revolvers and began firing. Sheldon and Reedon fell to the ground fatally wounded. The prompt work of the sheriff and his deputies saved Busby from being lynched. All is now quiet at Black Top and eight men are here in jail.

HOT AT WINAMAC.

(Dispatch from Winamac, Ind.)

For several weeks the residents of this quiet village on the banks of the Tippecanoe have been sweltering in the heat of a torrid zone. 'Squire A. B. Holliday and Major R. S. Rogers, two prominent citizens of this place, hung a thermometer in the branches of a large white oak in front of their place of business. They hung the thermometer where the torrid rays of the sun would strike it. The mercury rose slowly but steadily, until it reached the top. The pressure on the tube became so great that the tree gradually commenced to rise from the ground until its roots were released and the tree sailed away like a balloon, and disappeared in the far western horizon. "By gum, major," said the 'squire, "the darn newspapers will want our pictures."

AFFAIRS IN THE PHILIPPINES

TO FORM CONSTABULARY FOR ISLAND OF LEYTE.

General Chaffee Issues Orders That Correct Soldiers' Slovenliness of Attire.

Manila, July 29.—Major Henry Allen, of the Forty-third volunteers, who was some time since appointed governor of the island of Leyte, has been chosen chief of the native constabulary and will proceed with the organization of that force.

Captain Spellman, of the Forty-third has been sentenced to two years in prison for encouraging trading at the closed ports.

General Shaffee has issued an order that the troops shall wear their coats buttoned everywhere outside of the barracks. The order dispenses with the use of flannel shirts, which have heretofore been the customary outer garments. Officers are ordered to wear khaki for all duty and swords always when actively commanding. White or dress suits are permitted to be worn on social occasions.

Upon visiting the posts unexpectedly General Chaffee found an astonishing variety in the uniforms and a great laxness regarding the clothing of the troops.

Two native policemen have been killed in the suburbs of Cebu. Firing upon the town continues. Provost Davis is conducting an investigation.

The detectives employed in investigating the Santa Cruz robbery have found no definite clew nor have they learned the amount the thieves secured. It appears that the sergeant of the guard was intoxicated and that one sentry was detailed to guard the five entrances to the guardhouse.

Gen. Martin Delgado, governor of the island of Panay, has asked for aid in consequence of the ravages of locusts and the rinderpest.

WINONA CONVENTION ENDS.

Warsaw, Ind., July 29.—The five days' annual session of the Young People's Christian Union of the Presbyterian Churches of North America, at Winona Lake, closed last night. All services were of a religious character, the final work of the convention having been completed Saturday night, when, on recommendation of the general committee, the convention decided to hold biennial meetings instead of annual, the order to apply after the meeting of next year at Winona. After praise service yesterday morning Rev. W. W. White, of Montclair, N. J., recently returned from work in Calcutta, conducted the Sabbath school lesson, his class consisting of nearly the entire summer population of Winona. Immediately following Rev. E. M. Russell, D. D. delivered the convention sermon. Devotional services were held yesterday afternoon.

Then followed a conference on "Work of Committees," conducted by Rev. J. A. Duff, of Chicago. Rev. E. E. Stewart, of Chicago, directed the conference on "Giving to God." These conferences are fixtures of these annual conventions, participated in by prominent pastors who attend and keep an eye on the work accomplished.

The final address, "A Missionary Message," was given by J. Campbell White, of Montclair, N. J., prominent in extending missionary work for the National Young Men's Christian association and who, as international field secretary, has just returned from five years' labor in India and Egypt. Most of the delegates left today.

WAS PLAYMATE OF A KING.

St. Joseph, Mo., July 29.—Death yesterday removed the seal from the lips of those who know the life history of Frederick G. Weddle, the former companion and playmate of King Christian of Denmark, who lived in retirement near St. Joseph for a quarter of a century. Exiled from his native land in 1850 with his father, who was an attache of the court of King Frederick VII. of Denmark and who was banished for political reasons, Frederick Weddle came to America, where his life was filled with hardships, with narrow escapes and exciting incidents. He was seventy-two years of age at the time of his death, having been born in the royal palace at Copenhagen in 1829. There he lived with his parents during early boyhood, his father being chief magistrate of the royal court, and, as such, the royal counsel of the king. Young Weddle was educated at court, where he was the playmate of King Christian IX., the present ruler of Denmark.

BOY IS ALMOST KIDNAPED.

Williamsport, Pa., July 29.—A bold attempt at kidnaping was made at Montoursville at 11 o'clock last night. James, the thirteen-year-old son of William Ebner, a hotel keeper, had gone to a shed for kindling wood and on his way back had reached a point near the side door of his home when he was seized by four men, who had been loitering about his father's hotel all evening. One of the men stuffed a huge wad of cotton into the boy's mouth, while the others pinioned his arms behind him. One of the kidnapers then hoisted the boy on his shoulders and the whole party started on a run for a strip of woods that led down to the river. James succeeded in getting the gag out of his mouth and shouted for help. Mr. Ebner heard the boy's cries. The men dropped the boy after a few shots had been fired. The boy heard the kidnapers say it was their intention to take him to a cave in the mountains and hold him for ransom.

DOWAGER EMPRESS VERY ILL.

Cronberg, July 29.—As a result of the visit of Prof. Renvers from Berlin it is officially announced that the condition of the Dowager Empress Frederick is not satisfactory. Her majesty has not left her apartments for a few weeks, and though medical bulletins have not yet been issued, they may soon be anticipated. Princess Henry of Prussia has been at the castle on a flying visit.

IN DEFENSE OF HIS FATHER

STATEMENTS MADE BY SON OF ADMIRAL SCHLEY.

Indicates Some of the Points Upon Which the Admiral Will Rely in the Inquiry.

Salt Lake, Utah, July 29.—The Herald today prints the following:

"Capt. Thomas F. Schley, eldest son of Admiral Winfield S. Schley, who is stationed at Fort Douglas, in this city, yesterday outlined some points that will be brought out in the court of inquiry as to his father's conduct at the battle of Santiago. He declared that some startling facts will be brought to light if the whole truth shall become known and that the reputations of persons other than his father are likely to suffer.

"'I have just written to my father,' said Captain Schley, 'that I thought he ought to spare nobody and that he should withhold none of the facts in his possession about Admiral Sampson or anybody else.'

"Captain Schley is an officer of the Twenty-third infantry, in command at Fort Douglas. Although he has not had a letter from his father since the court of inquiry was ordered, he is familiar with the questions at issue and pointed out some of the facts that will be urged in the admiral's defense.

"'When the court of inquiry meets,' said Captain Schley, 'I would like to have the privilege of asking Admiral Sampson just one question: "If the battle of Santiago had resulted in defeat, to whom would the blame be attached?" This, I think, tells the situation in a nutshell. If Admiral Schley had lost the battle he would have been blamed. He won it and he should have the credit.

"'The accusations that are made are ridiculous, when they are investigated. Take, for example, the charge of disobedience of orders in May, 1898. An attempt has been made to saddle the responsibility on my father. The fact is that he has a letter from Admiral Sampson telling him to do xactly what he did and this letter will be produced at the inquiry. At that time he was maintaining the blockade off Cienfuegos. Secretary Long wired Admiral Sampson, strongly advising that the blockade fleet go to Santiago, in the hope of finding the Spanish fleet there.

"'Admiral Sampson sent the dispatch to Admiral Schley with a note, in which he said: "After duly considering this telegram I have decided to make no change in the present plan; that is, that you should hold your squadron off Cienfuegos." This letter was suppressed.'

"Regarding the maneuver of the Brooklyn at the time of the battle, Captain Schley says the facts all go to show that this was the best move under the circumstances. The part played by the Brooklyn in the battle certainly compares favorably with that of the New York, he thinks. 'If this inquiry is full and fair,' declared Captain Schley, 'some facts will be disclosed that will startle the public. My father has several strong cards up his sleeve and I trust he will make use of them all.'

"Captain Schley enlisted in the army in 1884 and was appointed a second lieutenant in the Twenty-third infantry seven years later. He has served with his regiment all through its campaigns in the Philippines, where he earned his captaincy. Since his return from the Philippines he has been stationed at Fort Douglas."

RESULT OF SAVING.
Suppose that a young man of 21 should make a vow to put away 5 cents a day, each day in the year, and not to touch his savings for ten years, says Success. Do you realize that, at the end of that time, he would have $182.50 to his credit, as a result of putting away an amount so small that he would never miss it? Many enormous fortunes have grown from a smaller capital than this.

AS TO TOBACCO USING.

To the Editor of The Sentinel:—The writer read with no little degree of pleasure an article in your Saturday's issue and the arguments used by a lecturer against the use of tobacco, and when a user of the weed tried to convince him by biblical quotations that its use was harmless, the lecturer's timely reply. It impressed your subscriber with the similarity of an incident in which he and Rev. Updike, at that time pastor of the West Jefferson street Church of Christ, were the principal actors, and how the most simple incidents entering one's life may be the means of causing the change of a trait or habit. One evening, about seven years ago, the writer and Rev. Updike had attended the Masonic lodge meeting and upon leaving the hall the writer took a chew of tobacco. Mr. Updike, noting it, said: "Do you mean to put that vile stuff in your mouth and chew it?" Thinking to crush him and at the same time quote scriptures, the reply was made that it was not that which entered a man's mouth that defiled him, but what came out. He then said, "Well, if that is true, why don't you swallow it instead of spitting it out on the street?"

The cure was effective and from that day to this tobacco chewing has found no friend in me.

Respectfully,
A Subscriber.

HORSE IS MISSING.

Frank Edmunds, of the Edmunds Construction company, reports the loss of his speedy bay horse. The animal was tethered back of the Edmunds residence, but last evening he managed to break the rope and when last seen was galloping across the golf links at about a 1:59 gait.

ADVICE AND A PRECEDENT.

(South Bend Times.)

Judge Samuel M. Hench, a lawyer and bachelor, wants to supplant James M. Robinson as congressman from the Twelfth district. The latter has been elected three times and wants to be elected for the fourth time. The suggestion has been made that Judge Hench's chances would be enhanced by getting married. A more effective method of enlisting marriageable women in Hench's cause would be to have it understood that he is in the market and that he will be prepared to take upon himself the yoke after his nomination and election. That's the way Jimmy Robinson did it, and it worked splendidly in his case.

The Withington handle factory, which was closed for repairs to machinery for a week or two, resumed full operations last week. The company has been unable to secure teams sufficient to bring in logs as fast as needed, but the farmers are now offering their services in that way and no more trouble on that score is apprehended. During the first year of the shops in this city they were in operation 300 days, which is considered a good record in that industry.

FINED FOR PROFANITY.

William E. Cohagen was the only representative at police court this morning and after considerable skirmishing for a judge he was finally placed on trial. The charge against him was profanity and the affidavit was made by Captain Stoll, of the Pennsylvania police department. Cohagen, it appears, was riding down Calhoun street on his wheel and was stopped at the Pennsylvania crossing by closed gates. In remounting his wheel collapsed and the language indulged in by the young man, as testified to by Captain Stoll and two other disinterested witnesses, was not the same as he had heard at his Sunday school lesson yesterday morning. The crossing watchman was roundly cussed, according to the testimony, and altogether there was quite a display of vocal pyrotechnics. In his own behalf Cohagen testified that he had no recollection of being profane and was quite certain that he had not shot any hot language at the watchman. Judge Louttit said he disliked to assess a fine in a case like the one presented, but as the preponderance of evidence was all on the side of the state, he felt obliged to assess a nominal fine at least. Eleven dollars all told is what was assessed against the young man and he made satisfactory arrangements for its payment.

This year's appropriation for the diplomatic and consular service of the United States is $1,846,000, or one-third of what the new agricultural department costs, one-half the sum appropriated for the expenses of the city of Washington and one-sixth of the appropriation for the nation's wards, the surviving Indians. The United States expends less for its consular and diplomatic service than any other country of the first class.

The lock-step has been abolished at Blackwell's Island, the famous New York city prison. Now if the officials will kindly abolish the door-lock the convicts will have about all they desire.

There appears the operation of mighty good common sense in the effort to get the steel strike issues again in conference between the Amalgamated association board and the officers of the big steel combine.

The most prompt and most thorough way to settle the water question will be by long odds the cheapest way. However, the cost of settling the question rightly is not a desideratum so long as public money is spent without waste.

Admiral Sampson says he has no word of criticism to utter against Admiral Schley or the conduct of the Brooklyn in the Santiago fight. But he did read and approve what Maclay had written, which was to say that it was in substance what he would have written if he had been writing the matter himself.

Undoubtedly the people of the United States would for the credit of their own nation like to see Neely brought to trial and his innocence completely established. Next to that and for the same reason they would like to see him brought to trial and properly punished if guilty, though of that matter opinions do not much differ. The honor of the nation in this case is of more concern than the punishment of a rascal.

The South Bend Times justifiably exults as follows: "The water supply in a number of towns and cities of this country is insufficient and otherwise unsatisfactory. In this particular South Bend is especially favored. Here we have water in abundance and of a quality that approaches par excellence. It can during the hottest season be drank with a relish without being iced. It is clear as crystal and very palatable. Our people have every reason to consider themselves blessed in the matter of pure water."

RACING YACHTS, OLD AND NEW.

Next to the two big sloops, Constitution and Columbia, the most conspicuous of the hundreds of yachts participating in the cruise of the New York Yacht club this week is the old schooner America. It was his vessel that crossed the ocean fifty years ago and defeated the English yachts at Cowes so decisively at "there was no second." Of urse, the America's racing days are over long since, but for purposes cruising she is as good as ever she was. The same can certainly not be said of the more modern racing yachts. It is true that the big fleet also includes the old Mayflower and the Vigilant, while the Columbia, which was brand new two years ago, is still serving a useful purpose as a trial horse for the Constitution.

But recollecting the fate of the Defender and her opponent, the Valkyrie III., both of which were sold for junk after they had finished racing, it is apparent that the racing machine of 1901 is extremely short-lived as compared with the all-around yacht of 1851. In securing greater speed yacht designers have made giant strides forward in half a century, but in many other respects they have gone backward, though of course not they, but the yachtsmen who insist upon having speed at the sacrifice of all else, are to blame for this.

And there is another strong point that can be made against the modern racing yacht in addition to its lack of utility. After this year's experiences no one can very well doubt that it is an exceedingly dangerous machine, and that the men who sail aboard it take chances more or less desperate. It was not a more coincidence that every one of the big yachts of this year—Constitution, Columbia, Independence and Shamrock II.—should have suffered some accident while racing. The real coincidence lies in the fact that all of them were lucky enough to escape without loss of life. But that kind of good fortune cannot always be counted upon. "Death literally hovers over all the big sloops while they are under sail," says John R. Spears, the well known expert, in an article in Collier's Weekly.

According to Mr. Spears and to others who take the same view, it has all come about by the desire to save weight and increase the spread of canvas in order to gain speed, and the prediction is now made that this year will see the end of racing between such marine monstrosities. If a more rational and less dangerous type of racing craft is adopted the interest in yacht racing will be in no way lessened, and at the same time the undesirable elements of extravagance and danger will be removed.

THE DAILY GRIND

Many Cut Off in Early Manhood and Womanhood on Account of Neglecting to Keep Vitality on the High Water Mark.

In the factories and workshops, at the offices and stores—yes, and in the homes, too, people are being ground to death by the monotonous wear and tear of unceasing toil. Day after day, week in and week out, it is the same story of work and labor—of excessive toil and struggle without opportunity of recreation. In the summer, above all other times, the burden is heavy to bear, and many a victim falls by the way overcome by nervous exhaustion, heart failure and physical decline.

It is useless to talk of rest in the cooling breezes of some lake or ocean resort. The world's work must be done—the toiler must toil on. There is one method of replacing wasted nerve cells and building up the worn-out system, and that is by using Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills after each meal. They give vigor and tone to the system and prevent exhaustion and prostration—they befriend working people by making them strong and well, giving new hope, new confidence and stronger determination to succeed. The wonderful medicinal power of this great medicine is demonstrated in thousands of cases where the wasting process has been stopped and health restored by its use.

Mrs. M. Holzworth, of No. 285 Webster street, Fort Wayne, Ind., says: "My nerves since I took Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills I got at Meyer Bros. & Co.'s drug store, No. 14 Calhoun street, are strong and steady and I sleep well. This is quite a change from past restlessness and inability to sleep and I am very much pleased. The strength in general is good again. The medicine certainly is a good nerve and all round tonic."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills 50 cents a box at druggists or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

A VICTIM OF ACID

MUNCIE WOMAN DISFIGURED AND INSANE.

MRS. TOREY'S AWFUL FATE

THE FEARFUL DEED OF A REJECTED SUITOR.

A FEUD ENDS IN MURDER

GENERAL NEWS OF THE STATE OF INDIANA.

Muncie, Ind., July 29.—Blinded by carbolic acid, thrown in her face by a rejected suitor, Mrs. May Torey aged 40 years, was rendered a maniac last night. Before being crazed from the awful pain the woman stated that Peter Tillbury, aged 42, committed the crime because she refused to marry him. The woman's face, arms and breast were frightfully burned, and besides being made blind, the terrible agony the woman suffered has driven her insane. Tillbury has been paying attention to Mrs. Torey for some time, but his suit for her hand in marriage was unsuccessful. He called last night, but she would not see him. He returned later and found the woman sitting in the yard in evening dress. Without warning, it is said, he drew forth a bottle and threw part of the contents into her face, and then poured the remaining contents onto her arms and chest. Mrs. Tory's condition is critical. Tillbury, who is employed by the United States Iron company, fled immediately after committing the crime, and has not been captured. Feeling against him is intense and violence is threatened.

FUED ENDS IN MURDER.

Bedford, Ind., July 29.—Nelson Fritz shot and killed John Beasley, aged 34 years, three miles west of this city, at 8 o'clock yesterday morning. The trouble originated over the throwing of stones at each other by their sons. Beasley took up his boy's side of the trouble, this action resulting in a fight by the two men, as the outcome of which Beasley was killed. The victim was shot through the head with a revolver and through the stomach with a charge from a shotgun. It is not known at this time who used the pistol and who the gun, but it is apparent from all facts at hand that the weapons were fired by two persons, supposed to be Fritz and his son.

Fritz escaped and Sheriff Frank Smith is in hot pursuit. Three other officers, Teaford, Stone and ex-Sheriff Holmes, left at 3 o'clock to aid in Fritz's capture, which, it is believed, will be made soon. Great excitement exists and Fritz's family left their home at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon in a wagon going south, having become alarmed and fearing to remain there over night.

FINE NEW CATHOLIC CHURCH.

Elwood, Ind., July 29.—A crowd estimated at 8,000 people attended the dedication of the new St. Joseph's church in this city yesterday. Of this number probably one-half came on the special trains from half a dozen surrounding cities. The dedication services took place at high mass at 10 o'clock. Right Rev. H. J. Alerding, bishop of the Fort Wayne diocese, preached the sermon, and was assisted by priests from a number of places. Rev. Urban Foley, of Louisville, Ky., was celebrant of the first mass. Very Rev. B. Kroeger, dean of Logansport district; Very Rev. John Diemen, dean of Lafayette district, and Rev. J. H. Bathe, chancellor of the Fort Wayne diocese, were in attendance. In the afternoon there was a parade, in which Elwood, Anderson and Muncie bands, Catholic Knights of St. John, Foresters, Ancient Order of Hibernians, zouaves and other uniformed bodies from Fort Wayne, Muncie, Richmond, Kokomo, Anderson, Michigan City and other places took part. The new church cost $50,000.

MURDER IN A BERRY PATCH.

Salem, Ind., July 29.—While picking berries in a blackberry patch on the Wilcox farm, in Jefferson township, George McKinney and Henry Huddleston, tenants, quarreled, and McKinney was shot dead with a bullet through the back, while he was not looking for an attack. Huddleston telephoned to this city that he was coming to surrender to the sheriff, but instead he borrowed a horse and disappeared in the direction of Tunnelton. Mrs. McKinney witnessed the tragedy.

RAIN SAVES INDIANA CORN.

Laporte, Ind., July 29.—The drouth in northern Indiana was broken yesterday by a heavy fall of rain. Reports received here are to the effect that the rain will save the corn crop, which it was feared would be a total failure. In hundreds of churches in this section of the state prayers were offered yesterday for rain, and in a number of village churches the communicants held all day services of supplication for the breaking of the drouth.

FATE AGAINST HIM.

Frankfort, Ind., July 29.—Charles Arnold, of Rockville, and Mrs. William Stillwell, widow, near Mellott, were betrothed in marriage and the day was set. The bride-elect lives in the corner of three counties and when Mr. Arnold applied to the clerk of Parke county he was informed that she resided in Montgomery county. Then he went to Crawfordsville, only to be informed that he should have applied at Covington, Fountain county. This necessitated a postponement of the marriage until he could reach Covington. Another day was set, but upon taking the train for Veedersburg, to change at Mellott, the engine broke down and he was didsappointed in making connection. By this time Arnold was well-nigh exhausted owing to the heat and worry in procuring a license and upon tendering the conductor his ticket on the Clover Leaf line, and telling him that he wanted to alight at Mellott, he fell asleep and was carried miles beyond his destination. Liverymen refused to make the drive owing to the intense heat, and there was nothing but to await the departure of the next train. Meanwhile the enraged bride-elect was using the wire, and before starting for Mollett he received a telegram that she had called off the engagement. Mr. Arnold is now endeavoring to readjust matters, failing in which he will sue the Clover Leaf railway for $20,000 damages.

FLAMES DESTROY BIG FARM.

Dublin, Ind., July 29.—The farm of Charles Gilllard, near Liberty, was the scene of a big fire. Thrashers were winding up work, when the dry stubble caught fire. All the implements were totally destroyed and eighty bushels of wheat. The entire neighborhood was called to fight the fire, which quickly spread, endangering the district. After four hours the flames were checked. Miss Lizzie Wills was frightened so badly she will lose her mind. Her father, Charles Wills, was severely burned, and Charles Gillard was prostrated by the heat and is now in a serious condition. Pasture fields west of Dublin yesterday caught fire from a passing train. The entire town was in danger of being consumed. The fire department was called out to extinguish the flames.

ARREST CAUSING SURPRISE.

Noblesville, Ind., July 29.—Dr. Thomas O. Redden, a well known physician of this county, was arrested Saturday night on a warrant charging him with criminally assaulting Mrs. Walter Boyd, of Jolietville. He was released on $500 bond, and his preliminary hearing is set for August 1. The alleged crime is said to have been committed last November, while the prosecuting witness was being treated by the defendant. A warrant was then issued, but the doctor left the county, returning only recently. Owing to the prominence of the principals, the matter has aroused general attention.

A SHORT STORY

HOPES FULFILLED.

After the rain, then the sunshine again;
After the night the dawn,
And a sweet release and abiding peace
After the pain has gone
But over and over this lesson stern
The fickle and careless old world must learn:
Under the beauty and bloom of the rose,
In hiding, the sharp, cruel thorns repose.

He only knows of the sweetness that flows
From nature's purest rills
Who, weary, mounts to the life giving founts
Far up among the hills
But over and over this lesson stern
The fickle and careless old world must learn:
Under the beauty and bloom of the rose,
In hiding, the sharp, cruel thorns repose.

After the fear and the sad, bitter tear,
Cometh the hope fulfilled;
After the climb, then the prospect sublime,
As the Good Father willed.
But over and over this lesson stern
The fickle and careless old world must learn:
Under the beauty and bloom of the rose,
In hiding, the sharp, cruel thorns repose.

LADY LIGHTFINGERS.

By M. Quad.

Copyright, 1901, by C. B. Lewis.

The start of the whole matter was the lodging of a complaint at Scotland Yard by a well known jeweler doing business on the Strand. He had missed two diamond rings from a tray he had been exhibiting to several lady customers, but unfortunately for him the gems had been gone an hour perhaps before he knew that deft fingers had purloined them under his very eyes. He could recall the names of four or five ladies, and he headed the list with the name of a marquis' wife, but the inspector on duty might well smile and turn away at that. Had the jeweler not been in such a perturbed state of mind he would never have included that name. Indeed, before he left the place he apologized, partly to himself, for having given any names at all, as it was utterly absurd to suspect any of the owners of having taken the rings. He seemed to feel it a duty to report his loss, however, and after being quietly advised to have an eye on his employees and unknown customers he was dismissed with the promise that the matter would be looked into. As a matter of fact, no assignment was made on the case. Some flash chap had "lifted" the jewels without even his call being remembered, and it was no use to hunt for a needle in a haystack.

It wasn't three days before another case was reported by another Strand jeweler. This time it was a diamond sunburst, and he was positive that he had shown it to only three ladies before he missed it. He was reluctant to give the names, but when pressed to do so that of the marquis' wife again headed the list. The others were almost as far above suspicion, and the inspector looked at the complainant in a way to make him feel like a culprit. This time I was put on the case, but I shall be honest enough to say that it was a mere matter of form. It was more than any official's head was worth even to hint that one of the three ladies mentioned might have carried the ornament away in a moment of absentmindedness.

It was about five days after this that the third case was reported. This time a jeweler had lost a pair of valuable diamond earrings, and he had to be hard pressed by the inspector before he would admit that the loss was detected almost immediately after the marquis' wife had left the store. She had greatly admired the ornaments and had partly decided to purchase them at a later date. Not for one instant, not on his life, did the jeweler suspect the lady of title of even taking the jewel away in a fit of abstraction, but somehow he felt it his duty to report the case. The inspector didn't bluff this third tradesman quite as heavily as he had the first and second, and he looked grave and thoughtful when I was given the case and he related particulars. I was told to go my own way about it, but if I made a blunder Scotland Yard would see me no more as a detective. That wasn't at all encouraging, you see, but I had to go ahead and make a start. Much to my surprise, after thinking the matter over I came to the conclusion that the marquis' wife might possibly be guilty of shoplifting. The idea almost took my breath away at the first go off, but when I came to recall the many rumors about the marquis being a gambler, hard up, a man of miserish habits at home, and so forth, there looked to be something in it from a detective's standpoint.

The lady was well known to me by sight. She was past 45, much faded, and her face always carried a fretful, worried look. I simply waited until she appeared on the street in her carriage, as if bound on a shopping tour, and then followed her. It was a week after the third case was reported that she came out, and she went directly to a Bond street jeweler's. I followed her into the store, where she was known and received with great servility and when a tray of jewelry was placed before her I felt sure that the next half hour would clear her of all suspicion or complicate the case still further. Her manner was that of lofty condescension. She slowly and languidly inspected the jewels, and now and then the proprietor of the store, who was waiting upon her in person, had his attention attracted for the moment elsewhere. My lady finally decided to call again and was bowed out, and she was hardly clear of the door when I revealed my identity to the jeweler and asked him to be sure that there was nothing missing from the tray. He was at first inclined to administer a snub, but when he found the finest ring of the lot conspicuously absent he almost fell over in a faint. There was no room to doubt that the lady had "lifted" it, but that only made the case worse in a way. For a tradesman and a detective to charge a lady of quality with shoplifting was as bad as treason against the crown. A mere word would bring financial ruin upon the jeweler, and he was ready to stand the loss ten times over rather than speak it.

Twice more within the next fortnight I followed the lady into jewelry establishments and morally convicted her of shoplifting. This made six cases in all, and, no matter how the victims felt, we of the Yard were quite determined that something ought to be done. I had been on the staff for ten years, and my work had given good satisfaction, but I was selected as a sacrifice. I mean by that that I was ordered to secure an interview with the lady, inform her of my discoveries and take the consequences. I must take all the burden on myself and clear the Yard. There could be but one ending, and before making my call my resignation was written out, and I had arranged to go with a private agency. One morning I appeared at the residence of the marquis and boldly asked for my lady on important business. I was kept waiting until she was satisfied that I was neither a process server nor a creditor and was then admitted to the presence of a very slipshod looking woman who showed me scant courtesy when she said:

"Well, sir, you are here, and now what is it?"

"It's about the jewelry, my lady," I replied.

"What do you mean?"

"The finger rings from Black's, the sunburst from Brown's, the earrings from Green's. You carried them away and forgot to return them."

My lady's face went white as snow, and she gasped for breath, and I expected to see her faint away. By a tremendous effort she pulled herself together, and as the color came back to her cheeks she hissed at me:

"You dog, you! The marquis shall see that you get your just deserts! Leave the house at once!"

I left, and within an hour the marquis was at the Yard to say that he would uproot the whole system if I was not promptly bounced and an apology rendered. The Yard apologized, I was bounced, and my lady had a story for her friends about attempted blackmail. There were no more thefts, however, and as a private detective I even recovered some of the stuff from the shops where my lady's maid had pledged them to raise cash for her mistress.

"Sweating" Bees.

The process known as "sweating" is not confined to human beings. It is applied to bees by some up to date keepers.

The natural tendency of the bee to work and its great dislike to idleness are made use of to the fullest extent. Honey is a product that yields a good profit, so the beekeeper brings the flowers as near as may be to the hive and induces his insect gatherers to work hard to collect the honey from them.

An expert beekeeper gives the following idea of what they will do. Seventy-five acres of land planted with white clover or sanfoin will keep 100 hives busy during the three summer months. The yield of honey for each fine day is ten pounds per acre, and as the plant flowers twice and remains in bloom for a week very often the total yield is 10,000 pounds.

Combmaking is lighter and less dangerous work than gathering honey, so the young bees usually perform this task. But the keeper wants them all to work and work hard, so he provides the base of the comb in natural size and pure wax. That leaves less work to be done at home, and the bees go out immediately there is nothing more for them to do inside. The keeper also takes care to constantly empty the combs, so that the bees shall always be laboring to fill it.—London Standard.

A Tired Man.

Once there was a man who complained constantly because it required so much toil for him to make a living. He declared that he would rather be buried than work for a living, and so his neighbors started out to gratify his wish. A stranger, seeing them about to entomb a living man, inquired why they were doing so. On being told that the man complained of having to work for a living and preferred to be buried, the stranger's heart was moved, and he offered to give the complaining man ten bushels of corn. "Is it shelled?" asked the discontented soul, and when informed it was not he remarked, "Well, then, let the burial proceed."

THE TALE OF A DOG.

A TRUTHFUL NARRATIVE OF CANINE TENACITY AND SAGACITY.

As the Story of the Feat Was Related by a Preacher Who Was a Party to the Incident No Further Testimony Is Necessary.

A certain Nashville statesman is about one of the best story tellers in Tennessee, and his repertoire includes a lot of good ones, fish and otherwise. On the truthfulness of some he will stake his reputation for veracity, but he tells one which he always prefixes with the statement that it was told him by a minister of the gospel, Dr. Bardwell, who will be remembered here by the older inhabitants as the assistant of Dr. Edgar of revered memory, who was pastor of the First Presbyterian church during the latter years of General Andrew Jackson's life and attended the old hero in his last illness. The story teller said:

"Dr. Bardwell used to visit my father's house when I was a boy, and the story I am about to tell you was related to me on the occasion of one of these visits. We were out on the veranda smoking one evening after supper. The doctor was fond of dogs and was a pretty good sportsman and naturally the conversation turned on this subject.

"'Speaking of dogs,' said Dr. Bardwell, 'reminds me of a dog which belonged to a friend of mine in Mississippi. I had been invited to hold services at a church near this friend's house and wrote him to meet me at the station, some six miles from his house, on the Saturday afternoon before Sunday, the day of the appointment.

"'He was on time with horses, and we started to his home. I noticed that a very handsome bird dog followed us, and, having heard that some one in that neighborhood owned an especially well trained trick dog, I asked my friend about it.

"'"That's the dog," at the same time pointing at his dog, which had run ahead of us and was waiting at the forks of the road.

"'I asked him to make him perform a trick. He got down from his horse, called the dog and, taking out his pocketbook, held it to the dog's nose. He then took out a silver half dollar and, walking some distance into the woods, raised up a large rock and put the money under it. We then resumed our journey, and when probably half a mile away my friend called his dog and told him to go back and get the money.

"'The dog, without the least hesitation, started back on a run, and, my friend explained, as the rock was heavy the dog would be unable to turn it over, so would have to scratch under it to reach the piece of money, and he would not probably get home before we reached there, it then being about three miles farther on to his house.

"'However, when we reached home the dog was not there. We ate supper, and still the dog did not come, nor had he put in an appearance when we retired at about 10 o'clock.

"'The next morning we got up about daylight, and, hearing a noise outside, my friend opened the door, and the dog rushed in dragging with him a pair of pantaloons, which he dropped on the floor.

"'Of course we were both mystified, but had not long to wait an explanation, for shortly afterward a man who lived several miles from my friend's house rode up on a mule and inquired if a dog with a pair of pantaloons in his mouth had come into the house. The dog at this moment came out on the porch, and the man said, "Why, there's the dog now."

"'My friend told his caller that the dog had really brought a pair of pantaloons home with him, but he did not understand it himself.

"'The man said that late in the afternoon the day before he found the dog scratching under a large rock near the road and, thinking he was after a rabbit, stopped and lifted the rock up, and, to his surprise, found a half dollar on the underside.

"'He put the money in his pocket, and the dog followed him home. The dog appeared to be friendly, and the man petted him and gave him his supper. At night when the family retired the dog was put on the outside, but he kept up such a racket that no one could sleep on the place, and when the man opened the door to drive the dog off he rushed into his bedroom and at once became very quiet, lying down near the foot of the bed, where he slept all night.

"'Early in the morning, the man said, he got up and opened the window, and the instant he did so the dog seized the pantaloons in his mouth and, jumping out of the window, fled.

"'The man followed as soon as he could get his mule.

"'Hearing this story, my friend got the pantaloons and on searching the pockets found the half dollar which he had hid under the rock the afternoon before.'"—Nashville Banner.

Figs.

After figs have been collected they are dipped in boiling brine and then dried on trays for from two to four days, according to the weather. The dipping is supposed to bring the sugar to the surface and hasten the drying. After being dried the figs are placed in "sweat boxes," holding 2,000 pounds each, where they remain for two weeks. Then they are washed in cold salt water to remove all dirt and are packed by women and girls in half pound, one pound and ten pound boxes in layers, being split preliminarily with a short bladed knife.

GREAT LAND LOTTERY BEGINS

the southwest has attracted so much attention as this one—the initiation of a new method of disposing of government lands. One hundred and sixty-seven thousand persons, each with one chance in thirteen of winning a homestead, watched the event here or at a distance, for the applicants come from every state in the union.

The drawing took place on a platform built for the purpose in the open air a few blocks from the center of El Reno. Situated at the foot of several small hills which formed a perfect amphitheater, the platform was the cynasure of thousands of eyes. People occupied every inch almost of the space around about and every movement of the government officials on the small space below was watched with the most intense interest.

El Reno yesterday cared for fully 15,000 people, and the trains that came in during the night and morning doubled the number. Hundreds of others are still bound this way.

Sunday was spent quietly, but as night came on and the hour for the actual drawing approached, men and women, many of whom had waited patiently for months for the morrow's event, or had come thousands of miles at the last moment to participate in it, became anxious. Worn out with days of hardships and nights of poor accommodations, they were keyed to a high tension, but all were hopeful and each seemed confident that his would prove a lucky number.

Hundreds remained awake, walking the streets or vainly gazing at the drawing platform, and discussing again and again the merits of the particular claim on which they intended filing. Many slept on the ground around the platform, to be certain of an advantageous position when the first number should be called out at 9 o'clock, or to remain perhaps until 6 o'clock in the evening when the last of the 1,000 envelopes to be drawn today should have been picked from the wheels.

The government clerks finished the task of placing the envelopes of the applicants and of tying them in bundles ready to be placed in the wheels, which had been tested for the last time yesterday afternoon. The only detail that remained was the selection of ten persons who should perform the actual drawing of the envelopes. These were chosen from a lot of boys of good families and were named at the last moment. They were all under age and, consequently, not registered for claims. The weather was cloudy, but pleasant.

It was announced that in tabulating the registration it was found that more than 2,000 "repeaters" had registered at the various booths, many giving the identical name, address and personal description. These were thrown out and the applicants were not even given the one chance to which they were originally entitled. Besides this it is reported on good authority that the registration office threw out hundreds of applications because of illegible writing.

SUNDAY SHOW STOPPED.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 29.—Attempt of the midway shows to open for business yesterday was a failure. The first show to announce that it was ready for business was the Indian congress. In front of the concession were two of the directors of the concern, and their attorneys. Captain Dagmar, of the exposition police force, notified them to close, which they did under protest. Later another attempt was made to open the show. Iron pipes were driven into the asphalt pavement by the police department. From the pipes a rope was stretched in the form of a square, which completely blocked the entrance to the Indian congress. The concessionaires then ordered the ticket sellers to desist. Several other shows opened their doors for a few minutes, but were closed by the police.

DOOMED MAN SHOT DOWN.

Monticello, Fla., July 29.—Simon Williams, condemned to death for the murder of Deputy Sheriff Hawkins and sentenced to hang August 8, made a dash for liberty yesterday afternoon. After a desperate fight, in which Deputy Sheriff P. H. Kilpatrick was badly wounded by Williams with his own pistol, the negro fled, but was shot to death. Officer Kilpatrick's wound is in the groin. His condition is critical.

MEET FOR SOCIAL UNION.

Indianapolis, July 29.—The socialist unity convention met here today. J. W. Kelly, of Marion, Ind., acted as temporary chairman. Delegates were present from various socialistic ...rations of the country. The ... of the convention is to unite all elements not disagreeing in vital principles into one party for work in the next presidential campaign. The two leading factions of socialists are known as the De Leonists, or social labor party, of New York state, and the Debs element.

ACTIVITY NEAR PANAMA.

Kingston, Jamaica, July 29.—Newspaper reports received here from Panama assert that the insurgents are operating in large numbers in the vicinity of the city and that an order has been issued by the government calling upon the citizens to concentrate in order to repel attacks and to protect property. Panama is guarded from the sea by a gunboat. According to the same source of information the government is exercising the strictest precautions to prevent news of development leaking out.

ABOUT THE CITY HALL.

The board of works will meet with the committee on parks, the mayor and the city attorney this evening to consider the protest of the Misses Swinney against the use of Swinney park for picnic purposes by different societies, as authorized by the mayor. The city pays to the said heirs the sum of $600 annually for the use of the grounds and besides pays all the city and county taxes and all assessments against the Swinney homestead, so that the surrender of the heirs' rights to the grounds is not entirely a gratuity, as many people believe. The late Thomas Swinney in his will provided that the entire property known as Swinney park, including the homestead, should become the absolute property of the city in fee simple subject to certain conditions. There conditions were principally that the testator's children, but not their assigns or heirs, should have a life tenancy on the said property. In 1893 the Misses Swinney and William P. Swinney, then living, entered into an agreement and lease with the city for the use of the grounds prior to the time contemplated in the will of the testator. The lease became effective June 1, 1893, and was for a period of thirty years, with a privilege of twenty more years, should any of the parties of the first part be still living at that time. The conditions are very pointed, and after exempting the portion, 250 by 300 feet, known as the "homestead," and providing that the city shall pay all taxes and assessments on the whole tract, embrace the following express stipulation: "Which shall be used as a public park and pleasure ground and place of resort for social meetings of all classes and orders, not conflicting with public morality, on condition that the city shall permit no nuisances of any kind on the grounds; that no beer or other intoxicants shall be sold thereon; that no cannonading or firing of anvils shall be permitted; that no ball playing on the Sabbath shall be permitted and that the city shall at all times keep a park policeman in day time and at night time employed on the premises and that said policeman shall protect the residence against annoyance by tramps, loafers and other objectionable characters." There are other conditions relating to the removal of gravel and the keeping in order of certain portion of the plat, but none that in any wise curtail the rights of the city to use the park for respectable purposes.

Similar complaints have heretofore been made by the heirs. The city has expended many thousands of dollars in beautifying the property for such uses as it is being put to, and Mayor Berghoff says he proposes to find out whether the city has a park or whether it has none. If it can not use the park according to the terms of the agreement made with the heirs in 1893 he believes it time to stop putting any improvements into it. The committees tonight will try to solve the problem.

STEEL OFFICIALS SILENT.

New York, July 29.—The officials of the steel companies now here preserve silence as to the conference of Saturday between the leaders on either side of the strike, and the possibility of a settlement. It is believed, however, that the terms of peace outlined on Saturday will be ratified by the executive board of the Amalgamated association at Pittsburg on Tuesday, and that there will be an early resumption of work. Both sides are silent as to the terms of the new pact, but various claims of victory are being made in behalf of the strikers. On that point a man interested in the steel trade said to the Associated Press:

"Take some salt with those claims of victory. Wait until the new agreement is signed and its contents published before you award and decision as to gains on either side."

President Schwab was at his office as usual today, but declined to talk about the conference on the prospective settlement. J. Pierpont Morgan is believed to have gone to Bar Harbor.

REJOICE AT PEACE PROSPECT.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 29.—Pittsburgers generally express the greatest delight in anticipation of the settlement of the steel strike and no one seems to have the slightest doubt that the negotiations for peace will have any other result but a cessation of hostilities, a laying down of arms to take up the tools of trade.

So far neither of the contending forces have suffered greatly. The weather has been exceedingly hot and the men look upon the last month as a vacation during the heated term. Working under the severe strain of the oppressive heat lately would have been an unusual hardship at best, and the men think that on this account, perhaps, many lives have been saved by the strike.

BETTER FOR THE MILLS.

So far as the companies are concerned they are also in better position for work now than they were before the strike. Many of their mills have been repaired and the conditions for an increased output are greatly improved.

It is true that a computation of cold figures foots up a total loss of $6,516,000 on account of the strike, of which immense sum, $3,960,000 is charged to the combination and $2,556,000 to the strikers, but this loss will soon be made up owing to the better prices which now prevail and the improved operating conditions as well as the better feeling between the employer and employe.

IN GOOD HUMOR.

President Shaffer and Secretary Williams were both early at the Amalgamated headquarters this morning, and are in rare good humor. They still maintained their position of secrecy, however, and beyond admitting that a call had been sent out last night to all the members of the executive board for a meeting to be held in this city tomorrow morning refused to give any information as to the probable settlement of the strike. To all questions President Shaffer replied that he had nothing to say, but in a friendly talk of some length he conveyed the idea that newspaper men would little longer be following him and watching his movements. From this it is believed that Mr. Shaffer is satisfied that the executive board will agree to the proposition he will present. With the approval of his recommendations a joint meeting could be held and a settlement effected. The moment a common ground for negotiating such a question as this one is found, it is believed, there will be little difficulty in getting down to a general agreement, which will bring peace with it.

TRUST ANXIOUS TO SETTLE.

There remains little doubt but officials of the United States Steel corporation are now as anxious to have the big strike settled as are the strikers. During last week a number of contracts intended for and practically let to mills of the combine were shifted to independent mills with rush clauses attached. Independent mills have done much business booking orders in the last few weeks and they are reported to have been able to make their own terms. In many cases from $4 to $8 per ton above the prevailing market rates was offered by those anxious to have iron and steel without further delay. Under these conditions owners of the independent mills have bestirred themselves and are now running twenty-four hours a day with as many men as can be crowded about the furnaces and rolls. It was said yesterday that the Jones & Laughlins' interests had secured enough orders above the combine rates to keep them running far into the fall.

GUARD PROPOSED TERMS.

Terms of the prospective settlement are being carefully guarded by all parties concerned, but from a source believed to be reliable it is stated that Mr. Morgan proposes to permit the Amalgamated association to continue its union lodges in the mills that were non-union prior to the strike, but which went out on President Shaffer's strike order. In addition, it is said the Leechburg, Duncansville and Monessen plants are permitted to be unionized.

The United States Steel corporation is to be permitted to operate all of the mills of the Carnegie Steel company as they are now operated, as well as the big sheet mills at Apollo, Vandergrift and Saltsburg, provided the wages paid shall be on the same basis as in the mills where the union scale is signed.

A GAIN FOR WORKERS.

This would mean a gain for the workers' union of the following plants: Lindsay & McCutcheon, in Allegheny; Clark's Solar Iron works, Thirty-fifth street; Painter's, West Carson street, Wellsville, O.; W. Dewes Wood, at McKeesport, Pa; Leechburg, Pa; Duncanville, Pa., Mingo Junction, Pa.

There is considerable speculation as to who will take part in the joint peace conference, provided the terms as agreed upon at New York are satisfactory to the Amalgamated executive board. This board is composed of nine district vice presidents, the three trustees, President Shaffer, Secretary Williams, Assistant Secretary Tighee and B. T. Davis, manager of the Amalgamated Journal.

The American Tin Plate company will probably be represented by Vice President Warner Arms and W. M. Leeds, his assistant; Veryl Preston, former president of the American Steel Hoop company, and probably I. W. Jenks, former general manager of the hoop combine; John Warner, general superintendent of the American Sheet Steel company; C. W. Bray, chief engineer of the American Tin Plate company; J. B. Phillips, district manager of the same company, and P. E. Donner manager of the Monessen Tin Plate plant, may probably be called in.

NOT IN CONFERENCE.

Neither Persifer F. Smith, district manager of the American Sheet Steel company, nor John Jarrett, labor commissioner of the same company, are liable to appear. They have ruffled the feathers of the Aalgamated leaders so much before that it is not believed they will attend now.

Today the strike of the workers in all of the mills is proceeding as though nothing had happened. There was the same care taken in watching any attempt to open the mills now closed, and to prevent, if possible, the return of the men or the securing of non-union men from the plants of the companies still in operation.

The conditions are as they have been since the opening of hostilities. The strikers in the vicinity of McKeesport spent a night of great vigilance despite the rumors from New York that a truce had been declared until Tuesday between representatives of J. P. Morgan and President Shaffer, of the Amalgamated association. The works of the National Tube Plate works at Demmler was a storm center during the night. Rumors that the mills were to be opened by men brought from the independent mills at Monessen, Pa., brought the strikers to the banks of the Monongahela, where they remained on watch until long after midnight and then after three rousing cheers they went home. The outburst was caused by a movement on the part of the pipe fitters and mill wrights who have been at work fitting up the mills since the strike started.

TOLD TO GO HOME.

They finished their work about midnight and sent a message to the mill management asking what they should now do. The reply came thanking them for faithful work and telling them to go home and enjoy a vacation until the company needed them to start the mills. Then they would be sent for. This word was carried to the strikers who, much pleased at this positive evidence that no effort would be made to start the mill last night, withdrew. The strikers assert that an effort was to have been made to open the mills, but yesterday afternoon word was sent from the Pittsburg office that no move would be made until after Tuesday, when a decision of Mr. Morgan and the Amalgamated officials will be made known. The welders of the National Tube company's mill here, who have been ordered to sign individual contracts, held a secret meeting in a McKeesport hall Sunday night, where it is said arrangements were made to form a federation of labor lodge. The welders come under the federation mill and cannot become Amalgamated association members. All other newly formed lodges in the vicinity of McKeesport held meetings on Sunday and took in many new members. No efforts have been made to start the sheet mill of the Dewes Wood company at McKeesport.

WORKING AT WELLSVILLE.

The Wellsville plant was in operation today with the same number of mills running as last week. The strikers are orderly, but still vigilant, and early this morning captured unknown negroes claiming to be from Alabama. While they claimed to have knowledge of steel working and to be en route west, their stories conflicted with the inquiries made by the street railway men and they were taken across the river to the strikers' camp.

COMMITTEE MEETS TONIGHT

WATER SUPPLY QUESTION TO BE CONSIDERED.

First Session of the New Body That Will Try to Settle Problem —Reservoir Full.

The citizens' committee appointed by Chairman McCulloch, the committee appointed by the mayor, and the board of waterworks trustees will meet at the city hall this evening to organize and formulate a general plan for presenting the waterworks problem fairly and squarely to the public and the city officials and suggest a remedy or a means to prevent a recurrence of the conditions that have harrassed the people of the city every year. They will probably be gratified to learn from Clerk McDonald that the water in the reservoir this morning was up to the high water mark.

L. A. Centlivre is confident there is an abundance of water in the deep rock wells, and he is equally certain that the only method of getting it to the surface is by deep well pumps. "At the brewery," said Mr. Centlivre, "we can show you a Dowie deep well pump in operation delivering 329 gallons of water per minute to the fourth floor. We can also attach the fire hose to the street hydrant, and from a 1⅛ inch nozzle throw a stream of water over our flagstaff, which is eighty-five feet above the street."

WIRES TELL THE WEATHER.

There are no more reliable weather prophets anywhere than the telegraph wires that are now so common as to be "within the reach of everyone," as bargain counter hustlers express it. This novel discovery was made by a German physician in the following manner: As he was waiting for a train at a country station he heard a shrill sound, which was made by the wind as it passed through a network of nearby wires. At once the doctor remembered that he had frequently heard a similar sound either immediately before or after a storm or a heavy fall of rain or snow, and it naturally occurred to him to try and ascertain whether there was any connection between the sound and such changes in the weather.

As a heavy shower of rain fell within forty-eight hours after he had heard the sound at the railroad station he concluded that there was such a connection, and he then determined to investigate the matter thoroughly. As a result he now maintains, first, that any unusual disturbance in the telegraph wires is an infallible indicator of bad weather, and, second, that the nature of the change in the atmosphere may be learned from the sound which the wind makes when passing through the wires.

Thus a deep sound, he says, which is of considerable or medium strength indicates that there will be slight showers of rain with moderate winds within from thirty to forty-eight hours, and on the other hand, a sharp shrill sound is the sure token of a heavy storm, which will be accompanied with much rain or snow.

Although the limitations of the cyclist in warfare, his difficulty of getting over rough and broken ground as compared with the horseman, are conceded, it is said that in the matter of railway guarding the cyclist is more useful.

SIGNALING TO MARS.

The Difficulty of Doing So by Means of Light.

The very largest city that this earth has ever known would be altogether too small to be visible to a being dwelling on the planet Mars, even if that being were endeavoring to see it with a telescope as powerful as the greatest and most perfect instrument in any observatory on this globe.

If the whole extent of Lake Superior was covered with petroleum and if that petroleum was set on fire, then, I think, we may admit that an inhabitant of Mars who was furnished with a telescope as good as that which Percival Lowell uses at Flagstaff might be able to see that something had happened. But we must not suppose that the mighty conflagration would appear to the Martian as a very conspicuous object. It would, rather, be a very small feature, but still I think it would not be beyond the reach of a practiced observer in that planet.

On the other hand, if an area the size of Lake Superior on Mars was to be flooded with petroleum and that petroleum was to be kindled, we should expect to witness the event from here not as a great and striking conflagration, but as a tiny little point of just discernible light. The disk of Mars is not a large object, and the conflagration would not extend over the three hundredth part of that disk.

It is sufficient to state these facts to show that the possibility of signaling to Mars is entirely beyond the power of human resources.—Sir Robert S. Ball in Independent.

BLUNDERS IN FICTION.

The Queer Mistakes That Are Sometimes Made by Authors.

We smile as we read and pass swiftly by the stories of maidens that wander in "lonely woods" at unearthly hours of night, always clad in "a soft, white clinging gown." Now, every girl knows that the average maiden is too much afraid of tramps and snakes to wander in "lonely woods." The weather, too, appears to perplex our novelists, for not infrequently they begin a chapter at dawn, there are a few moments' conversation, and then the "sun sets in lurid banks behind the distant empurpled mountains."

I am reminded at the outset of an English story written by an author of repute where the heroine in one scene was made on one page to stoop down and tie her shoestring, while three pages farther on, directly following, it was said of the same girl that she had remained barefooted the entire day. In another story a blind woman is made to view the hero through spectacles before the tale is ended.

In a French novel—and we generally consider French such literary masters—a heroine is clearly made to go direct from her bed to the breakfast table, out shopping, to an afternoon tea and to dinner in her robe de nuit! Cousins suddenly transformed into brothers without a moment's warning are numerous in this detective's library. Thus one is amused to find the most marvelous mistakes in books which we think we have carefully read.—Modern Culture.

Golf in the Old Days.

Centuries back golf was a pastime of the royal family, though then usually played in Scotland. The Stuart family was very fond of the game, and the first English club was established at Blackheath in 1608 by James I. His eldest son, Henry, frequently played and on one occasion nearly struck by accident his tutor with a club, whereupon he coolly remarked, "Had I done so I had but paid my debts." Charles I was playing golf when he received the news of the Irish rebellion. James, duke of York, afterward James II, was another ardent player. Golf is frequently mentioned in ancient Scottish records and in the fifteenth century was prohibited, because it interfered with the practice of archery. Strutt considered it the most ancient game at ball requiring a bat.—London Chronicle.

The Squirrel Hunter's Weapon.

The cream of squirrel hunting is enjoyed by the man who uses a light rifle of small caliber and medium power. The ".22 long" as now turned out by our leading makers is an excellent weapon—in fact, the best in the world for the purpose. Though not of sufficient range to be dangerous to people or stock at a distance, it throws lead with surprising accuracy to the tops of the tallest trees. Good rifle shots always aim for the squirrel's head both to add to the difficulty of the sport and to avoid spoiling meat. And be it known that a squirrel's head at a range of 40 or 50 yards is no easy mark. If a reader doubts this, let him go to the woods for a day, keep all empty shells, and at the end of the day let him try to make the dead squirrels and the empty shells tally.—E. W. Sandys in Outing.

Early Birds.

The green finch is the earliest riser. It pipes as early as half past 1 in the morning. The blackcap begins at half past 2. It is nearly 4 o'clock before the blackbird appears. It is heard half an hour before the thrush, and the chirp of the robin begins about the same length of time before that of the wren. The house sparrow and the tomtit take the last stage of the list.

Advantages of Port Cities.

The revenue New York derives from the rental of piers to the Cunard, the White Star, the American, the Atlantic Transport, the French, the Leyland, the National and other lines is nearly $1,000,000 annually. The White Star line pays the largest rental, $217,000; the Cunard line is next with $120,000 and the American line third with $88,400.—Alaalee's.

An Elizabethan cup of the year 1577, eight inches high, was sold in London lately for $3,687, or at the rate of $295 an ounce.

NOTES OF THE DAY.

Half a century ago all African ivory came from Egypt and Zanzibar, but today the Congo Free State holds the first rank among the ivory-producing countries. In 1889 no less than 370 tons were exported to Europe, this being more than half the total African output.

The iron trade of the north of England is suffering from a slackness such as was not equaled even during the depression of 1873. The output of manufactured iron during the half year just closed has indeed been smaller than that of any other similar period on record.

In fifty years the words and phrases of the English language lexiconized under the letter "A" have increased from 7,000 in number to nearly 60,000. Science and invention requiring new terms are largely responsible.

By winning both games from Matthews and receiving a gentle boost from Dayton, who beat Toledo, Fort Wayne tumbled into fourth place last night by a narrow majority of three points over Toledo. Dayton is now just 25 points ahead of Fort Wayne and should Fort Wayne win the next two games played at home and Toledo win two from Dayton, Fort Wayne would still be three points ahead of the Mud Hens, while the Old Soldiers would have a lead of only one point for third place over Fort Wayne. Of course, these are simply pretty little castles for the fan to paint over in colors pending the arrival of the next score. Yesterday's games were not remarkable for much of anything except the wide discrepancy in the scores of the two games and the bunching of errors by Fort Wayne, as compared with the two errorless games played at Grand Rapids the day before. Daniels opened each game, but in both instances speedily gave way to Mullin in the first and to Ehret in the second game. Peter was off and he knew it and asked to be relieved. In the first game Umpire Hornung was obliged to put White, Matthews' second baseman, out of the game. Matthews was a little short on men and Hornung, rather than reinstate the baseman in the second game, declined to umpire and Eddie O'Mara was substituted. While the first game was a walk-over for "Doggie's" crowd, the second was a tough proposition and looked easy money for Matthews until the sixth inning, when the score was tied. It required ten innings to settle the matter finally and then the score was very decently written at 5 to 4. In the fifth Sutthoff, pitching for Matthews, was hit by a line drive from McCann's bat, and although he pluckily picked up the ball and threw the base runner out at first, he fainted immediately afterwards and had to be carried off the grounds. Dr. Barnett was called to attend him and pronounced his injuries severely painful, although not serious. He was hit in the groin. Shepard, who succeeded him in the box, was hit successfully in the first inning that he pitched, but held the batters down to four hits after that. Following is the score:

THE GAMES SATURDAY.

The Fort Wayne club came home Saturday night with two scalps hanging at the captain's belt, but at that had secured no better than an even break on the brief visit to the Furniture City. Two games were played on Saturday, of which Fort Wayne won one and lost the other. Whether it was the talk that Mr. Mautner delivered to the players or the result of the lecture he delivered to "Doggie" is not known, but anyway the two games played on Saturday fail to show a single error for the home team. In the second game Bailey, the touted wonder whom Grand Rapids regards as invincible, had several kinds of tar knocked out of him and was touchd up for seven runs in the first inning. Following is the score and summary of each game:

—First Game.—

SHAMROCKS WIN AND LOOSE.

At Auburn Saturday afternoon the Shamrocks defeated the strong Auburn Reds. Jack Thornton officiated in the box, and was hit safely but four times. Thornton led the batting for the Shamrocks, getting three safe drives. Quinn followed in stick work. Both teams put up fast ball. McDarby's work on first was good. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Shamrocks	6	9	2
Auburn Reds	4	4	4

Batteries—Thornton and Tieman; Stout and Pohle.

AT LAFAYETTE.

At Lafayette yesterday afternoon the Shamrocks were defeated in a fast game. Robbins and Johnson were opposing pitchers. Both pitched good ball, and were given almost perfect support. Mahan made a sensational one-handed running catch in the right garden. Lafayette had the Shamrocks beat 3 to 0 in the third inning. The boys made a stiff up-hill fight, but could not make it. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Shamrocks	2	3	1
Lafayette	3	6	1

Batteries—Robbins and Tieman; Johnson and Barclay.

NOTES OF THE GAMES.

Here are some of the nice things the Grand Rapids Democrat says of the team: "If the 'Railroaders' play the same game elsewhere that they have played here they will be very much in the race before the season is over. ' ' ' 'Doggie' Miller is far from a dead one, for there is not a man on his team that has got him beat much, except it is in youth. At that, he is as full of ginger as any youngster. Nattress is a curious combination of chain-lightning and mediocre. Hard chances, where he covers much ground, he gathers in neatly, but is not at all sure on easy chances."

The Pilsners defeated the All-Stars (colored) team in a very exciting game yesterday, by a score of 13 to 14. The game abounded in many sensational plays, the most notable being that of Fosler in the sixth inning, when he turned a double somersault in center field and caught a hard-hit fly with his feet. The work of the All-Star battery and Third Baseman Rhodes was also creditable. In the ninth inning, however, the All-Stars participated in a balloon ascension and before they came down the Pilsners had scored five runs, thus winning the game by a margin of one. Batteries—Pilsners, Robinson and Allen; All-Stars, Green and Rhodes.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago, July 29.—Heavy rains since the close of the market Saturday resulted in marked weakness in the leading grain futures at the opening today. September wheat opened ⅜c to 1¼c lower at 68⅞c to 68½c, rallied to 68⅞@69c on profit-taking by shorts and then under heavy liquidation declined to 66c. Local receipts were 285 cars, 136 of contract grade. Northwest receipts were 332 cars, against 404 last week and 270 a year ago.

September touched 67½c and rallied to 67⅞c, but the close was weak, 6c net lower, at 67¾c.

In corn the liquidation was on an immense scale owing to the rains. September opened 1⅝@1½c to 2⅞@3c lower at 52½c to 54c. From the latter figure during the first hour the market worked back to 52⅝c and then rallied to 52⅞@53c. Receipts were 210 cars.

The close was weak under continued liquidation, September 2½@2⅝c down, at 52⅞c.

Oats were also sold on a heavy scale for both accounts in sympathy with corn. September opened ⅝@¾c to 2⅜@2½c lower at 33¾c to 32c, and although there was a sharp rise to 33½c the market reacted to 32½c. Receipts were 240 cars.

Provisions were dull and easier on heavy hog receipts and in sympathy with corn. September pork opened unchanged at $14.15 and sold to $14.10; September lard opened 2½@5c down at $8.52½@8 55, and September ribs a shade lower at $7.85@7.87½.

THE CLOSE.

Prices at the close were as follows.

Wheat—July, 66½c; Sept., 67¾c; Oct., 68¼c.

Corn—July, 51¾c; Sept., 52⅞c.

Oats—July, 32⅞c; Sept., 32⅞c.

Pork—July, $14.05; Sept., $14.20; Oct., $14.15; Jan., $14.70.

Lard—July, $8.52½@8.55; Sept., $855@8.57½; Oct., $8.60@8.62½; Nov., $8.67½; Dec., $8.55; Jan., $8.55.

Ribs—July, $7.80; Sept, $7.87½; Oct., $5.90; Jan., $7.65@7.67½.

Flax—July and N W., $1.84; No. 1, $1.84; Sept., $1.60; Oct., $1.53½.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

Chicago, July 29.—Cattle—Receipts, 17,000; market steady to strong. Good to prime steers, $5.35@5.90; poor to medium, $4.00@5.30; stockers and feeders, $2.25@4.30, cows, $2.70@4.40; heifers, $2.35@4.80; canners, $1.35@2.35; bulls, $2.25@4.25; calves, $3.00@5.50; Texas fed steers, $3.00@4.50.

Hogs—Receipts today, 56,000; tomorrow, 22,000; left over, 12,969. Market 15c lower. Mixed and butchers, $5.45@5.73; good to choice heavy, $5.60@5.85; rough heavy, $5.45@5.55; light, $5.40@5.65; bulk of sales, $5.60@5.70.

BUTTER, CHEESE AND EGGS.

Chicago, July 29.—Butter—Market firm; creameries, 14½@20c; dairies, 13@17½c.

Eggs—Market steady, 12½c.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, July 29.—The stock market opened very strong under the combined influences of reports of plentiful rains in the corn belt and the prospect of a settlement of the steel strike. There were ready sales of United States Steel of 35,000 shares at 46 to 46½, compared with 44½ on Saturday, and 7,000 shares of Union Pacific sold at 100½ to 101½, compared with 99⅜ on Saturday. Missouri Pacific shot up 2½ and there were gains of between 1 to 1¾ in Kansas and Texas preferred, the Atchisons, Louisville, Erie first preferred, Reading, Pennsylvania and United States Steel preferred. The market was animated, but yielded in a few minutes from the best prices.

United States Steel ran off a point immediately and the rest of the market yielded. Missouri Pacific lost 2 and a few of the active stocks a point. Among the additional stocks which made gains of 1 to 2 points were Baltimore and Ohio, New York Central, Delaware and Hudson, the Chicago and Alton stocks and Amalgamated Copper. Colorado Fuel lost 2½ and International Power a point. There were some rallies, but the market continued unsteady and became very dull.

There were some substantial advances among less prominent stocks which caused a sympathetic improvement in the general list, but prices did not reach the best, except in St. Paul, which touched 26¾. Norfolk and Western gained 2¾, International Power 2¾, Great Northern preferred 2½, St. Louis and San Francisco second preferred 2, Denver and Rio Grande 1¾ and North American 1½.

The bond market broadened out somewhat, but was irregular.

PULP BUSINESS IN MAINE.

From small beginnings the pulp business on the Penobscot river and in all Maine for that matter has now attained such proportions that this year at least one-half of the logs cut in the state will be consumed by grinders instead of saws. The pulp men are able to pay more than the lumbermen for the logs, because a thousand feet of logs will yield more value in pulp than in timber, and thus the pulp men are masters of the log market, says a Bangor correspondent in the New York Tribune.

When prices of timber are high the sawmill men can afford to pay good prices, but the timber market is subject to violent fluctuations, and this spring timber is selling at low figures while the great demand for logs to feed the pulp mills has sent the price of logs to the highest pitch on record Few of the saw mill men own any timber land on the Penobscot, and so they are obliged to buy all their logs and the prices this spring have ranged from $14.50 to $15, while the small lots now remaining unsold are held at the heretofore unheard of price of $16 to $16.50 a thousand feet. At the same time the price of spruce timber in New York ranges from $16 to $18.50 a thousand for the various widths at random, while the price here at Bangor is $12.50 to $15, or less than the price of the logs.

The only thing that makes sawing possible under these conditions is the fact that logs and timber are measured by different scales, a thousand feet of logs yielding from 1,150 to 1,250 feet of timber. This overrun and the money received from the waste, which now goes to the pulp mills, enable the timber manufacturers to come out about even, or possibly to make a small profit when all conditions are favorable and there are no losses. The lumbermen say that either the price of logs must come down or the price of timber go up if they are to make a living, and as their is no possibility of a decline in logs it appears that the salvation of the sawmills depends upon a rise in timber. On the other hand, it is said that the pulp men can pay $20 a thousand feet for spruce logs and still make a good profit.

A SHOPMAN DEAD

HARRY COTTER EXPIRES AT HOME IN TOLEDO.

FOREMAN E. J. KISS RESIGNS

ELMER CUMMINGS APPOINTED TO THE POSITION.

SOME UNFORTUNATE ONES

FIREMAN PETERSON STRUCK BY A STONE.

A telegram from Toledo this morning brought to Fort Wayne friends of the family news of the death of Harry C. Cotter, which occurred in that city last night. The deceased was a former citizen of Fort Wayne and nearly all of the older citizens here knew him well. He was a machinist by trade and in the fifties was employed in that capacity in the shops of Jones & Bass. Later he entered the employ of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago company and until 1870 was foreman of the car machine department of the shops, a position now occupied by J. J. Beugnot. He left this city to take charge of the car department of the Wabash shops at Toledo and remained in that position until he was elected superintendent of waterworks, which office he filled for ten years. For several years Mr. Cotter has been living a retired life, owing to the infirmities of age. He was prominent in Masonic circles, having reached the thirty-second degree of that fraternity. Mrs. Cotter and two sons survive the deceased. The boys are now taking the last course at the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor. No doubt a number of Fort Wayne people will attend the funeral, which will take place Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

TOWER ATTENDANT KILLED.

James Hackett, night towerman at the crossing of the Pennsylvania and the Toledo and Ohio Central roads at Bucyrus, was found in an unconscious condition at the side of the tracks early yesterday morning. He lived until last night, when he expired without returning to consciousness. Hackett had a bad cut in the head, his skull was crushed, toes cut off and his body otherwise cut and bruised. He was struck and knocked from the tracks by a train. Some evil looking tramps were loafing in the vicinity of the tower Saturday and there is a suspicion that they may have assaulted the towerman and placed him where the train would hit him. Mr. Hackett was twenty-three years old and unmarried.

TROUBLESOME ITALIANS.

Italians employed in grade work in the vicinity of Nevada, where the Pittsburg road is being double-tracked, occasionally make trouble for their "boss" and it is sometimes necessary to call on Captain Stoll's men to quiet the unruly fellows. This was the case yesterday, when six Italians, out on a "lark," stole a handcar and took a ride to Bucyrus. They were captured at that city by a patrolman and two city officers and charged with theft.

A FALSE ALARM.

The fire department made a run to the Bass foundry last night, at 8 o'clock, in response to an alarm sent in from that establishment. There was no fire, however, the alarm being due to some derangement of the signal apparatus, which the watchman was repairing when the alarm was given at the engine houses.

WILL MAKE CHEAP RATE.

August 10, the date set for the field day sports of the Pennsylvania Athletic association, the Pennsylvania company will make special rates into Fort Wayne from all points between Plymouth and Lima, and it is expected that thousands of people will come to the city on that day. The Findlay road will also make special rates for that occasion and will run an extra train if there is a demand for such service. On each road the tickets will have a coupon admitting the holder to the grounds whereon the sports will take place.

TESTING WATER PLANT.

Master Mechanic G. S. McKee, of the Wabash, is at Peru today, making the final tests of a water purifying plant put in at that place by the Kennicott company, of Chicago. The plant consists of a large receiving tank about fifty feet from the ground, from which the water is taken from the bottom of two large pipes upon which the tank rests. In passing from the tanks to the valves at the bottom, the water passes through the filters and is said to be absolutely free from lime and other injurious qualities when it enters the engine tanks. At present the Wabash gets its water supply at Peru from the Wabash river and it contains lime and salt sufficient to make it very bad for the purposes designed.

FIREMAN INJURED.

W. E. Peterson, a Pittsburg fireman, was struck on the left temple at Englewood last night and severely injured, though he was able to continue the trip to this city. He was standing in the gangway of the engine pulling the second section of train 72, Engineer Jungles at the throttle, when the missile struck him and knocked him back into the cab. An ugly wound was made on the temple, which swelled and partly closed the eye. Mr. Peterson will be off duty a few days at least.

CHANGE IN FOREMANSHIP.

Saturday night Ernest J. Kiss resigned the foremanship of the pattern department of the Kerr Murray works and Mr. A. D. Cressler immediately advanced Elmer E. Cummings, a patternmaker in that shop, to the position vacated by Mr. Kiss. Mr. Kiss retires in order that he may devote his entire time to the manufacture of his patent metal extracting machinery, recently described by The Sentinel. Mr. Cummings is a very competent and popular man and his appointment to the foremanship will be very satisfactory to all.

HAD A LEG SCALDED.

W. R. Cowell, Pittsburg fireman, is off duty on account of injuries received last night. In some manner a stream of water and steam poured over one of his legs, scalding the limb painfully, though not seriously.

NORTHBOUND TRAVEL.

Northbound travel continues to grow heavier as the season advances. This is most noticeable on the Grand Rapids and Indiana road, which is the most direct route from this section of the country to the resorts in northern Michigan. For the past ten days the Northland express has carried from one to three extra sleeping cars, so great has been the demand for accommodations of that character.

MR. BARR PROMOTED.

W. J. Barr, for some years traveling over the state in the interest of the Joint Weighing and Inspection bureau, has been appointed chief of the local Indianapolis branch, to succeed Mr. Eckman, deceased. This is a very nice promotion for Mr. Barr. He has made frequent visits to this city in the past years and has many friends here who will be pleased to learn of his good fortune.

CHANGE OF YARD FOREMEN.

Last week M. H. Robinson, for several months yard foreman at the Wabash shops, resigned to accept another position and this morning the position was offered to and was accepted by D. E. Allen, who is a new man in the service at this point.

WILL DEDICATE NEW SHOP.

The employes of the Fort Wayne Electric company have asked permission to dedicate the new addition to the works by giving a dance there. The floor will be completed in a short time and as it is a large one and free from all obstructions, it will make one of the most pleasant dance places imaginable. The officials will give their answer in a day or two.

PICNIC AT NEW HAVEN.

"Irish day" will be observed this year by the various associations of that nationality holding a grand picnic in the grove on the Wabash railroad just west of New Haven. At least this is the incompleted arrangement at present. The Wabash company has made a proposition in the line of train service to and from the picnic grounds which seems to meet the approval of the men having the affair in charge. The exercises in previous years were held at Robison park and were enjoyed by thousands of people. The men thought a change of scene would be better this year, hence the selection mentioned in the foregoing. "Irish day" is the 28th of August.

L. E. & W. COMING TO THE FRONT

Concerning the Lake Erie and Western road the Cleveland Leader says: "The appointment of A. H. Smith to the general superintendency of the Lake Erie and Western has called the attention of the railroad men to the physical condition of that property. Interest in the physical regeneration of that road has been reawakened only to come upon the discovery that in a large measure it has been perfected. The groundwork has at last been completed, and the finer details will be worked out as time and finances permit. For instance, it is now learned that the construction crews are at work, and have made wonderful progress at relaying the entire line with a heavier grade of steel rail, either a seventy-five or an eighty-pound "T." In addition to that work the reballasting is being pushed with as much vigor as possible, and everything is being done to bring the Lake Erie and Western system up to the Lake Shore standard of track. The extensiveness of the work will necessitate that some great amount of time be consumed before it is all completed, and the end of the working season may not see all done which they intend to do. While, therefore, Mr. Smith will not have the honor of reclaiming that road physically, he will be able to put the finishing touches upon it. Mr Blodgett had worked on the line fully a year before Mr. Smith took hold, but their methods are so nearly alike, being of the same Newell school, that the change of heads of the operating department at this time will make no difference whatever in the style of work being carried on. The traffic redemption of the line will come later, when available funds will be applied to the purchase of new equipment. It has been supposed that since Mr. Smith has taken charge of the Lake Erie and Western he would be given an assistant general superintendent on the Lake Shore. The understanding is that the place which he vacated to take Mr. Blodgett's post will not be filled for the time being."

LABORERS VERY SCARCE.

In response to the inquiry, "What's the news?" Supt. T. R. Pickard, of the Bass works, said this morning: "The most important thing I can think of is the fact that we are short of laborers and our work is badly delayed on that account." Inquiry at other establishments showed that the same conditions existed there, though to a less extent. This scarcity is due to the many opportunities for work on the streets and elsewhere outdoors, where the wages are slightly in advance of those paid for common labor in the shops.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Engineer Hughes and Fireman Studer are off duty on account of sickness.

After a two weeks' illness William Altevogt has reported for duty in the Bass machine shop.

Otto Morell, machinist at the tool room, Wabash shops, is sick at the company's hospital in Peru.

After a week's sickness F. B. Lindemuth, of the Pittsburg roundhouse, resumd his duties this morning.

Harry Finney, an apprentice in the Pittsburg boiler shop, is spending a week in Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

Foreman James Murray, of the Wabash boiler shop, attended to business at Peru for the company today.

H. W. Meyers, foreman of the Bass machine shop, was in Wabash yesterday, combining pleasure and business.

The injury of a finger while at work at the east shops has disabled J. A. Sarazen, a car builder, several days.

Pittsburg Engineer J. McMullen and Fireman R. Finney reported for duty this morning, after a few days' lay off.

Yard Engineer Harry Kelker, of the Pittsburg, who was sick three or four days, reported for work this morning.

F. Helberg, of the Pittsburg boiler shop, who had a hand injured last week, was able to resume work this morning.

Foreman C. F. Knothe, who was sick all of last week, resumed charge of his room at the electric works this morning.

Foreman C. F. Knothe, who had been sick a week, resumed charge of his department at the Electric works this morning.

E. T. Davis, foreman of the Pennsylvania freight house at Indianapolis, was the guest of his son, Gregg Davis, yesterday.

Signal Superintendent Hill, of the Pennsylvania, went to Hobart this morning to install signal bells at a railway crossing.

Thomas Hibbins and his slate roofers this morning commenced relaying the slate roof on the east side of the Pittsburg machine shop.

M. Schenlein, J. Edelmann, W. Fetters, J. F. Engle, W. C. Ropa, John Rost and R. H. Mauk, Pittsburg shopmen, are sick and off duty.

Christian Miller, assistant yard foreman at the Bass foundry, is suffering an attack of stomach trouble and is unable to leave his home.

C. T. Fudenski, who resigned a position as patrolman in Captain Stoll's forces, will engage in the mercantile business at Wanatah with his father.

Mr. Boll, general foreman of the Wabash shops at Ashley, was in the city Saturday to see Master Mechanic G. S. McKee concerning shop affairs.

Lawrence Cox, the plumber, who had both knee caps injured at the Pittsburg shops last Wednesday by jumping from a scaffold, is getting along nicely, considering the extent of his injuries. He will probably be confined to the hospital two or three weeks by the injuries.

Albert J. Piepenbrink, electrician at the Jenney Power and Light station, and his family have gone west to spend ten days at Chicago and Milwaukee.

The Pittsburg will handle the Harris Nickel Plate show this week. It will exhibit Tuesday at Bucyrus, Wednesday at Delphos and Thursday at Van Wert.

The Pennsylvania did a big passenger business at Plymouth today. A circus is there and it drew big crowds from all stations between Larwill and Valparaiso.

Alex. Thavenet, who was injured a week ago by a car door falling upon him, was able to resume work in the Pennsylvania yards this morning. He is a switchman.

Nickel Plate Brakeman Grimme has been assigned the position of flagman for the Western Union linemen, who are at work in the vicinity of Leipsic at present.

The annual Sunday school excursion from Mentone, Ind., will take place August 14 and will be to Robison park. The Nickel Plate will run a special train on that occasion.

Engineer Ames, of the Grand Rapids and Indiana, who has resided at Kalamazoo for several years, has moved his family to Grand Rapids. He is now on a through passenger run.

Chris Geiger, of Agent E. H. Kirkland's clerical force, is taking a vacation. He will spend a few days at his old home in Lima, Ohio, and then go to the Pan-American exposition.

Joseph DeWald has returned from Columbia City, after a three weeks' outing. George Platts, also of the Electric works, has returned from Rome City, where he spent a week in fishing.

Machinist W. T. Marks resigned his position at the Wabash shops last Saturday and will take a position with another shop. He is a good workman and there is a demand for his services.

C. A. Hartman resumed his duties at the Wabash store room offices this morning after a week's sojourn at the lakes in Whitley and Kosciusko counties. He caught quite a number of fine bass and shad.

William Geiger left at noon today for Cherry, Ky., where he will spend several days in measuring lumber for the Pennsylvania company. Last week Mr. Geiger was similarly engaged at Ashland, Ky.

Last week there were repaired and turned out of the Pittsburg shops engines 45, 148, 175, 187, 191, 276 and 286. During the same time there were taken in for repairs engins 276, 412, 165 and 129.

William Mungovan, Grand Rapids engineer, has resumed work and this morning took his position at the throttle of the Kalamazoo work train engine. Mr. Mungovan was burned on the face and neck a week ago.

Indianapolis Journal: "The Panhandle is short of motive power on both the Indianapolis and Logansport divisions, having been too liberal in loaning some of their engines to the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago."

The Packard company is preparing for the shipment of 233 of its superb organs to England, where instruments made by this firm are in great demand. The Packard company shipped forty organs to Europe last week.

Peter Chamberlain and his family have moved here from Lafayette and he has taken a position as machinist at the Kerr Murray works. Mr. Chamberlain was formerly the engineer at the soldiers' home at Lafayette.

Frank Wright, of the Withington handle factory, was allowed to return to his home on East Wayne street Saturday, after a couple weeks' absence. A son had the scarlet fever and the house was quarantined during the progress of the disease.

Trainmen from the west and north report copious rains in those directions within a very few miles of Fort Wayne. It rained nearly all of last night between Columbia City and Chicago and there were several showers along the lines of the Wabash road and the Grand Rapids.

Engineer B. F. Campbell and Firemen O. J. Glock, M. Brennen and H. L. Kennedy are sick, and Firemen H. P. Bitner, C. F. Keim, W. H. Keller and Henry Sayner are off duty by permission. The latter's wife is sick. All these men are Pittsburg employes.

Agent E. H. Kirkland, of the Pittsburg freight department, has put into service two book typewriter machines which, facilitate work considerably. These machines are similar in many ways to those in service in the superintendent's building and at the shop clerk's office and are quite costly.

Tomorrow Col. R. G. Thompson will be at the Wabash shops to distribute tickets to the employes who wish to take in the Detroit excursion next Saturday. Colonel Thompson does this in order that he may make pretty accurate estimate of the number of excursionists and prepare accommodations for them.

REUBEN S. PATTERSON.

Scrofula

Scrofula is an unwelcome legacy, but one which the children of blood poisoned parentage must accept, with all its humiliating consequences. It is an inheritance that makes one poorer; that brings wretchedness and disease instead of health and riches, for the child whose ancestral blood is tainted with Scrofula or the loathsome virus of Contagious Blood Poison is unfitted for the arduous duties of life so long as any of the transmitted poison remains in its veins. Scrofula manifests itself in various forms; swollen glands about the neck and throat, catarrh of the head, weak eyes, hip bone disease, white swelling and offensive sores and abscesses are familiar symptoms, attended usually with loss of strength, poor digestion and pale or bloodless complexion. The skin is sometimes most dreadfully affected, eruptions breaking out on all parts of the body. Scrofula destroys bone, tissue and flesh; no part of the human system escapes its withering, benumbing touch. Parents whose blood is poisoned by their own misdeeds, or who themselves may be suffering for the sins of some remote ancestor, must restore their own blood to its normal purity and strength, or they cannot expect healthy, robust children. S. S. S. cures Scrofula, like other diseases of a deep-seated, constitutional character, by restoring life and purity to the profoundly poisoned blood, and the rich, strong blood that is carried to the swollen and diseased glands absorbs and destroys the tuberculous deposits, and the painful, disfiguring sores and other evidences of Scrofula disappear.

When nineteen years old, and about one year after the birth of my first child, the glands on the left side of my neck began to swell. Four of the places were lanced and became open running sores; risings came under my left arm, and the discharge was simply awful. The doctors said I had the worst case of Scrofula they had ever seen. I took iodide of potassium, but this nor the other drugs given for this disease brought relief. When the physicians advised me to have the glands removed, I decided to try S. S. S. A few bottles cured me completely; no signs of the terrible disease are left.

MRS. RICHARD WASSON,
Golden Corners, Ohio.

S. S. S. should be begun immediately upon the appearance of the first symptoms, or where there is a known predisposition to Scrofula. Our medical department will be found of great help to those who are struggling with this wasting disease of heredity or any other blood trouble, and we invite you to write us. Should you or any member of your family need advice, our physicians will cheerfully give the information you desire, for which we make no charge. Book on Blood and Skin Diseases free.

QUESTION OF WHO AND WHAT.

Sunday evening at about 8:30 the patrol wagon was called to the corner of Lafayette and Wallace streets to convey Henry Holland or Boland to his home at 252 John street. He was found lying with a broken nose, and it is presumed that he was struck by a street car. One policeman reported that he was taken to No. 252 John street, suffering with a broken nose, and another officer said he was taken to No. 52 John street and had been overcome by the heat and each officer gave the victim a different name. The reader of the report can take his choice and meanwhile he can ponder over the question whether officers should not be required to give intelligent reports of what comes under their observation.

ABOUT THE COURT HOUSE

Last evening Sheriff Stout received a telephone message from Aboit, stating that Alfred Cattin, a resident there, had assaulted his wife and was threatening to clean up the neighborhood. Deputies Huguenard and Reichelderfer were dispatched to Aboit and they returned with the belligerent last night. Cattin is supposed to be demented and did not do as much damage as the telephonic report indicated. He was locked up for safe keeping and this afternoon a commission in lunacy, presided over by Justice Bullerman, is inquiring into his sanity.

Charles Weller has commenced suit against John Leikauf et al. on a note and claim for $600.

John G. Theime et al. have commenced suit against John G. Baker on a note for $140.

James W. Squires has commenced suit against Frank and Cynthia Dolin to recover on a note for $295.65.

The cases against Ida Novitsky and Anna Edwards, for assault and battery on Iren Laisure, said to have been committed on the 14th inst., will be heard in Bullerman's court tomorrow.

COLONEL HOGELAND SPOKE

CURFEW EXPLAINED THREE TIMES YESTERDAY.

Author of the Institution and the Newsboys' Friend Will Speak on Street Tonight.

Col. Alexander Hogeland, author of curfew and newsboys' friend, spoke three times yesterday in this city. His first address was delivered at the Berry Street M. E. church at 11 o'clock in the morning. At 3 in the afternoon he addressed the newsboys at the Railroad Y. M. C. A. It proved to be a real novelty, inasmuch as everyone of the newsboys took some part in the meeting, either repeating the Lord's prayer from the stand one at a time, or giving their testimony. Colonel Hogeland's main address was given at the Wayne Street M. E. church, where he spoke for about an hour. He stated briefly that the curfew in its present form was only eight years old, but that fully 2,000 cities had adopted it. He said it was without doubt the most important municipal reform of the present and last century. He said twenty whistles were blowing curfew in St. Louis, ten in Louisville, Ky., and ten in Indianapolis. Even the curfew signals had proven to be an educator to fathers and mothers of their obligations to the children. He stated that he had visited forty cities during the last year, and all former opposition to the curfew had disappeared. He said the government was educating 30,000 Indian children, everything furnished gratis, and each receiving small annuities and some land, and he endorsed that attention to the Indian child. At the same time the government of the United States was allowing 250,000 white American young men and boys to roam the country and do pretty much as they pleased, to eventually be graduated into hold-up men, house-robbers, safe-blowers and train ditchers. It was shown that absolutely the only remedy for reducing the ranks of this now growing army of thieves and tramps was the curfew in their boyhood. The colonel will make an open-air speech tonight at the corner of Calhoun and Berry streets. This address will be illustrated and every man, woman and child in the city ought to hear it. There is no salary attached to Colonel Hogeland's work and those who feel disposed to aid him can do so by purchase of his charts. It shares an expense in a small way the good results of which are left with the people.

IN THE JUSTICES' COURTS.

The retaliatory provoke case filed against Malachowski by Hoppe and C. Ciegloskoski, all of the knitting mills, were tried in Justice Huser's court this morning. Attorney Kuhne, who can tear off German by the acre, represented the state, and R. B. Dreibelbiss, another German orator, appeared for the defense, and so the court being likewise familiar with the language, the services of an interpreter were dispensed with and the trial was conducted in the German language, interspersed with hieroglyphics and an occasional Polish phrase. Everybody except Attorney Dreibelbiss sidestepped for the Polish interjections; he said he could get away with them about as well as with anything else. The evidence appeared to the justice to show that the affidavit was filed as a result of some spitework and he acquitted the prisoner, the state having failed to make a case.

Hugh P. O'Reilley was arrested last week for selling liquor without a license and on a plea of guilty was fined $20. He made his plea all right, but failed to settle and led the officers a merry race while they were trying to get him to produce the bon or stay the docket. Meantime another affidavit was filed against him and he was called into court again He then hired an attorney, who appealed the first case and took a change of venue on the second. As O'Reilley is still without the necessary license the prosecutor will keep right on filing affidavits until the saloonkeeper finally finds out where he is at.

William Pope and Daniel Irwin were sent to jail this morning by Justice Bullerman for assault and battery on Henry Blaising, of New Haven, last Saturday evening. The men are both typical tramps and were released from the county jail only on Saturday morning. Blaising is a saloonkeeper at New Haven and on Saturday night when it came time to close up his place the two hoboes refused to go out and showed fight. Blaising undertook to eject them and during the fracas he was cut with a knife in the hands of Pope. The marshal of New Haven was deputized as a special sheriff to arrest the men and he succeeded in landing them in jail. Pope was sent over for forty-seven days and Irwin, who was only an accessory, was sent up for thirty-seven days.

A PEACE CONFERENCE IS HELD

President Shaffer, Colonel French and the Secretary of Ohio Arbitration Board Consider the Strike.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 29.—Secretary Joseph Bishop, of the Ohio board of arbitration, reached the headquarters of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers about 10 o'clock this morning and the newspaper men present were requested to leave the room. Behind closed doors a conference was held between President Shaffer and Secretary Bishop.

Later Colonel French, vice president of the Republic Iron and Steel company, called at the Amalgamated headquarters and was admitted to the inner office, where President Shaffer and Secretary Bishop were in conference. Colonel French was largely instrumental in settling the McKeesport strike last April and his presence today was regarded as significant. William Collier, a prominent labor leader of this city, was also taken into the meeting.

The conference lasted more than an hour and when it was over Colonel French, Secretary Bishop and William Collier were seen, but they refused to say anything concerning the matter under discussion. Shortly before noon President Shaffer quietly slipped out of the office through a rear door and efforts to locate him have so far been fruitless.

Secretary Williams, of the Amalgamated association, said the reported terms of a compromise had been guessed at by someone who is not familiar with the situation and is not official. "We are pledged to secrecy," said he, "and I am sorry the fact that we met officials of the United States Steel corporation was made public. Our intention was to keep the entire matter quiet until something definite was done. No statement will be made from our headquarters today."

TRICKED THE STRIKERS.

McKeesport, Pa., July 29.—The action of the American Tin Plate company at Kensaler in notifying the pipe fitters and millwrights to take a vacation was evidently a ruse, as one set of rolls and one furnace was put in operation. It is supposed that the company smuggled in men from the Monessen plant while the strikers were massed along the river front. Ten or twelve men are sufficient to run the one furnace and set of rolls and that is the number supposed to be at work.

DISCUSSED THE STRIKE.

The directors and stockholders of the Indiana Road Machine company held a meeting at the offices of the Fort Wayne Trust company this morning to discuss matters connected with the strike of machinists at the works. None of their decisions were made public. There is little change in the strike situation. It was stated this morning upon the streets that a number of new men had been engaged, but that they had not commenced work.

OLD SCENES HAVE CHANGED

EDWIN C. CRAWFORD, OF CHICAGO, HERE.

Years Ago He Was City Editor of the Gazette, and Later Principal of the Hoagland School.

Edwin C. Crawford, now a prominent Chicago attorney, is in the city the guest of Dr. K. K. Wheelock. Years ago Mr. Crawford was a resident of Fort Wayne, but this is his first visit to the city in twenty-two years.

Mr. Crawford was reared in Cedar Creek township, this county, and in 1871 was city editor of the Gazette. He also held the principalship of the Hoagland school under the administration of Superintendent Smart. Mr. Crawford is amazed at the changes the passing years have made in Fort Wayne.

"I stepped off the Nickel Plate train Saturday," said he, "and had I not known absolutely that this city was Fort Wayne I should never have recognized it. I looked for the old Townley corner, which used to be a central meeting point in my day here, but it is changed beyond recognition. New and handsome business buildings have replaced the old down-town structures, and it doesn't look much like the old Fort Wayne of thirty years ago. Dr. Wheelock has been driving me about the city, and I have enjoyed noting the improvements that have sprung up on every hand. The beautiful Hoagland school building I saw today doesn't in the faintest measure resemble the structure in which I presided years ago, and your court house is as handsome a public building as I have ever seen. It will compare favorably with the best in Chicago."

Mr. Crawford leaves for his home tomorrow. Yesterday he spent the day at Dr. Wheelock's Rome City cottage.

HE WAS M'KINLEY'S FRIEND

FATHER OF MRS. ADAM SERVA, OF FORT WAYNE.

Dropped Dead at Canton, Ohio, and President Honors His Memory —Mrs. Serva There.

Mrs. Adam A. Serva, of 510 South Calhoun street, is at Canton, Ohio, attending the funeral of her father, Leopold Biechele, who died very suddenly Friday evening. Mrs. Serva was nearly prostrated by the sad intelligence.

Mr. Biechele was a neighbor and a close friend of President McKinley, their residences being but a few doors apart. A complimentary concert was to have been given on the McKinley lawn Friday evening by the G. A. R. band, but Mr. Biechele dropped dead about 5 o'clock and the president, out of respect to his memory, ordered the concert postponed.

The telegraph this afternoon brings the intelligence that the president today attended the funeral services over his old neighbor and friend.

L. V. Lindemuth and wife, of Oklahoma, are in the city the guests of a brother, George Lindemuth, of the auditor's office. This is Mr. Lindemuth's first visit to Fort Wayne in seventeen years and is the first of a family of nine bothers to arrive to take part in a family reunion which will take place in a few weeks. He expects to remain in the county visiting friends and relatives for six or seven weeks.

Mrs. George W. Boswell and daughter, Rhoda, will return this evening from a brief visit in Chicago, where they have been guests of Mrs. Whitfield.

The Misses Flora and Edith Stier, Carrie Hoffman and Teresa Stier are at Clear Lake for an outing.

MONKS FOR JUDGE

CHIEF JUSTICE DECIDED ON FOR FEDERAL JUDGE.

SUCCESSOR TO W. A. WOODS

JUDGE R. S. TAYLOR HAS DECLINED HONOR.

REASON FOR THE CHOICE

JUDGE MONKS ON BENCH OF STATE MANY YEARS.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 29.—The Sentinel today says:

Leander J. Monks, chief justice of the supreme court of Indiana, has practically been decided on by Senator Fairbanks to succeed the late Judge Woods on the United States circuit bench for the district composed of Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin.

This information is regarded as most reliable. From the same source it is learned that Judge R. S. Taylor, of Fort Wayne, could have secured the position had he expressed a desire to go on the bench and relinquish his present work, but when Judge Taylor was askd as to his wishes he said he preferred to continue his practice and his work on the Mississippi river commission, from which two sources his income is said to be $30,000.

JUDGE TAYLOR WILL STAY.

It is not stated that Judge Taylor was offered the position on the federal circuit bench, but it is known that he was approached upon the subject and his wishes were ascertained. It has been learned by Senator Fairbanks, after investigation, that Judge Taylor will not be molested by the national administration in his place on the Mississippi river commission so long as his services are available. Under these circumstances Judge Taylor was not considered further.

Judge Monks has been on the circuit and supreme bench for twenty-eight years, or just one-half of his entire life. He was appointed in 1873 to fill a vacancy on the circuit bench of the district composed of Randolph and Delaware counties, was re-elected to the position in 1876, 1882 and 1888, and in 1894 was elected to the supreme court and again re-elected in 1900, being nominatd by acclamation.

In his decisions Judge Monks has shown high ability and at the same time has never caused disappointment in the result to the republican party where a political question was involved. He has for some years lived at the Denison hotel during the terms of the supreme court, but his home has been in Winchester and he still spends his vacations there.

CAPITAL MAN IMPOSSERLE.

In casting about for a man for the position Senator Fairbanks, as was outlined in the Sentinel a few days ago, first of all determined that it would be the worst of politics to appoint another Indianapolis republican to a high position on account of the intense jalousy of "the state," which it is calculated will unseat one of the two Indianapolis senators unless some good things are given to republicans outside of this city.

Indianapolis candidates for the position were not even considered therefore. Ex-Attorney General Ketcham, with the indorsement of the entire bar of Indiana, would not be strong enough to land the job in the face of the danger such an appointment would be to Senator Fairbank's seat, and Ovid Jameson might know all the law ever interpreted and still not be able to overcome such an obstacle, while A. C. Harris might be the most brilliant jurist in the land and still not be strong enough to cause Senator Fairbanks to assist in his own destruction.

QUALIFICATIONS NECESSARY.

In casting about for a man for the place, therefore, two things were considered above all—the geographical location of the appointee and his fealty to the republican party. No doubt his abilities and judicial powers were a factor, but these ranked third.

In Judge Monks Senator Fairbanks believes he has solved the problem. Judge Monks is but fifty-six years of age, has been one of the most earnest republicans of Indiana, has been a supporter of Senator Fairbanks since that gentleman's aspirations were directed toward the toga, and he comes from a strongly republican section of the state, where Senator Fairbanks has been weak.

Senator Fairbanks declines to discuss the appointment nor will he confirm the statement that Judge Monks has been decided upon for the place. It is generally conceded, however, by those very close to Senator Fairbanks that no other name will be considered.

VISIT TO THE PRESIDENT.

The action of Senator Fairbanks in selecting Judge Monks for the place, as reported, follows close upon the senator's recent visit to President McKinley in company with United States Attorney General Knox. It is known that this visit to the president was in connection with the selection of a successor to Judge Woods and it is announced that Senator Fairbanks left the president carrying with him the assurance that Senator Fairbank's selection of Judge Monks was approved and the appointment would follow. Senator Beveridge has not been considered in the matter at all.

IT WAS WRITTEN IN A DIARY

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF MRS. LOAG.

The late Mrs. Anna R. Loag, who died last week, left a will that is somewhat out of the ordinary class of documents of that character, for it was written in her diary.

The entry was not discovered until a day or two ago, and it is entirely free from the customary legal phraseology, being a simple direction as to the disposition of her property. To her sister, Mrs. Beals, of Chicago, is bequeathed $5,000. Richard Henderson, a brother in Iowa, receives $500 and a number of outlots at Kansas City. One thousand dollars' worth of stock in the Fort Wayne Drug company is left to a niece, Miss Minnie Beals, and a nephew, Harry Beals, is also remembered. A diamond ring is bequeathed to Mrs. S. E. Morss, and Miss Josephine Morss receives $1,000 worth of the Drug company stock. A number of other minor bequests were made, and a few shares of the Indianapolis Sentinel stock is left to Mrs. Morss. Hon. S. E. Morss is named as administrator, and will settle the estate in accordance with the wishes of the decedent as expressed by her entry in her diary.

FIRE AT THRESHING.

Last Saturday a fire occurred on the farm of Leslie Husted, of Maumee township, three miles north of Woodburn, which resulted in the total destruction of a grain separator, the property of Joel Sweet, and valued at $000. The machine was a new one and the Husted job was only the third or fourth that Mr. Sweet had worked out this season. The fire caught in the straw stack while the threshers were at dinner and when discovered was so far advanced that saving anything but the engine was entirely out of the question. The engine was uninjured, but the separator, stacker, water wagon and several other wagons, together with a large quantity of grain, were consumed. There was no insurance on the machine or other of the property destroyed.

MUST NOT TALK.

Washington, July 29.—Secretary Long this morning issued the following general order:

All persons in the naval service are strictly enjoined to refrain from any public statement concerning the subject matter of the court of inquiry requested by Rear Admiral W. S. Schley.

"John D. Long, Secretary."

SOLDIERS REACH HOME.

Battery B, Capt. W. F. Ranke, and company D, Capt. O. C. Meyer, reached the city at 1 o'clock Sunday morning from Indianapolis, where they were in attendance at the state encampment last week. The encampment was an interesting and enjoyable one, though the excessive heat caused much discomfort.

FIRE AT RICHMOND.

Richmond, Ind., July 29.—Fire today destroyed several buildings in the business portion of the city. Total loss, $35,000; partly insured.

Mrs. C. S. Tuckey, who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Brown, of East Lewis street, returned today to her home at Crestline.

The little son of Frank Mungovan was painfully injured yesterday by a nail penerating his foot.

GREAT LAND LOTTERY BEGINS

Western Young Man Draws First and Western Young Woman Second---Thousands of Claimants Watch the Drawing

El Reno, O. T., July 29.—One of the greatest lotteries in history was begun here this morning. It was conducted by the federal government in disposing of 13,000 quarter-section claims thrown open to settlement on the Kiowa-Comanche reservations.

The drawing was delayed until late in the afternoon. Twenty thousand excited, expectant people jammed and crowded about the platform. The approach of the commissioners guarding the precious bundles of envelopes containing the thousands of applications was the signal for a great demonstration that was renewed with fervor from time to time during the progress of the arrangements. When finally ten boys, five for the El Reno and five for the Lawton district, were lined up before the two wheels and awaited the word to draw out the first envelopes from the receptacles a mighty cheer arose, was repeated again and again and the multitude pushed closer to the platform. Eager, drawn faces watched every movement of those about the wheels and necks were craned to hear the name of the first winner. A moment later when a deputy marshal called loudly for order the crowd was stilled instantly.

Colonel Dyer, one of the three commissioners, read the president's proclamation relating to the drawing. The envelopes were then placed in the wheels, each was turned repeatedly to insure a general mixing and then the drawing was on. The first envelope taken from the wheel contained the name of James R. Wood, of Weatherford, Okla., who had registered for a homestead in the Lawton district.

Mattie H. Beals, of Wichita, Kas., whose birthplace is in Missouri, drew No. 2, also in the Lawton district.

The multitude went frantic over the announcement. Without doubt Wood and Miss Beals, who thus have the right to make the first filings, will select the two quarter sections adjoining the Lawton town site district and which are believed to be worth $40,000 each.

When Colonel Dyer announced the woman's age as twenty-three and that her height is the same as that of Mr. Wood, twenty thousand persons shouted in chorus: "They must get married!"

No. 1 in the El Reno district was Stephen A. Holcomb, of Pauls Valley, I. T., and No. 2 was Leonard T. Lamb, of Augusta, Okla.

AMERICAN LOCOMOTIVES FOR FRANCE

Paris, July 29.—The newspapers here today announced that the Lyons-Mediterranean railroad had bought a number of American locomotives. The correspondent of the Associated Press questioned M. Baudcy, the chief engineer of the railroad, on the subject. He said:

"The report is true. We have purchased ten American locomotives. They have just arrived at Arles (a railroad junction about forty-five miles from Marseilles), where they are now being put together. We intend experimenting with them, with the view of adopting the points, if there are any, in which they are superior to the French engines."

The correspondent questioned M. Baudry respecting the use of American coal on his road and the chief engineer said:

"We bought a large quantity last year when the prices were much below the prices of Cardiff coal. But now the prices of Cardiff coal have fallen and we have given up using American coal, which needs to be cheaper, because we found it to be of poorer quality. However, if American coal can be landed here cheap enough our company is ready to buy it."

CHINA ALREADY PAYING INTEREST

Washington, July 29.—Dispatches received by cable from Mr. Rockhill, the United States special commissioner at Pekin, set out some of the details of the financial arrangement respecting the indemnity not heretofore disclosed. He reports that the interest on the indemnity began to run on the 1st of July of this year and the payments will become due semi-annually, the first to be met January 1st next. China will be allowed three years before making the first payment on account of the principal indemnity.

The moneys, both on account of principal and interest, will be received by a financial committee located at Shanghai, to be known as the "committee of encashment." This will be composed of the heads of foreign banks at Shanghai, selected by the governments interested in the payments. The committee is to distribute the funds turned in by the Chinese government among the various powers in proportion to the interest payments due them.

The diplomatic court at Pekin favors the immediate application of the new tariff, the effect of which will be to abolish the free list except as to cereals.

NEW JOBBING FIRM TO OPEN

WAYNE PAPER COMPANY HAS JUST BEEN FORMED.

B. F. Rousseau, J. C. F. Sprankle and F. J. Sprankle Comprise It —Locate on Barr Street.

The Wayne Paper company is the name of a new wholesale concern which will soon open for business at 112 Barr street as jobbers of wrapping paper, stationery and paper novelties.

Comprising the firm are B. F. Rousseau, who was for nine years Fort Wayne manager for Swift & Co.; J. C. F. Sprankle, well known as a dredge contractor, and F. J. Sprankle, his son. Mr. Rosseau has been for the past few years a traveling representative of Nelon, Morris & Co., of Chicago, though he has retained his home in Fort Wayne.

A large portion of the stock has already been purchased and is on its way to this city. Workmen will at once place the rests in condition and Mr. Rossean stated this morning that the firm expected to begin business within a week. The organization is a simple partnership and will not be incorporated.

BISHOP AT INDIANAPOLIS.

Bishop Alerding, who dedicated a new Catholic church at Elwood yesterday, went directly from that city to Indianapolis, where he will spend several days the guests of old friends. It will be the bishop's first opportunity to spend a few days with the clergy and laity of his former parish and he will not return until Friday.

FORM TEMPERANCE SOCIETY

MEETING IS CALLED FOR TUESDAY EVENING.

Organization Will Work Along Prohibition Lines and Expects Large Membership.

A call has been issued for a meeting of temperance workers to be held at the South Congregational church Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock for the purpose of forming a temperance society, and a number of leading prohibitionists are at the head of the movement.

It is designed to bring the temperance workers into closer association, and it is the idea to have the new organization thoroughly equipped for effective work along prohibition lines in this city. It is understood that the project has already had much encouragement, and the promoters feel assured that a large membership will be acquired within a short time. At the meeting Tuesday evening officers will be elected and a name chosen for the society.

Mrs. J. Imler has returned from a visit to friends in Kendallville.

OLD BOAT IS AGAIN THE VICTOR

Columbia Beats Constitution in a Well-Sailed Race, Crossing the Line a Decisive Winner of the Contest.

Bateman's Point, R. I., July 29.—The old cup defender Columbia won the $1,000 Astor cup today, leading the new aspirant for cup honors, the Constitution, at the finish by two minutes and fourteen seconds, shore time. The race was sailed in a fine breeze from the north, the course being a triangular one of thirty-eight miles. The Constitution got over the line first and the two ninety-footers had a hot race around the first mark and well down to the turn. On the second leg the Columbia passed the Constitution to windward and increased this lead to about two minutes and a half at the turn. On the last leg of six and one-half miles the Constitution gained a few seconds, but it was not sufficient to bring her within hailing distance of the old boat and for the second time in the history of these racers, a new aspirant for international cup honors was defeated by an old one.

SOUTHWESTERN GRADERS AT END OF TAYLOR STREET.

This morning C. C. Robertson, grade foreman for Townsend, Reed & Co., began work at the end of Taylor street, placing a large force of men and teams at work cutting down the big hill at that point.

There is an extensive job of cutting and filling to be done before the new bridge over the St. Mary's river can be reached. The grading of the road from Huntington to Fort Wayne is practically completed up to this point and only the delay in obtaining rails is retarding the laying of steel. Mr. Robertson, who has been with the company from the start of the work, is said to be one of the best railroad construction men in the country.

PASTOR GETS A VACATION.

The official board of Wayne street M. E. church has granted the pastor, Rev. A. S. Preston, a vacation of one month during the heated term, and this week Rev. Preston and family will go to their farm at Lake James, in Steuben county. The pulpit will be supplied at the morning service, but the evening meetings are to be abandoned for a few weeks.

SACK OF SILVER MISSING.

Chicago, July 29.—A sack of 1,000 silver dollars has mysteriously disappeared from the Commercial National bank, and although several detectives have been put on the case their efforts so far have been futile. The package, which weighed about sixty pounds, was left outside of the vault by mistake when the bank closed for the night and since then no trace of it can be found. This is the second strange disappearance of a package of money belonging to the Commercial National bank within a year. Detectives are still looking for a bundle of $20,000 in bills shipped by the bank with the Adams Express company to the National State bank at Burlington, Iowa, August 17 last. When the package was opened at Burlington it contained only clippings of paper.

THE CIGARMAKERS GET A RAISE

Advance of $1 a Thousand on Five-Cents Goods ---Most Factories Granted Demand Readily---Others Consider It.

Nearly all the larger cigar manufactories in Fort Wayne this morning granted the demand of the union cigarmakers for an increase of $1 per thousand on the manufacture of all five-cent cigars, and it is expected that others will accept the new scale within a few days.

The demand was made by Cigarmakers' union No. 37 and presented to the proprietors of the shops on Saturday, the scale covering surrounding towns under union jurisdiction as well as Fort Wayne, and becoming effective today. It is said that most of the factories granted the request readily, and at noon today it was announced that the following Fort Wayne factories had accepted the new scale:

Cooney Bayer, F. J. Gruber, A. C. Baker, J. C. Eckert, Kasten & Kohlmeyer, F. J. McCormick, H. F. Fisher, George Reiter, Fred Schneider, William Steckbeck, Braun & Alexander, F. Grewe, William Smith, George Humbrecht, Phil Arantz, Paul Kirbach & Bro., B. H. Trentman, Charles Albrecht and William Horn.

It is stated that these factories regard the demand as just and fair, and the men employed in the above shops are at work as usual. Several manufacturers have expressed a wish to consider the matter a few days before answering the request of the union. The committee of the union workmen was in session today at Saengerbund hall.

A SOP TO THE AGRARIANS

WHAT GERMANY'S NEW TARIFF IS INTENDED FOR.

Is a Declaration of Commercial War on Russia, Austria and the United States.

New York, July 29.—A dispatch to the Herald from Berlin says:

The tariff project, which was published in all the papers Saturday, is an open declaration of commercial war with Russia, Austria and the United States, but Count Von Buelow knows that the bundesrath will not confirm it.

It is, therefore, a cleverly concealed sop to the agrarians, however, intended to show his sympathy for them. Commercial means everything in Germany's future relations with Russia.

Count Von Buelow, as is well known, is keenly anxious to restore the existing good relations with Russia. That can only be achieved by the maintenance of good trade relations.

Count Von Buelow has now faced the biggest difficulty he has ever encountered. It is to reconcile the demands of Russia for favorable treatment in the forthcoming treaty of commerce and at the same time to meet the urgent demands of protection made by the agrarians, a most powerful party, which is composed of the most solid supporters of the crown.

For months past the German chancellor has been struggling against the well organized efforts of the agrarians. Do what he would it was always the same cry: "Protect us or we will bring all the power of our opposition against you."

Count Von Buelow is resourceful and knows most of the political moves upon the board likely to bring the opinion of parties round to his side, but with these hard-headed agrarians his attempts to coerce or cajole have been fruitless.

The result is the publication of the new tariff, which is to go into force when the present treaties of commerce with Russia and other countries expire.

Hitherto Russian wheat has paid a duty of 3½ marks. In future it will pay from 5 to 6½ marks. Cattle and horses will also be subjected to much heavier taxation, but these will affect Austria and the United States much more than Russia.

It is the wheat tax which will hit Russia so hard, and which will undoubtedly call forth from M. De Witte a very stiff counter duty upon a multitude of cheap manufactured goods, with which Germany floods Russia, just as she does other countries.

M. De Witte will probably hit back very hard, all the more so as Russia has done so much to build up an immense grain trade with Germany. The diminution of such trade will inflict a very heavy blow upon the carrying trade which is necessary to the prosperity of the daily increasing railroad system of the empire.

Then Germany will find counter tariffs imposed upon her manufactures, particularly upon the various small things which are such large financial resources such as purses, celluloid collars, shirt-fronts and a thousand other things sold chiefly in second rate shops all over Russia.

The new or 3½ does not, it is said, go into operation until the month of December, 1903, so that there is plenty of time for the two countries to try to arrange some modus vivendi.

In the meantime the outlook is as bad as possible, and not only applies to Russia, but to Germany's allies, Austria and Italy, and in a marked degree to the United States.

KILLED IN A RIOT IN OHIO.

Cambridge, Ohio, July 29.—One man dead, one dying, another probably fatally hurt and a fourth man with the back of his head crushed in. This, with the threatened lynching of a negro is the result of a free-for all fight yesterday at King's mines, a short distance from Black Top mine, where a riot between Hungarian and Finnish miners occurred Saturday. The dead man is Great Taylor. The injured:

Joe Reedon, shot twice in the bowels, one bullet going through the body.

Melvin Sheldon, shot in the throat.

All the other men are white. Busby was arrested and is in jail here. He was saved from lynching by quick work by the sheriff. He is blamed for the trouble. Taylor and his wife had been warned to leave the neighborhood. Mack Sheldon met Busby near the company's store yesterday and after a few words Busby knocked him down with a stone. Melvin Sheldon and Reedon quickly appeared, but Busby ran to his home and armed himself, threatening to shoot anyone trying to get him. Taylor, walking along the street, made a remark to Sheldon and Reedon and all three drew revolvers and began firing. Sheldon and Reedon fell to the ground fatally wounded. The prompt work of the sheriff and his deputies saved Busby from being lynched. All is now quiet at Black Top and eight men are here in jail.

HOT AT WINAMAC.

(Dispatch from Winamac, Ind.)

For several weeks the residents of this quiet village on the banks of the Tippecanoe have been sweltering in the heat of a torrid zone. 'Squire A. R. Holliday and Major R. S. Rogers, two prominent citizens of this place, hung a thermometer in the branches of a large white oak in front of their place of business. They hung the thermometer where the torrid rays of the sun would strike it. The mercury rose slowly but steadily, until it reached the top. The pressure on the tube became so great that the tree gradually commenced to rise from the ground until its roots were released and the tree sailed away like a balloon, and disappeared in the far western horizon. "By gum, major," said the 'squire, "the darn newspapers will want our pictures."

AFFAIRS IN THE PHILIPPINES

TO FORM CONSTABULARY FOR ISLAND OF LEYTE.

General Chaffee Issues Orders That Correct Soldiers' Slovenliness of Attire.

Manila, July 29.—Major Henry Allen, of the Forty-third volunteers, who was some time since appointed governor of the island of Leyte, has been made chief of the native constabulary and will proceed with the organization of that force.

Captain Spellman, of the Forty-third has been sentenced to two years in prison for encouraging fighting at the cock pits.

General Chaffee has issued an order that the troops shall wear their coats buttoned everywhere outside of the barracks. The order discusses with the use of flannel shirts, which have heretofore been the customary outer garments. Officers are ordered to wear khaki for all duty and swords always when actively commanding. White or drees suits are permitted to be worn on social occasions.

Upon visiting the posts unexpectedly General Chaffee found an astonishing variety in the uniforms and a great laxness regarding the clothing of the troops.

Two native policemen have been killed in the suburbs of Cebu. Firing upon the town continues. Provost Davis is conducting an investigation.

The detectives employed in investigating the Santa Cruz robbery have found no definite clew nor have they learned the amount the thieves secured. It appears that the sergeant of the guard was intoxicated and that one sentry was detailed to guard the five entrances to the guardhouse.

Gen. Martin Delgado, governor of the island of Panay, has asked for aid in consequence of the ravages of locusts and the rinderpest.

Spanish residents of Manila are urging the Philippine commission to tax real property upon the basis of the income derived instead of upon its value. The discussion of the Manila charter continues. An investigation is pending in the case of Lieutenant McCarthy, of the Thirty-fifth regiment, because of the loss of $1,000 public money while being conveyed from Aparri to Manila.

WINONA CONVENTION ENDS.

Warsaw, Ind., July 29.—The five days' annual session of the Young People's Christian Union of the Presbyterian Churches of North America, at Winona Lake, closed last night. All services were of a religious character, the final work of the convention having been completed Saturday night, when, on recommendation of the general committee, the convention decided to hold biennial meetings instead of annual, the order to apply after the meeting of next year at Winona. Appropriate services yesterday morning Rev. W. W. White of Hazelton, N. D., recently returned from work in Calcutta, conducted the Sabbath school lesson. His class consisting of nearly the entire summer population of Winona. Immediately following Rev. H. M. Russell, D. D., delivered the convention sermon. Devotional services were held yesterday afternoon.

When followed a conference on "Work of Committees," conducted by Rev. J. A. Duff, of Chicago. Rev. E. E. Stewart, of Chicago, directed the conference on "Giving to God." These conferences are fixtures of these annual conventions, participated in by prominent pastors who attend and keep an eye on the work accomplished.

The final address, "A Missionary Message," was given by J. Campbell White, of Montclair, N. J., prominent in extending missionary work for the National Young Men's Christian association and who, as international field secretary, has just returned from five years' labor in India and Egypt. Most of the delegates left today.

WAS PLAYMATE OF A KING.

St. Joseph, Mo., July 29.—Death yesterday removed the seal from the lips of those who know the life history of Frederick G. Weddle, the former companion and playmate of King Christian of Denmark, who lived in retirement near St. Joseph for a quarter of a century. Exiled from his native land in 1850 with his father, who was an attache of the court of King Frederick VII. of Denmark and who was banished for political reasons, Frederick Weddle came to America, where his life was filled with hardships, with narrow escapes and exciting incidents. He was seventy-two years of age at the time of his death, having been born in the royal palace at Copenhagen in 1829. There he lived with his parents during early boyhood, his father being chief magistrate of the royal court, and, as such, the royal counsel of the king. Young Weddle was educated at court, where he was the playmate of King Christian IX., the present ruler of Denmark.

BOY IS ALMOST KIDNAPED.

Williamsport, Pa., July 29.—A bold attempt at kidnaping was made at Montoursville at 11 o'clock last night. James, the thirteen-year-old son of William Ebner, a hotel keeper, had gone to a shed for kindling wood and on his way back had reached a point near the side door of his home when he was seized by four men, who had been loitering about his father's hotel all evening. One of the men stuffed a huge wad of cotton into the boy's mouth, while the others pinioned his arms behind him. One of the kidnapers then hoisted the boy on his shoulders and the whole party started on a run for a strip of woods that led down to the river. James succeeded in getting the gag out of his mouth and shouted for help. Mr. Ebner heard the boy's cries. The men dropped the boy after a few shots had been fired. The boy heard the kidnapers say it was their intention to take him to a cave in the mountains and hold him for ransom.

DOWAGER EMPRESS VERY ILL.

Cronberg, July 29.—As a result of the visit of Prof. Renvers from Berlin it is officially announced that the condition of the Dowager Empress Frederick is not satisfactory. Her majesty has not left her apartments for a few weeks, and though medical bulletins have not yet been issued, they may soon be anticipated. Princess Henry of Prussia has been at the castle on a flying visit.

IN DEFENSE OF HIS FATHER

STATEMENTS MADE BY SON OF ADMIRAL SCHLEY.

Indicates Some of the Points Upon Which the Admiral Will Rely in the Inquiry.

Salt Lake, Utah, July 29.—The Herald today prints the following:

"Capt. Thomas T. Schley, elder son of Admiral Winfield S. Schley, who is stationed at Fort Douglas, in this city, yesterday uncorked some points that will be brought out in the court of inquiry as to his father's conduct at the battle of Santiago. He declared that some startling facts will be brought to light if the whole truth shall become known and that the reputations of persons other than his father are likely to suffer.

"'I have just written to my father,' said Captain Schley, 'that I thought he ought to spare nobody and that he should withhold none of the facts in his possession about Admiral Sampson or anybody else.'

"Captain Schley is an officer of the Twenty-third infantry, in command at Fort Douglas. Although he has not had a letter from his father since the court of inquiry was ordered, he is familiar with the questions at issue and pointed out some of the facts that will be urged in the admiral's defense.

"'When the court of inquiry meets,' said Captain Schley, 'I would like to have the privilege of asking Admiral Sampson just one question: "If the battle of Santiago had resulted in defeat, to whom would the blame be attached?" This, I think, tells the situation in a nutshell. If Admiral Schley had lost the battle he would have been blamed. He won it and he should have the credit.

"'The accusations that are made are ridiculous, when they are investigated. Take, for example, the charge of disobedience of orders in May, 1898. An attempt has been made to saddle the responsibility on my father. The fact is that he has a letter from Admiral Sampson telling him to do exactly what he did and this letter will be produced at the inquiry. At that time he was maintaining the blockade off Cienfuegos. Secretary Long wired Admiral Sampson, strongly advising that the blockade fleet go to Santiago, in the hope of finding the Spanish fleet there.

"'Admiral Sampson sent the dispatch to Admiral Schley with a note in which he said: "After duly considering this telegram I have decided to make no change in the present plan; that is, that you should hold your squadron off Cienfuegos." This letter was suppressed.'

"Regarding the maneuver of the Brooklyn at the time of the battle, Captain Schley says the facts all go to show that this was the best move under the circumstances. The part played by the Brooklyn in the battle certainly compares favorably with that of the New York, he thinks. 'If this inquiry is full and fair,' declared Captain Schley, 'some facts will be disclosed that will startle the public. My father has several strong cards up his sleeve and I trust he will make use of them all.'

"Captain Schley enlisted in the army in 1884 and was appointed a second lieutenant in the Twenty-third infantry seven years later. He has served with his regiment all through its campaigns in the Philippines, where he earned his captaincy. Since his return from the Philippines he has been stationed at Fort Douglas."

SKIN TORTURES

And all Forms of Itching Scaly Humours Instantly Relieved and Speedily

CURED BY CUTICURA.

Complete Treatment consists of CUTICURA SOAP, to cleanse the skin of crusts and scales and soften the thickened cuticle, CUTICURA OINTMENT, to instantly allay itching, irritation, and inflammation, and soothe and heal, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, to cool and cleanse the blood. A SINGLE SET is often sufficient to cure the most torturing, disfiguring, itching, burning, bleeding, scaly, crusted, and pimply skin, scalp, and blood humours, when all else fails.

Millions of People use Cuticura Soap, assisted by CUTICURA OINTMENT for beautifying the skin, for cleansing the scalp, and stopping of falling hair, for softening and whitening the hands, for baby itchings and rashes, in baths for annoying irritations and chafings, or too free or offensive perspiration, for many sanative, antiseptic purposes which suggest themselves to women and mothers, and for all the purposes of the toilet, bath, and nursery.

AS TO TOBACCO USING.

To the Editor of The Sentinel:—The writer read with no little degree of pleasure an article in your Saturday's issue and the arguments used by a lecturer against the use of tobacco, and when a user of the weed tried to convince him by Biblical quotations that its use was harmless, the lecturer's timely reply. It impressed your subscriber with the similarity of an incident in which he and Rev. Updike, at that time pastor of the West Jefferson street Church of Christ, were the principal actors, and how the most simple incidents entering one's life may be the means of causing the change of a trait or habit. One evening, about seven years ago, the writer and Rev. Updike had attended the Masonic lodge meeting and upon leaving the hall the writer took a chew of tobacco. Mr. Updike, noting it, said: "Do you mean to put that vile stuff in your mouth and chew it?" Thinking to crush him and at the same time quote scriptures, the reply was made that it was not that which entered a man's mouth that defiled him, but what came out. He then said, "Well, if that is true, why don't you swallow it instead of spitting it out on the street?"

The cure was effective and from that day to this tobacco chewing has found no friend in me.

Respectfully,
A Subscriber.

HORSE IS MISSING.

Frank Edmunds, of the Edmunds Construction company, reports the loss of his speedy bay horse. The animal was tethered back of the Edmunds residence, but last evening he managed to break the rope and when last seen was galloping across the golf links at about a 1:59 gait.

ADVICE AND A PRECEDENT.

(South Bend Times.)

Judge Samuel M. Hench, a lawyer and bachelor, wants to supplant James M. Robinson as congressman from the Twelfth district. The latter has been elected three times and wants to be elected for the fourth time. The suggestion has been made that Judge Hench's chances would be enhanced by getting married. A more effective method of enlisting marriageable women in Hench's cause would be to have it understood that he is in the market and that he will be prepared to take upon himself the yoke after his nomination and election. That's the way Jimmy Robinson did it, and it worked splendidly in his case.

A stray horse and wagon were picked up by the police last night and stabled at Rippe's barn, on Broadway.

The Withington handle factory, which was closed for repairs to machinery for a week or two, resumed full operations last week. The company has been unable to secure teams sufficient to bring in logs as fast as needed, but the farmers are now offering their services in that way and no more trouble on that score is apprehended. During the first year of the shops in this city they were in operation 300 days, which is considered a good record in that industry.

FINED FOR PROFANITY.

William E. Cohagen was the only representative at police court this morning and after considerable skirmishing for a judge he was finally placed on trial. The charge against him was profanity and the affidavit was made by Captain Stoll, of the Pennsylvania police department. Cohagen, it appears, was riding down Calhoun street on his wheel and was stopped at the Pennsylvania crossing by closed gates. In remounting his wheel collapsed and the language indulged in by the young man, as testified to by Captain Stoll and two other disinterested witnesses, was not the same as he had heard at his Sunday school lesson yesterday morning. The crossing watchman was roundly cussed, according to the testimony, and altogether there was quite a display of vocal pyrotechnics. In his own behalf Cohagen testified that he had no recollection of being profane and was quite certain that he had not shot any hot language at the watchman. Judge Louttit said he disliked to assess a fine in a case like the one presented, but as the preponderance of evidence was all on the side of the state, he felt obliged to assess a nominal fine at least. Eleven dollars all told is what was assessed against the young man and he made satisfactory arrangements for its payment.

The capacity of the Tobey Glove and Mitten company, on Mechanic street, is to be doubled within a short time, and the force of operatives increased to sixty persons. The company manufactures canvas gloves and has been unable to keep up with its orders.

This year's appropriation for the diplomatic and consular service of the United States is $1,340,000, or one-third of what the new agricultural department costs, one-half the sum appropriated for the expenses of the city of Washington and one-sixth of the appropriation for the nation's wards, the surviving Indians. The United States expends less for its consular and diplomatic service than any other country of the first class.

The lock-step has been abolished at Blackwell's Island, the famous New York city prison. Now if the officials will kindly abolish the door-lock the convicts will have about all they desire.

There appears the operation of mighty good common sense in the effort to get the steel strike issues again in conference between the Amalgamated association board and the officers of the big steel combine.

The most prompt and most thorough way to settle the water question will be by long odds the cheapest way. However, the cost of settling the question rightly is not a desideratum so long as public money is spent without waste.

Admiral Sampson says he has no word of criticism to utter against Admiral Schley or the conduct of the Brooklyn in the Santiago fight. But he did read and approve what Maclay had written, which was to say that it was in substance what he would have written if he had been writing the matter himself.

Undoubtedly the people of the United States would for the credit of their own nation like to see Neely brought to trial and his innocence completely established. Next to that and for the same reason they would like to see him brought to trial and properly punished if guilty, though of that matter opinions do not much differ. The honor of the nation in this case is of more concern than the punishment of a rascal.

The South Bend Times justifiably exults as follows: "The water supply in a number of towns and cities of this country is insufficient and otherwise unsatisfactory. In this particular South Bend is especially favored. Here we have water in abundance and of a quality that approaches par excellence. It can during the hottest season be drank with a relish without being iced. It is clear as crystal and very palatable. Our people have every reason to consider themselves blessed in the matter of pure water."

RACING YACHTS, OLD AND NEW.

Next to the two big sloops, Constitution and Columbia, the most conspicuous of the hundreds of yachts participating in the cruise of the New York Yacht club this week is the old schooner America. It was this vessel that crossed the ocean fifty years ago and defeated the English yachts at Cowes so decisively that "there was no second." Of course, the America's racing days were over long since, but for purposes of cruising she is as good as ever she was. The same can certainly not be said of the more modern racing yachts. It is true that the big fleet also includes the old Mayflower and the Vigilant, while the Columbia, which was brand new two years ago, is still serving a useful purpose as a trial horse for the Constitution.

But recollecting the fate of the Defender and her opponent, the Valkyrie III., both of which were sold for junk after they had finished racing, it is apparent that the racing machine of 1901 is extremely short-lived as compared with the all-around yacht of 1851. In securing greater speed yacht designers have made giant strides forward in half a century, but in many other respects they have gone backward, though of course not they, but the yachtsmen who insist upon having speed at the sacrifice of all else, are to blame for this.

And there is another strong point that can be made against the modern racing yacht in addition to its lack of utility. After this year's experiences no one can very well doubt that it is an exceedingly dangerous machine, and that the men who sail aboard it take chances more or less desperate. It was not a mere coincidence that every one of the big yachts of this year—Constitution, Columbia, Independence and Shamrock II.—should have suffered some accident while racing. The real coincidence lies in the fact that all of them were lucky enough to escape without loss of life. But that kind of good fortune cannot always be counted upon. "Death literally hovers over all the big sloops while they are under sail," says John R. Spears, the well known expert, in an article in Collier's Weekly.

According to Mr. Spears and to others who take the same view, it has all come about by the desire to save weight and increase the spread of canvas in order to gain speed, and the prediction is now made that this year will see the end of racing between such marine monstrosities. If a more rational and less dangerous type of racing craft is adopted the interest in yacht racing will be in no way lessened, and at the same time the undesirable elements of extravagance and danger will be removed.

THE DAILY GRIND

Many Cut Off in Early Manhood and Womanhood on Account of Neglecting to Keep Vitality on the High Water Mark.

In the factories and workshops, at the offices and stores—yes, and in the homes, too, people are being ground to death by the monotonous wear and tear of unceasing toil. Day after day, week in and week out, it is the same story of work and labor—of excessive toil and struggle without opportunity of recreation. In the summer, above all other times, the burden is heavy to bear, and many a victim falls by the way overcome by nervous exhaustion, heart failure and physical decline.

It is useless to talk of rest in the cooling breezes of some lake or ocean resort. The world's work must be done—the toiler must toil on. There is one method of replacing wasted nerve cells and building up the worn-out system, and that is by using Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills after each meal. They give vigor and tone to the system and prevent exhaustion and prostration—they befriend working people by making them strong and well, giving new hope, new confidence and stronger determination to succeed. The wonderful medicinal power of this great medicine is demonstrated in thousands of cases where the wasting process has been stopped and health restored by its use.

Mrs. M. Holzworth, of No. 285 Webster street, Fort Wayne, Ind., says: "My nerves since I took Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills I got at Meyer Bros. & Co.'s drug store, No. 14 Calhoun street, are strong and steady and I sleep well. This is quite a change from past restlessness and inability to sleep and I am very much pleased. The strength in general is good again. The medicine certainly is a good nerve and all round tonic."

A VICTIM OF ACID

MUNCIE WOMAN DISFIGURED AND INSANE.

MRS. TOREY'S AWFUL FATE

THE FEARFUL DEED OF A REJECTED SUITOR.

A FEUD ENDS IN MURDER

GENERAL NEWS OF THE STATE OF INDIANA.

Muncie, Ind., July 29.—Blinded by carbolic acid, thrown in her face by a rejected suitor, Mrs. May Torey aged 40 years, was rendered a maniac last night. Before being crazed from the awful pain the woman stated that Peter Tillbury, age 42, committed the crime because she refused to marry him. The woman's face, arms and breast were frightfully burned, and besides being made blind, the terrible agony the woman suffered has driven her insane. Tillbury has been paying attention to Mrs. Torey for some time, but his suit for her hand in marriage was unsuccessful. He called last night, but she would not see him. He returned later and found the woman sitting in the yard in evening dress. Without warning, it is said, he drew forth a bottle and threw part of the contents into her face, and then poured the remaining contents onto her arms and chest. Mrs. Tory's condition is critical. Tillbury, who is employed by the United States Iron company, fled immediately after committing the crime, and has not been captured. Feeling against him is intense and violence is threatened.

FUED ENDS IN MURDER.

Bedford, Ind., July 29.—Nelson Fritz shot and killed John Beasley, aged 34 years, three miles west of this city, at 8 o'clock yesterday morning. The trouble originated over the throwing of stones at each other by their sons. Beasley took up his boy's side of the trouble, this action resulting in a fight by the two men, as the outcome of which Beasley was killed. The victim was shot through the head with a revolver and through the stomach with a charge from a shotgun. It is not known at this time who used the pistol and who the gun, but it is apparent from all facts at hand that the weapons were fired by two persons, supposed to be Fritz and his son.

Fritz escaped and Sheriff Frank Smith is in hot pursuit. Three other officers, Tenford, Stone and ex-Sheriff Holmes, left at 3 o'clock to aid in Fritz's capture, which, it is believed, will be made soon. Great excitement exists and Fritz's family left their home at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon in a wagon going south, having become alarmed and fearing to remain there over night.

FINE NEW CATHOLIC CHURCH.

Elwood, Ind., July 29.—A crowd estimated at 8,000 people attended the dedication of the new St. Joseph's church in this city yesterday. Of this number probably one-half came on the special trains from half a dozen surrounding cities. The dedication services took place at high mass at 10 o'clock. Right Rev. H. J. Alerding, bishop of the Fort Wayne diocese, preached the sermon, and was assisted by priests from a number of places. Rev. Urban Foley, of Louisville, Ky., was celebrant of the first mass. Very Rev. B. Kroeger, dean of Logansport district; Very Rev. John Diemen, dean of Lafayette district, and Rev. J. H. Bathe, chancellor of the Fort Wayne diocese, were in attendance. In the afternoon there was a parade, in which Elwood, Anderson and Muncie bands, Catholic Knights of St. John, Foresters, Ancient Order of Hibernians, zouaves and other uniformed bodies from Fort Wayne, Muncie, Richmond, Kokomo, Anderson, Michigan City and other places took part. The new church cost $50,000.

MURDER IN A BERRY PATCH.

Salem, Ind., July 29.—While picking berries in a blackberry patch on the Wilcox farm, in Jefferson township, George McKinney and Henry Huddleston, tenants, quarreled, and McKinney was shot dead with a bullet through the back, while he was not looking for an attack. Huddleston telephoned to this city that he was coming to surrender to the sheriff, but instead he borrowed a horse and disappeared in the direction of Tunnelton. Mrs. McKinney witnessed the tragedy.

RAIN SAVES INDIANA CORN.

Laporte, Ind., July 29.—The drouth in northern Indiana was broken yesterday by a heavy fall of rain. Reports received here are to the effect that the rain will save the corn crop, which it was feared would be a total failure. In hundreds of churches in this section of the state prayers were offered yesterday for rain, and in a number of village churches the communicants held all day services of supplication for the breaking of the drouth.

FATE AGAINST HIM.

Frankfort, Ind., July 29.—Charles Arnold, of Rockville, and Mrs. William Stillwell, widow, near Mellott, were betrothed in marriage and the day was set. The bride-elect lives in the corner of three counties and when Mr. Arnold applied to the clerk of Parke county he was informed that she resided in Montgomery county. Then he went to Crawfordsville, only to be informed that he should have applied at Covington, Fountain county. This necessitated a postponement of the marriage until he could reach Covington. Another day was set, but upon taking the train for Veedersburg, to change at Mellott, the engine broke down and he was disappointed in making connection. By this time Arnold was well-nigh exhausted owing to the heat and worry in procuring a license and upon tendering the conductor his ticket on the Clover Leaf line, and telling him that he wanted to alight at Mellott, he fell asleep and was carried miles beyond his destination. Liverymen refused to make the drive owing to the intense heat, and there was nothing but to await the departure of the next train. Meanwhile the enraged bride-elect was using the wire, and before starting for Mellett he received a telegram that she had called off the engagement. Mr. Arnold is now endeavoring to readjust matters, failing in which he will sue the Clover Leaf railway for $20,000 damages.

FLAMES DESTROY BIG FARM.

Dublin, Ind., July 29.—The farm of Charles Gilliard, near Liberty, was the scene of a big fire. Thrashers were winding up work, when the dry stubble caught fire. All the implements were totally destroyed and eighty bushels of wheat. The entire neighborhood was called to fight the fire, which quickly spread, endangering the district. After four hours the flames were checked. Miss Lizzie Wills was frightened so badly she will lose her mind. Her father, Charles Wills, was severely burned, and Charles Gillard was prostrated by the heat and is now in a serious condition. Pasture fields west of Dublin yesterday caught fire from a passing train. The entire town was in danger of being consumed. The fire department was called out to extinguish the flames.

ARREST CAUSING SURPRISE.

Noblesville, Ind., July 29.—Dr. Thomas O. Redden, a well known physician of this county, was arrested Saturday night on a warrant charging him with criminally assaulting Mrs. Walter Boyd, of Joliettville. He was released on $500 bond, and his preliminary hearing is set for August 1. The alleged crime is said to have been committed last November, while the prosecuting witness was being treated by the defendant. A warrant was then issued, but the doctor left the county, returning only recently. Owing to the prominence of the principals, the matter has aroused general attention.

A SHORT STORY

HOPES FULFILLED.

After the rain, then the sunshine again;
After the night the dawn.
And a sweet release and abiding peace
After the pain has gone.
But ever and over this lesson stern
The fickle and careless old world must learn:
Under the beauty and bloom of the rose,
In hiding, the sharp, cruel thorns repose.

He only knows of the sweetness that flows
From nature's purest rills
Who, weary, mounts to the life giving fountain
Far up among the hills.
But over and over this lesson stern
The fickle and careless old world must learn:
Under the beauty and bloom of the rose,
In hiding, the sharp, cruel thorns repose.

After the fear and the sad, bitter tear,
Cometh the hope fulfilled;
After the climb, then the prospect sublime,
As the Good Father willed.
But over and over this lesson stern
The fickle and careless old world must learn:
Under the beauty and bloom of the rose,
In hiding, the sharp, cruel thorns repose.

LADY LIGHTFINGERS.

By M. Quad.

Copyright, 1901, by C. B. Lewis.

The start of the whole matter was the lodging of a complaint at Scotland Yard by a well known jeweler doing business on the Strand. He had missed two diamond rings from a tray he had been exhibiting to several lady customers, but unfortunately for him the gems had been gone an hour perhaps before he knew that deft fingers had purloined them under his very eyes. He could recall the names of four or five ladies, and he headed the list with the name of a marquis' wife, but the inspector on duty might well smile and turn away at that. Had the jeweler not been in such a perturbed state of mind he would never have included that name. Indeed, before he left the place he apologized, partly to himself, for having given any names at all, as it was utterly absurd to suspect any of the owners of having taken the rings. He seemed to feel it a duty to report his loss, however, and after being quietly advised to have an eye on his employees and unknown customers he was dismissed with the promise that the matter would be looked into. As a matter of fact, no assignment was made on the case. Some flash chap had "lifted" the jewels without even his call being remembered, and it was no use to hunt for a needle in a haystack.

It wasn't three days before another case was reported by another Strand jeweler. This time it was a diamond sunburst, and he was positive that he had shown it to only three ladies before he missed it. He was reluctant to give the names, but when pressed to do so that of the marquis' wife again headed the list. The others were almost as far above suspicion, and the inspector looked at the complainant in a way to make him feel like a culprit. This time I was put on the case, but I shall be honest enough to say that it was a mere matter of form. It was more than any official's head was worth even to hint that one of the three ladies mentioned might have carried the ornament away in a moment of absentmindedness.

It was about five days after this that the third case was reported. This time a jeweler had lost a pair of valuable diamond earrings, and he had to be hard pressed by the inspector before he would admit that the loss was detected almost immediately after the marquis' wife had left the store. She had greatly admired the ornaments and had partly decided to purchase them at a later date. Not for one instant, not on his life, did the jeweler suspect the lady of title of even taking the jewel away in a fit of abstraction, but somehow he felt it his duty to report the case. The inspector didn't bluff this third tradesman quite as heavily as he had the first and second, and he looked grave and thoughtful when I was given the case and he related particulars. I was told to go my own way about it, but if I made a blunder Scotland Yard would see me no more as a detective. That wasn't at all encouraging, you see, but I had to go ahead and make a start. Much to my surprise, after thinking the matter over I came to the conclusion that the marquis' wife might possibly be guilty of shoplifting. The idea almost took my breath away at the first go off, but when I came to recall the many rumors about the marquis being a gambler, hard up, a man of miserish habits at home, and so forth, there looked to be something in it from a detective's standpoint.

The lady was well known to me by sight. She was past 45, much faded, and her face always carried a fretful, worried look. I simply waited until she appeared on the street in her carriage, as if bound on a shopping tour, and then followed her. It was a week after the third case was reported that she came out, and she went directly to a Bond street jeweler's. I followed her into the store, where she was known and received with great servility, and when a tray of jewelry was placed before her I felt sure that the next half hour would clear her of all suspicion or complicate the case still further. Her manner was that of lofty condescension. She slowly and languidly inspected the jewels, and now and then the proprietor of the store, who was waiting upon her in person, had his attention attracted for the moment elsewhere. My lady finally decided to call again and was bowed out, and she was hardly clear of the door when I revealed my identity to the jeweler and asked him to be sure that there was nothing missing from the tray. He was at first inclined to administer a snub, but when he found the finest ring of the lot conspicuously absent he almost fell over in a faint. There was no room to doubt that the lady had "lifted" it, but that only made the case worse in a way. For a tradesman and a detective to charge a lady of quality with shoplifting was as bad as treason against the crown. A mere word would bring financial ruin upon the jeweler, and he was ready to stand the loss ten times over rather than speak it.

Twice more within the next fortnight I followed the lady into jewelry establishments and morally convicted her of shoplifting. This made six cases in all, and, no matter how the victims felt, we of the Yard were quite determined that something ought to be done. I had been on the staff for ten years, and my work had given good satisfaction, but I was selected as a sacrifice. I mean by that that I was ordered to secure an interview with the lady, inform her of my discoveries and take the consequences. I must take all the burden on myself and clear the Yard. There could be but one ending, and before making my call my resignation was written out, and I had arranged to go with a private agency. One morning I appeared at the residence of the marquis and boldly asked for my lady on important business. I was kept waiting until she was satisfied that I was neither a process server nor a creditor and was then admitted to the presence of a very slipshod looking woman who showed me scant courtesy when she said:

"Well, sir, you are here, and now what is it?"

"It's about the jewelry, my lady," I replied.

"What do you mean?"

"The finger rings from Black's, the sunburst from Brown's, the earrings from Green's. You carried them away and forgot to return them."

My lady's face went white as snow, and she gasped for breath, and I expected to see her faint away. By a tremendous effort she pulled herself together, and as the color came back to her cheeks she hissed at me:

"You dog, you! The marquis shall see that you get your just deserts! Leave the house at once!"

I left, and within an hour the marquis was at the Yard to say that he would uproot the whole system if I was not promptly bounced and an apology rendered. The Yard apologized, I was bounced, and my lady had a story for her friends about attempted blackmail. There were no more thefts, however, and as a private detective I even recovered some of the stuff from the shops where my lady's maid had pledged them to raise cash for her mistress.

"Sweating" Bees.

The process known as "sweating" is not confined to human beings. It is applied to bees by some up to date keepers.

The natural tendency of the bee to work and its great dislike to idleness are made use of to the fullest extent. Honey is a product that yields a good profit, so the beekeeper brings the flowers as near as may be to the hive and induces his insect gatherers to work hard to collect the honey from them.

An expert beekeeper gives the following idea of what they will do. Seventy-five acres of land planted with white clover or sanfoin will keep 100 hives busy during the three summer months. The yield of honey for each fine day is ten pounds per acre, and as the plant flowers twice and remains in bloom for a week very often the total yield is 10,000 pounds.

Combmaking is lighter and less dangerous work than gathering honey, so the young bees usually perform this task. But the keeper wants them all to work and work hard, so he provides the base of the comb in natural size and pure wax. That leaves less work to be done at home, and the bees go out immediately there is nothing more for them to do inside. The keeper also takes care to constantly empty the combs, so that the bees shall always be laboring to fill it.—London Standard.

A Tired Man.

Once there was a man who complained constantly because it required so much toil for him to make a living. He declared that he would rather be buried than work for a living, and so his neighbors started out to gratify his wish. A stranger, seeing them about to entomb a living man, inquired why they were doing so. On being told that the man complained of having to work for a living and preferred to be buried, the stranger's heart was moved, and he offered to give the complaining man ten bushels of corn. "Is it shelled?" asked the discontented soul, and when informed it was not he remarked, "Well, then, let the burial proceed."

THE TALE OF A DOG.

A TRUTHFUL NARRATIVE OF CANINE TENACITY AND SAGACITY.

As the Story of the Feat Was Related by a Preacher Who Was a Party to the Incident No Further Testimony Is Necessary.

A certain Nashville statesman is about one of the best story tellers in Tennessee, and his repertoire includes a lot of good ones, fish and otherwise. On the truthfulness of some he will stake his reputation for veracity, but he tells one which he always prefaces with the statement that it was told him by a minister of the gospel, Dr. Bardwell, who will be remembered here by the older inhabitants as the assistant of Dr. Edgar of revered memory, who was pastor of the First Presbyterian church during the latter years of General Andrew Jackson's life and attended the old hero in his last illness. The story teller said:

"Dr. Bardwell used to visit my father's house when I was a boy, and the story I am about to tell you was related to me on the occasion of one of these visits. We were out on the veranda smoking one evening after supper. The doctor was fond of dogs and was a pretty good sportsman and naturally the conversation turned on this subject.

"'Speaking of dogs,' said Dr. Bardwell, 'reminds me of a dog which belonged to a friend of mine in Mississippi. I had been invited to hold services at a church near this friend's house and wrote him to meet me at the station, some six miles from his house, on the Saturday afternoon before Sunday, the day of the appointment.

"'He was on time with horses, and we started to his home. I noticed that a very handsome bird dog followed us, and, having heard that some one in that neighborhood owned an especially well trained trick dog, I asked my friend about it.

"'"That's the dog," at the same time pointing at his dog, which had run ahead of us and was waiting at the forks of the road.

"'I asked him to make him perform a trick. He got down from his horse, called the dog and, taking out his pocketbook, held it to the dog's nose. He then took out a silver half dollar and, walking some distance into the woods, raised up a large rock and put the money under it. We then resumed our journey, and when probably half a mile away my friend called his dog and told him to go back and get the money.

"'The dog, without the least hesitation, started back on a run, and, my friend explained, as the rock was heavy the dog would be unable to turn it over, so would have to scratch under it to reach the piece of money, and he would not probably get home before we reached there. It then being about three miles further on to his house.

"'However, when we reached home the dog was not there. We ate supper, and still the dog did not come, nor had he put in an appearance when we retired at about 10 o'clock.

"'The next morning we got up about daylight, and, hearing a noise outside, my friend opened the door, and the dog rushed in dragging with him a pair of pantaloons, which he dropped on the floor.

"'Of course we were both mystified, but had not long to wait an explanation, for shortly afterward a man who lived several miles from my friend's house rode up on a mule and inquired if a dog with a pair of pantaloons in his mouth had come into the house. The dog at this moment came out on the porch, and the man said: "Why, there's the dog now."

"'My friend told his caller that the dog had really brought a pair of pantaloons home with him, but he did not understand it himself.

"'The man said that late in the afternoon the day before he found the dog scratching under a large rock near the road and, thinking he was after a rabbit, stopped and lifted the rock up, and, to his surprise, found a half dollar on the underside.

"'He put the money in his pocket, and the dog followed him home. The dog appeared to be friendly, and the man petted him and gave him his supper. At night when the family retired the dog was put on the outside, but he kept up such a racket that none could sleep on the place, and when the man opened the door to drive the dog off he rushed into his bedroom and at once became very quiet, lying down near the foot of the bed, where he slept all night.

"'Early in the morning, the man said, he got up and opened the window, and the instant he did so the dog seized his pantaloons in his mouth and, jumping out of the window, fled.

"'The man followed as soon as he could get his mule.

"'Hearing this story, my friend got the pantaloons and on searching the pockets found the half dollar which he had hid under the rock the afternoon before.'"—Nashville Banner.

Figs.

After figs have been collected they are dipped in boiling brine and then dried on trays for from two to four days, according to the weather. The dipping is supposed to bring the sugar to the surface and hasten the drying. After being dried the figs are placed in "sweat boxes," holding 2,000 pounds each, where they remain for two weeks. Then they are washed in cold salt water to remove all dirt and are packed by women and girls in half pound, one pound and ten pound boxes in layers, being split preliminarily with a short bladed knife.

the southwest has attracted so much attention as this one—the initiation of a new method of disposing of government lands. One hundred and sixty-seven thousand persons, each with one chance in thirteen of winning a homestead, watched the event here or at a distance, for the applicants come from every state in the union.

The drawing took place on a platform built for the purpose in the open air a few blocks from the center of El Reno. Situated at the foot of several small hills which formed a perfect amphitheater, the platform was the cynasure of thousands of eyes. People occupied every inch almost of the space around about and every movement of the government officials on the small space below was watched with the most intense interest.

El Reno yesterday cared for fully 15,000 people, and the trains that came in during the night and morning doubled the number. Hundreds of others are still bound this way.

Sunday was spent quietly, but as night came on and the hour for the actual drawing approached, men and women, many of whom had waited patiently for months for the morrow's event, or had come thousands of miles at the last moment to participate in it, became anxious. Worn out with days of hardships and nights of poor accommodations, they were keyed to a high tension, but all were hopeful and each seemed confident that his would prove a lucky number.

Hundreds remained awake, walking the streets or vainly gazing at the drawing platform, and discussing again and again the merits of the particular claim on which they intended filing. Many slept on the ground around the platform, to be certain of an advantageous position when the first number should be called out at 9 o'clock, or to remain perhaps until 6 o'clock in the evening when the last of the 1,000 envelopes to be drawn today should have been picked from the wheels.

The government clerks finished the task of placing the envelopes of the applicants and of tying them in bundles ready to be placed in the wheels, which had been tested for the last time yesterday afternoon. The only detail that remained was the selection of ten persons who should perform the actual drawing of the envelopes. These were chosen from a lot of boys of good families and were named at the last moment. They were all under age and, consequently, not registered for claims. The weather was cloudy, but pleasant.

It was announced that in tabulating the registration it was found that more than 2,000 "repeaters" had registered at the various booths, many giving the identical name, address and personal description. These were thrown out and the applicants were not even given the one chance to which they were originally entitled. Besides this it is reported on good authority that the registration office threw out hundreds of applications because of illegible writing.

SUNDAY SHOWS STOPPED.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 29.—Attempt of the midway shows to open for business yesterday was a failure. The first show to announce that it was ready for business was the Indian congress. In front of the concession were two of the directors of the concern, and their attorneys. Captain Dagmar, of the exposition police force, notified them to close, which they did under protest. Later another attempt was made to open the show. Linen pipes are driven into the asphalt pavement by the police department. From the pipes a rope was stretched in the form of a square, which completely blocked the entrance to the Indian congress. The commissioner then ordered the ticket sellers to desist. Several other shows opened their doors for a few minutes, but were closed by the police.

DOOMED MAN SHOT DOWN.

Monticello, Fla., July 29.—Simon Williams, condemned to death for the murder of Deputy Sheriff Hawkins and sentenced to hang August 8, made a dash for liberty yesterday afternoon. After a desperate fight, in which Deputy Sheriff P. H. Kilpatrick was badly wounded by Williams with his own pistol, the negro fled, but was shot to death. Officer Kilpatrick's wound is in the groin. His condition is critical.

MEET FOR SOCIAL UNION.

Indianapolis, July 29.—The socialist unity convention met here today. J. W. Kelly, of Marion, Ind., acted as temporary chairman. Delegates were present from various socialistic organizations of the country. The purpose of the convention is to unite all elements not disagreeing in vital principles into one party for work in the next presidential campaign. The two leading factions of socialists are known as the De Leonists, or social labor party, of New York state, and the Debs element.

ACTIVITY NEAR PANAMA.

Kingston, Jamaica, July 29.—Newspaper reports received here from Panama assert that the insurgents are operating in large numbers in the vicinity of the city and that an order has been issued by the government calling upon the citizens to concentrate in order to repel attacks and to protect property. Panama is guarded from the sea by a gunboat. According to the same source of information the government is exercising the strictest precautions to prevent news of development leaking out.

ABOUT THE CITY HALL.

The board of works will meet with the committee on parks, the mayor and the city attorney this evening to consider the protest of the Misses Swinney against the use of Swinney park for picnic purposes by different societies, as authorized by the mayor. The city pays to the said heirs the sum of $600 annually for the use of the grounds and besides pays all the city and county taxes and all assessments against the Swinney homestead, so that the surrender of the heirs' rights to the grounds is not entirely a gratuity, as many people believe. The late Thomas Swinney in his will provided that the entire property known as Swinney park, including the homestead, should become the absolute property of the city in fee simple subject to certain conditions. These conditions were principally that the testator's children, but not their assigns or heirs, should have a life tenancy on the said property. In 1893 the Misses Swinney and William P. Swinney, then living, entered into an agreement and lease with the city for the use of the grounds prior to the time contemplated in the will of the testator. The lease became effective June 1, 1893, and was for a period of thirty years, with a privilege of twenty more years, should any of the parties of the first part be still living at that time. The conditions are very pointed, and after exempting the portion, 250 by 300 feet, known as the "homestead," and providing that the city shall pay all taxes and assessments on the whole tract, embrace the following express stipulation: "Which shall be used as a public park and pleasure ground and place of resort for social meetings of all classes and orders, not conflicting with public morality, on condition that the city shall permit no nuisances of any kind on the grounds; that no beer or other intoxicants shall be sold thereon; that no cannonading or firing of anvils shall be permitted; that no ball playing on the Sabbath shall be permitted and that the city shall at all times keep a park policeman in day time and at night time employed on the premises and that said policeman shall protect the residence against annoyance by tramps, loafers and other objectionable characters." There are other conditions relating to the removal of gravel and the keeping in order of certain portion of the plat, but none that in any wise curtail the rights of the city to use the park for respectable purposes.

Similar complaints have heretofore been made by the heirs. The city has expended many thousands of dollars in beautifying the property for such uses as it is being put to, and Mayor Berghoff says he proposes to find out whether the city has a park or whether it has none. If it can not use the park according to the terms of the agreement made with the heirs in 1893 he believes it time to stop putting any improvements into it. The committees tonight will try to solve the problem.

LOCAL NEWS.

Miss Sterling, of 24 West Fourth street, was the guest of Miss Hunter over Saturday.

Miss Frances Rose Ellis, of Kendallville, is the guest of Mrs. J. Imler, of 18 Monroe street.

John Polhamus, who has been at Petoskey in the interest of S. F. Bowser & Co., is at home for a brief vacation.

The Haberkorn-Hailey company has taken out a permit to erect a brick factory on Grant avenue to cost $3,000.

The fire department was called out for two grass fires last evening—the first at 7:35 o'clock in the White addition on Glasgow avenue, and at 8:15 p. m. along the Nickel Plate and Lake Erie tracks in Nebraska.

The Misses Surfus entertained at a conundrum party Saturday evening in honor of the Misses Mommer and Monahan. First prize in the conundrum contest was awarded to Miss Maude Howey and the consolation to Opha Carnahan. The evening was delightfully spent in games and music, the Misses Anna Surfus and Margery Monahan giving a cake walk, while Miss Mommer officiated at the piano. Cake and cream were served.

STEEL OFFICIALS SILENT.

New York, July 29.—The officials of the steel companies now here preserve silence as to the conference of Saturday between the leaders on either side of the strike, and the possibility of a settlement. It is believed, however, that the terms of peace outlined on Saturday will be ratified by the executive board of the Amalgamated association at Pittsburg on Tuesday, and that there will be an early resumption of work. Both sides are silent as to the terms of the new pact, but various claims of victory are being made in behalf of the strikers. On that point a man interested in the steel trade said to the Associated Press:

"Take some salt with those claims of victory. Wait until the new agreement is signed and its contents published before you award and decision as to gains on either side."

President Schwab was at his office as usual today, but declined to talk about the conference on the prospective settlement. J. Pierpont Morgan is believed to have gone to Bar Harbor.

REJOICE AT PEACE PROSPECT.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 29.—Pittsburgers generally express the greatest delight in anticipation of the settlement of the steel strike and no one seems to have the slightest doubt that the negotiations for peace will have any other result but a cessation of hostilities, a laying down of arms to take up the tools of trade.

So far neither of the contending forces have suffered greatly. The weather has been exceedingly hot and the men look upon the last month as a vacation during the heated term. Working under the severe strain of the oppressive heat lately would have been an unusual hardship at best, and the men think that on this account, perhaps, many lives have been saved by the strike.

BETTER FOR THE MILLS.

So far as the companies are concerned they are also in better position for work now than they were before the strike. Many of their mills have been repaired and the conditions for an increased output are greatly improved.

It is true that a computation of cold figures foots up a total loss of $6,516,000 on account of the strike, of which immense sum, $3,960,000 is charged to the combination and $2,556,000 to the strikers, but this loss will soon be made up owing to the better prices which now prevail and the improved operating conditions as well as the better feeling between the employer and employe.

IN GOOD HUMOR.

President Shaffer and Secretary Williams were both early at the Amalgamated headquarters this morning, and are in rare good humor. They still maintained their position of secrecy, however, and beyond admitting that a call had been sent out last night to all the members of the executive board for a meeting to be held in this city tomorrow morning refused to give any information as to the probable settlement of the strike. To all questions President Shaffer replied that he had nothing to say, but in a friendly talk of some length he conveyed the idea that newspaper men would little longer be following him and watching his movements. From this it is believed that Mr. Shaffer is satisfied that the executive board will agree to the proposition he will present. With the approval of his recommendations a joint meeting could be held and a settlement effected. The moment a common ground for negotiating such a question as this one is found, it is believed, there will be little difficulty in getting down to a general agreement, which will bring peace with it.

TRUST ANXIOUS TO SETTLE.

There remains little doubt but officials of the United States Steel corporation are now as anxious to have the big strike settled as are the strikers. During last week a number of contracts intended for and practically let to mills of the combine were shifted to independent mills with rush clauses attached. Independent mills have done much business booking orders in the last few weeks and they are reported to have been able to make their own terms. In many cases from $4 to $8 per ton above the prevailing market rates was offered by those anxious to have iron and steel without further delay. Under these conditions owners of the independent mills have bestirred themselves and are now running twenty-four hours a day with as many men as can be crowded about the furnaces and rolls. It was said yesterday that the Jones & Laughlins' interests had secured enough orders above the combine rates to keep them running far into the fall.

GUARD PROPOSED TERMS.

Terms of the prospective settlement are being carefully guarded by all parties concerned, but from a source believed to be reliable it is stated that Mr. Morgan proposes to permit the Amalgamated association to continue its union lodges in the mills that were non-union prior to the strike, but which went out on President Shaffer's strike order. In addition, it is said the Leechburg, Duncansville and Monessen plants are permitted to be unionized.

The United States Steel corporation is to be permitted to operate all of the mills of the Carnegie Steel company as they are now operated, as well as the big sheet mills at Apollo, Vandergrift and Saltsburg, provided the wages paid shall be on the same basis as in the mills where the union scale is signed.

A GAIN FOR WORKERS.

This would mean a gain for the workers' union of the following plants: Lindsay & McCutcheon, in Allegheny; Clark's Solar Iron works, Thirty-fifth street; Painter's, West Carson street, Wellsville, O.; W. Dowes Wood, at McKeesport, Pa.; Leechburg, Pa.; Duncanville, Pa., Mingo Junction, Pa.

There is considerable speculation as to who will take part in the joint peace conference, provided the terms as agreed upon at New York are satisfactory to the Amalgamated executive board. This board is composed of nine district vice presidents, the three trustees, President Shaffer, Secretary Williams, Assistant Secretary Tighee and B. I. Davis, manager of the Amalgamated Journal.

The American Tin Plate company will probably be represented by Vice President Warner Arms and W. M. Leeds, his assistant; Veryl Preston, former president of the American Steel Hoop company, and probably I. W. Jenks, former general manager of the hoop combine; John Warner, general superintendent of the American Sheet Steel company; C. W. Bray, chief engineer of the American Tin Plate company; J. B. Phillips, district manager of the same company, and P. E. Donner manager of the Monessen Tin Plate plant, may probably be called in.

NOT IN CONFERENCE.

Neither Persifer F. Smith, district manager of the American Sheet Steel company, nor John Jarrett, labor commissioner of the same company, are liable to appear. They have ruffled the feathers of the Amalgamated leaders so much before that it is not believed they will attend now.

Today the strike of the workers in all of the mills is proceeding as though nothing had happened. There was the same care taken in watching any attempt to open the mills now closed, and to prevent, if possible, the return of the men or the securing of non-union men from the plants of the companies still in operation.

The conditions are as they have been since the opening of hostilities. The strikers in the vicinity of McKeesport spent a night of great vigilance despite the rumors from New York that a truce had been declared until Tuesday between representatives of J. P. Morgan and President Shaffer, of the Amalgamated association. The works of the National Tube Plate works at Demmler was a storm center during the night. Rumors that the mills were to be opened by men brought from the independent mills at Monessen, Pa., brought the strikers to the banks of the Monongahela, where they remained on watch until long after midnight and then after three rousing cheers they went home. The outburst was caused by a movement on the part of the pipe fitters and mill wrights who have been at work fitting up the mills since the strike started.

TOLD TO GO HOME.

They finished their work about midnight and sent a message to the mill management asking what they should now do. The reply came thanking them for faithful work and telling them to go home and enjoy a vacation until the company needed them to start the mills. Then they would be sent for. This word was carried to the strikers who, much pleased at this positive evidence that no effort would be made to start the mill last night, withdrew. The strikers assert that an effort was to have been made to open the mills, but yesterday afternoon word was sent from the Pittsburg office that no move would be made until after Tuesday, when a decision of Mr. Morgan and the Amalgamated officials will be made known. The welders of the National Tube company's mill here, who have been ordered to sign individual contracts, held a secret meeting in a McKeesport hall Sunday night, where it is said arrangements were made to form a federation of labor lodge. The welders come under the federation mill and cannot become Amalgamated association members. All other newly formed lodges in the vicinity of McKeesport held meetings on Sunday and took in many new members. No efforts have been made to start the sheet mill of the Dewes Wood company at McKeesport.

WORKING AT WELLSVILLE.

The Wellsville plant was in operation today with the same number of mills running as last week. The strikers are orderly, but still vigilant, and early this morning captured unknown negroes claiming to be from Alabama. While they claimed to have knowledge of steel working and to be en route west, their stories conflicted with the inquiries made by the street railway men and they were taken across the river to the strikers' camp.

COMMITTEE MEETS TONIGHT

WATER SUPPLY QUESTION TO BE CONSIDERED.

The citizens' committee appointed by Chairman McCulloch, the committee appointed by the mayor, and the board of waterworks trustees will meet at the city hall this evening to organize and formulate a general plan for presenting the waterworks problem fairly and squarely to the public and the city officials and suggest a remedy or a means to prevent a recurrence of the conditions that have harrassed the people of the city every year. They will probably be gratified to learn from Clerk McDonald that the water in the reservoir this morning was up to the high water mark.

L. A. Centlivre is confident there is an abundance of water in the deep rock wells, and he is equally certain that the only method of getting it to the surface is by deep well pumps. "At the brewery," said Mr. Centlivre, "we can show you a Dowie deep well pump in operation delivering 320 gallons of water per minute to the fourth floor. We can also attach the fire hose to the street hydrant, and from a 1½ inch nozzle throw a stream of water over our flagstaff, which is eighty-five feet above the street."

WIRES TELL THE WEATHER.

There are no more reliable weather prophets anywhere than the telegraph wires that are now so common as to be "within the reach of everyone," as bargain counter hustlers express it. This novel discovery was made by a German physician in the following manner: As he was waiting for a train at a country station he heard a shrill sound, which was made by the wind as it passed through a network of nearby wires. At once the doctor remembered that he had frequently heard a similar sound either immediately before or after a storm or a heavy fall of rain or snow, and it naturally occured to him to try and ascertain whether there was any connection between the sound and such changes in the weather.

As a heavy shower of rain fell within forty-eight hours after he had heard the sound at the railroad station he concluded that there was such a connection, and he then determined to investigate the matter thoroughly. As a result he now maintains, first, that any unusual disturbance in the telegraph wires is an infallible indicator of bad weather, and, second, that the nature of the change in the atmosphere may be learned from the sound which the wind makes when passing through the wires.

Thus a deep sound, he says, which is of considerable or medium strength indicates that there will be slight showers of rain with moderate winds within from thirty to forty-eight hours, and on the other hand, a sharp shrill sound is the sure token of a heavy storm, which will be accompanied with much rain or snow.

THE DEATHS.

KAPP.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kapp, of Thompson avenue, died Sunday from exhaustion, at the age of 5 days.

Funeral services were held from the residence today and the interment was at Prairie Grove.

The British government intends utilizing cyclists for the purpose of guarding the railway in South Africa. This is commended as an exceedingly useful plan. Although the limitations of the cyclist in warfare, his difficulty of getting over rough and broken ground as compared with the horseman, are conceded, it is said that in the matter of railway guarding th cyclist is more useful.

Bozeman and, in fact, the whole of Gallatin county, Montana, is afflicted with a scourge of dandelions. They are to be seen in every garden and in nearly every field in the county. In the summer the little globes of fluffy, cotton-like substance containing the seeds of the dandelion float through the air and alight in every nook and corner. No matter how poor the soil the dandelion flourishes.

E. H. Belden, of the Dayton Fan and Motor company, is in the city on a business trip.

Yarmouth's last trawlers have been sold at auction for small sums, steam having driven them out of the business. Yarmouth for a century was the center of the English North sea fishing industry and its fishing fleet numbered over four hundred vessels.

SIGNALING TO MARS.

The Difficulty of Doing So by Means of Light.

The very largest city that this earth has ever known would be altogether too small to be visible to a being dwelling on the planet Mars, even if that being were endeavoring to see it with a telescope as powerful as the greatest and most perfect instrument in any observatory on this globe.

If the whole extent of Lake Superior was covered with petroleum and if that petroleum was set on fire, then, I think, we may admit that an inhabitant of Mars who was furnished with a telescope as good as that which Percival Lowell uses at Flagstaff might be able to see that something had happened. But we must not suppose that the mighty conflagration would appear to the Martian as a very conspicuous object. It would, rather, be a very small feature, but still I think it would not be beyond the reach of a practiced observer in that planet.

On the other hand, if an area the size of Lake Superior on Mars was to be flooded with petroleum and that petroleum was to be kindled, we should expect to witness the event from here not as a great and striking conflagration, but as a tiny little point of just discernible light. The disk of Mars is not a large object, and the conflagration would not extend over the three hundredth part of that disk.

It is sufficient to state these facts to show that the possibility of signaling to Mars is entirely beyond the power of human resources.—Sir Robert S. Ball in Independent.

BLUNDERS IN FICTION.

The Queer Mistakes That Are Sometimes Made by Authors.

We smile as we read and pass swiftly by the stories of maidens that wander in "lonely woods" at unearthly hours of night, always clad in "a soft, white clinging gown." Now, every girl knows that the average maiden is too much afraid of tramps and snakes to wander in "lonely woods." The weather, too, appears to perplex our novelists, for not infrequently they begin a chapter at dawn, there are a few moments' conversation, and then the "sun sets in lurid banks behind the distant empurpled mountains."

"I am reminded at the outset of an English story written by an author of repute where the heroine in one scene was made on one page to stoop down and tie her shoestring, while three pages farther on, directly following, it was said of the same girl that she had remained barefooted the entire day. In another story a blind woman is made to view the hero through spectacles before the tale is ended.

In a French novel—and we generally consider French such literary masters—a heroine is clearly made to go direct from her bed to the breakfast table, out shopping, to an afternoon tea and to dinner in her robe de nuit! Cousins suddenly transformed into brothers without a moment's warning are numerous in this detective's library. Thus one is amused to find the most marvelous mistakes in books which we think we have carefully read.—Modern Culture.

Centuries back golf was a pastime of the royal family, though then usually played in Scotland. The Stuart family was very fond of the game, and the first English club was established at Blackheath in 1608 by James I. His eldest son, Henry, frequently played and on one occasion nearly struck by accident his tutor with a club, whereupon he coolly remarked, "Had I done so I had but paid my debts." Charles I was playing golf when he received the news of the Irish rebellion. James, duke of York, afterward James II, was another ardent player. Golf is frequently mentioned in ancient Scottish records and in the fifteenth century was prohibited because it interfered with the practice of archery. Strutt considered it the most ancient game at ball requiring a bat.—London Chronicle.

The Squirrel Hunter's Weapon.

The cream of squirrel hunting is enjoyed by the man who uses a light rifle of small caliber and medium power. The ".22 long" as now turned out by our leading makers is an excellent weapon—in fact, the best in the world for the purpose. Though not of sufficient range to be dangerous to people or stock at a distance, it throws lead with surprising accuracy to the tops of the tallest trees. Good rifle shots always aim for the squirrel's head both to add to the difficulty of the sport and to avoid spoiling meat. And be it known that a squirrel's head at a range of 40 or 50 yards is no easy mark. If a reader doubts this, let him go to the woods for a day, keep all empty shells, and at the end of the day let him try to make the dead squirrels and the empty shells tally.—H. W. Sandys in Outing.

Early Birds.

The green finch is the earliest riser. It pipes as early as half past 1 in the morning. The blackcap begins at half past 2. It is nearly 4 o'clock before the blackbird appears. It is heard half an hour before the thrush, and the chirp of the robin begins about the same length of time before that of the wren. The house sparrow and the tomtit take the last stage of the list.

Advantages of Port Cities.

The revenue New York derives from the rental of piers to the Cunard, the White Star, the American, the Atlantic Transport, the French, the Leyland, the National and other lines is nearly $1,000,000 annually. The White Star line pays the largest rental, $217,000; the Cunard line is next with $120,000 and the American line third with $88,400.—Aimslee's.

An Elizabethan cup of the year 1577, eight inches high, was sold in London lately for $3,687, or at the rate of $295 an ounce.

NOTES OF THE DAY.

Half a century ago all African ivory came from Egypt and Zanzibar, but today the Congo Free State holds the first rank among the ivory-producing countries. In 1889 no less than 370 tons were exported to Europe, this being more than half the total African output.

The iron trade of the north of England is suffering from a slackness such as was not equaled even during the depression of 1873. The output of manufactured iron during the half year just closed has indeed been smaller than that of any other similar period on record.

In fifty years the words and phrases of the English language lexicanized under the letter "A" have increased from 7,000 in number to nearly 60,000. Science and invention requiring new terms are largely responsible.

NEWS OF THE DIAMOND

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

Wheeling	40	41	.494
Marion	37	49	.430
Columbus	31	57	.352

By winning both games from Matthews and receiving a gentle boost from Dayton, who beat Toledo, Fort Wayne tumbled into fourth place last night by a narrow majority of three points over Toledo. Dayton is now just 25 points ahead of Fort Wayne and should Fort Wayne win the next two games played at home and Toledo win two from Dayton, Fort Wayne would still be three points ahead of the Mud Hens, while the Old Soldiers would have a lead of only one point for third place over Fort Wayne. Of course, these are simply pretty little castles for the fan to paint over in colors pending the arrival of the next score. Yesterday's games were not remarkable for much of anything except the wide discrepancy in the scores of the two games and the bunching of errors by Fort Wayne, as compared with the two errorless games played at Grand Rapids the day before. Daniels opened each game, but in both instances speedily gave way to Mullin in the first and to Ehret in the second game. Peter was off and he knew it and asked to be relieved. In the first game Umpire Hornung was obliged to put White, Matthews' second baseman, out of the game. Matthews was a little short on men and Hornung, rather than reinstate the baseman in the second game, declined to umpire and Eddie O'Mara was substituted. While the first game was a walk-over for "Doggie's" crowd, the second was a tough proposition and looked easy money for Matthews until the sixth inning, when the score was tied. It required ten innings to settle the matter finally and then the score was very decently written at 5 to 4. In the fifth Suttlioff, pitching for Matthews, was hit by a line drive from McCann's bat, and although he pluckily picked up the ball and threw the base runner out at first, he fainted immediately afterwards and had to be carried off the grounds. Dr. Barnett was called to attend him and pronounced his injuries severely painful, although not serious. He was hit in the groin. Shepard, who succeeded him in the box, was hit successfully in the first inning that he pitched, but held the batters down to four hits after that. Following is the score:

THE GAMES SATURDAY.

The Fort Wayne club came home Saturday night with two scalps hanging at the captain's belt, but at that had secured no better than an even break on the brief visit to the Furniture City. Two games were played on Saturday, of which Fort Wayne won one and lost the other. Whether it was the talk that Mr. Mautner delivered to the players or the result of the lecture he delivered to "Doggie" is not known, but anyway the two games played on Saturday fail to show a single error for the home team. In the second game Bailey, the touted wonder whom Grand Rapids regards as invincible, had several kinds of tar knocked out of him and was touched up for seven runs in the first inning. Following is the score and summary of each game:

—First Game.—
G. Rapids.. 3 0 2 0 3 0 0 0 *—8
Fort Wayne 1 0 0 2 0 0 0 0 3—6

Hits—Grand Rapids, 17; Fort Wayne, 12. Errors—Grand Rapids, 3; Fort Wayne, 0. Batteries—Burns and Zalusky; Ehret, Mullin and Fuller. Stolen bases—Jacobs, Evans, Smith, Nattress, Grimm. Sacrifice hits—Evans. Two-base hits—McFarland, 2; Wilmot, Grimm, 2; Jacobs, Burns, McCann, 2; F. Miller, G. Miller. Bases on balls—Off Burns, 1; off Ehret, 1. Struck out—By Burns, 3; by Ehret, 3. SHAMROCKS WIN AND LOOSE.

At Auburn Saturday afternoon the Shamrocks defeated the strong Auburn Reds. Jack Thornton officiated in the box, and was hit safely but four times. Thornton led the batting for the Shamrocks, getting three safe drives. Quinn followed in stick work. Both teams put up fast ball. McDarby's work on first was good. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Shamrocks	6	9	2
Auburn Reds	4	4	4

Batteries—Thornton and Tieman; Stout and Pohle.

AT LAFAYETTE.

At Lafayette yesterday afternoon the Shamrocks were defeated in a fast game. Robbins and Johnson were opposing pitchers. Both pitched good ball, and were given almost perfect support. Mahan made a sensational one-handed running catch in the right garden. Lafayette had the Shamrocks beat 3 to 0 in the third inning. The boys made a stiff up-hill fight, but could not make it. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Shamrocks	2	3	1
Lafayette	3	6	1

Batteries—Robbins and Tieman; Johnson and Barclay.

NOTES OF THE GAMES.

Here are some of the nice things the Grand Rapids Democrat says of the team: "If the 'Railroaders' play the same game elsewhere that they have played here they will be very much in the race before the season is over. * * * 'Doggie' Miller is far from a dead one, for there is not a man on his team that has got him beat much, except it is in youth. At that, he is as full of ginger as any youngster. * * * Nattress is a curious combination of chain-lightning and mediocre. Hard chances, where he covers much ground, he gathers in neatly, but is not at all sure on easy chances."

The Pilsners defeated the All-Stars (colored) team in a very exciting game yesterday, by a score of 13 to 14. The game abounded in many sensational plays, the most notable being that of Foster in the sixth inning, when he turned a double somersault in center field and caught a hard-hit fly with his feet. The work of the All-Star battery and Third Baseman Rhodes was also creditable. In the ninth inning, however, the All-Stars received a balloon ascension and before they came down the Pilseners had scored five runs, thus winning the game by a margin of one. Batteries—Pilsners, Robinson and Allen; All-Stars, Green and Rhodes.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago, July 29.—Heavy rains since the close of the market Saturday resulted in marked weakness in the leading grain futures at the opening today. September wheat opened ⅞c to 1¼c lower at 68⅞c to 68½c, rallied to 69⅞@69c on profit-taking by shorts and then under heavy liquidation declined to 68c. Local receipts were 285 cars, 136 of contract grade. Northwest receipts were 332 cars, against 404 last week and 270 a year ago.

September touched 67½c and rallied to 67⅞c, but the close was weak, 2c net lower, at 67⅜c.

In corn the liquidation was on on immense scale owing to the rains. September opened 1⅜@1½c to 2⅛@3c lower at 52½c to 54c. From the latter figure during the first hour the market worked back to 52½c and then rallied to 52⅞@53c. Receipts were 210 cars.

The close was weak under continued liquidation, September 2½@2⅝c down, at 52⅝c.

Oats were also sold on a heavy scale for both accounts in sympathy with corn. September opened ⅝@⅞c to 2⅛@2½c lower at 33¾c to 32c, and although there was a sharp rise to 33⅞c the market reacted to 32½c. Receipts were 240 cars.

Provisions were dull and easier on heavy hog receipts and in sympathy with corn. September pork opened unchanged at $14.15 and sold to $14.10; September lard opened 2½@5c down at $8.52½@8.55, and September ribs a shade lower at $7.85@7.87½.

THE CLOSE.

Prices at the close were as follows:
Wheat—July, 66⅞c; Sept., 67⅞c; Oct., 68¼c.
Corn—July, 51¾c; Sept., 52⅝c.
Oats—July, 32⅝c; Sept., 32⅝c.
Pork—July, $14.05; Sept., $14.20; Oct., $14.15; Jan., $14.70.
Lard—July, $8.53½@8.55; Sept., $855@8.57½; Oct., $8.60@8.62½; Nov., $8.67½; Dec., $8.55; Jan., $8.55.
Ribs—July, $7.80; Sept., $7.87½; Oct., $5.90; Jan., $7.65@7.67½.
Flax—July and N. W., $1.84; No. 1, $1.84; Sept., $1.60; Oct., $1.53½.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, July 29.—The stock market opened very strong under the combined influences of reports of plentiful rains in the corn belt and the prospect of a settlement of the steel strike. There were ready sales of United States Steel of 35,000 shares at 46 to 46¼, compared with 44⅛ on Saturday, and 7,000 shares of Union Pacific sold at 100¼ to 101⅛, compared with 99⅝ on Saturday. Missouri Pacific shot up 2⅛ and there were gains of between 1 to 1⅜ in Kansas and Texas preferred, the Atchisons, Louisville, Erie first preferred, Reading, Pennsylvania and United States Steel preferred. The market was animated, but yielded in a few minutes from the best prices.

United States Steel ran off a point immediately and the rest of the market yielded. Missouri Pacific lost 2 and a few of the active stocks a point. Among the additional stocks which made gains of 1 to 2 points were Baltimore and Ohio, New York Central, Delaware and Hudson, the Chicago and Alton stocks and Amalgamated Copper. Colorado Fuel lost 2½ and International Power a point. There were some rallies, but the market continued unsteady and became very dull.

There were some substantial advances among less prominent stocks which caused a sympathetic improvement in the general list, but prices did not reach the best, except in St. Paul, which touched 169¾. Norfolk and Western gained 2¾, International Power 2⅝, Great Northern preferred 2⅛, St. Louis and San Francisco second preferred 2, Denver and Rio Grande 1¾ and North American 1½.

The bond market broadened out somewhat, but was irregular.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

New York, July 29.—Flour—Receipts, 18,119 bbls; sales, 3,700 bbls; state and western market was quiet and easier; winter straights, $3.25@3.50.

PULP BUSINESS IN MAINE.

From small beginnings the pulp business on the Penobscot river and in all Maine for that matter has now attained such proportions that this year at least one-half of the logs cut in the state will be consumed by grinders instead of saws. The pulp men are able to pay more than the lumbermen for the logs, because a thousand feet of logs will yield more value in pulp than in timber, and thus the pulp men are masters of the log market, says a Bangor correspondent in the New York Tribune.

When prices of timber are high the sawmill men can afford to pay good prices, but the timber market is subject to violent fluctuations, and this spring timber is selling at low figures while the great demand for logs to feed the pulp mills has sent the price of logs to the highest pitch on record. Few of the saw mill men own any timber land on the Penobscot, and so they are obliged to buy all their logs and the prices this spring have ranged from $14.50 to $15, while the small lots now remaining unsold are held at the heretofore unheard of price of $16 to $16.50 a thousand feet. At the same time the price of spruce timber in New York ranges from $16 to $18.50 a thousand for the various widths at random, while the price here at Bangor is $12.50 to $15, or less than the price of the logs.

The only thing that makes sawing possible under these conditions is the fact that logs and timber are measured by different scales, a thousand feet of logs yielding from 1,150 to 1,250 feet of timber. This overrun and the money received from the waste, which now goes to the pulp mills, enable the timber manufacturers to come out about even, or possibly to make a small profit when all conditions are favorable and there are no losses. The lumbermen say that either the price of logs must come down or the price of timber go up if they are to make a living, and as their is no possibility of a decline in logs it appears that the salvation of the sawmills depends upon a rise in timber. On the other hand, it is said that the pulp men can pay $20 a thousand feet for spruce logs and still make a good profit.

A SHOPMAN DEAD

HARRY COTTER EXPIRES AT HOME IN TOLEDO.

FOREMAN E. J. KISS RESIGNS

ELMER CUMMINGS APPOINTED TO THE POSITION.

SOME UNFORTUNATE ONES

FIREMAN PETERSON STRUCK BY A STONE.

A telegram from Toledo this morning brought to Fort Wayne friends of the family news of the death of Harry C. Cotter, which occurred in that city last night. The deceased was a former citizen of Fort Wayne and nearly all of the older citizens here know him well. He was a machinist by trade and in the fifties was employed in that capacity in the shops of Jones & Bass. Later he entered the employ of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago company and until 1870 was foreman of the car machine department of the shops, a position now occupied by J. J. Bougnot. He left this city to take charge of the car department of the Wabash shops at Toledo and remained in that position until he was elected superintendent of waterworks, which office he filled for ten years. For several years Mr. Cotter has been living a retired life, owing to the infirmities of age. He was prominent in Masonic circles, having reached the thirty-second degree of that fraternity. Mrs. Cotter and two sons survive the deceased. The boys are now taking the last course at the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor. No doubt a number of Fort Wayne people will attend the funeral, which will take place Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

TOWER ATTENDANT KILLED.

James Hackett, night towerman at the crossing of the Pennsylvania and the Toledo and Ohio Central roads at Bucyrus, was found in an unconscious condition at the side of the tracks early yesterday morning. He lived until last night, when he expired without returning to consciousness. Hackett had a bad cut in the head, his skull was crushed, toes cut off and his body otherwise cut and bruised. He was struck and knocked from the tracks by a train. Some evil looking tramps were loafing in the vicinity of the tower Saturday and there is a suspicion that they may have assaulted the towerman and placed him where the train would hit him. Mr. Hackett was twenty-three years old and unmarried.

TROUBLESOME ITALIANS.

Italians employed in grade work in the vicinity of Nevada, where the Pittsburg road is being double-tracked, occasionally make trouble for their "boss" and it is sometimes necessary to call on Captain Stoll's men to quiet the unruly fellows. This was the case yesterday, when six Italians, out on a "lark," stole a handcar and took a ride to Bucyrus. They were captured at that city by a patrolman and two city officers and charged with theft.

A FALSE ALARM.

The fire department made a run to the Bass foundry last night at 8 o'clock, in response to an alarm sent in from that establishment. There was no fire, however, the alarm being due to some derangement of the signal apparatus, which the watchman was repairing when the alarm was given at the engine houses.

WILL MAKE CHEAP RATE.

August 10, the date set for the field day sports of the Pennsylvania Athletic association, the Pennsylvania company will make special rates into Fort Wayne from all points between Plymouth and Lima, and it is expected that thousands of people will come to the city on that day. The Findlay road will also make special rates for that occasion and will run an extra train if there is a demand for such service. On each road the tickets will have a coupon admitting the holder to the grounds whereon the sports will take place.

TESTING WATER PLANT.

Master Mechanic G. S. McKee, of the Wabash, is at Peru today, making the final tests of a water purifying plant put in at that place by the Kennicott company, of Chicago. The plant consists of a large receiving tank about fifty feet from the ground, from which the water is taken from the bottom of two large pipes upon which the tank rests. In passing from the tanks to the valves at the bottom, the water passes through the filters and is said to be absolutely free from lime and other injurious qualities when it enters the engine tanks. At present the Wabash gets its water supply at Peru from the Wabash river and it contains lime and salt sufficient to make it very bad for the purposes designed.

FIREMAN INJURED.

W. E. Peterson, a Pittsburg fireman, was struck on the left temple at Englewood last night and severely injured, though he was able to continue the trip to this city. He was standing in the gangway of the engine pulling the second section of train 72, Engineer Jungles at the throttle, when the missile struck him and knocked him back into the cab. An ugly wound was made on the temple, which swelled and partly closed the eye. Mr. Peterson will be off duty a few days at least.

CHANGE IN FOREMANSHIP.

Saturday night Ernest J. Kiss resigned the foremanship of the pattern department of the Kerr Murray works and Mr. A. D. Cressler immediately advanced Elmer E. Cummings, a patternmaker in that shop, to the position vacated by Mr. Kiss. Mr. Kiss retires in order that he may devote his entire time to the manufacture of his patent metal extracting machinery, recently described by The Sentinel. Mr. Cummings is a very competent and popular man and his appointment to the foremanship will be very satisfactory to all.

HAD A LEG SCALDED.

W. R. Cowell, Pittsburg fireman, is off duty on account of injuries received last night. In some manner a stream of water and steam poured over one of his legs, scalding the limb painfully, though not seriously.

NORTHBOUND TRAVEL.

Northbound travel continues to grow heavier as the season advances. This is most noticeable on the Grand Rapids and Indiana road, which is the most direct route from this section of the country to the resorts in northern Michigan. For the past ten days the Northland express has carried from one to three extra sleeping cars, so great has been the demand for accommodations of that character.

MR. BARR PROMOTED.

W. J. Barr, for some years traveling over the state in the interest of the Joint Weighing and Inspection bureau, has been appointed chief of the local Indianapolis branch, to succeed Mr. Eckman, deceased. This is a very nice promotion for Mr. Barr. He has made frequent visits to this city in the past years and has many friends here who will be pleased to learn of his good fortune.

CHANGE OF YARD FOREMEN.

Last week M. H. Robinson, for several months yard foreman at the Wabash shops, resigned to accept another position and this morning the position was offered to and was accepted by D. E. Allen, who is a new man in the service at this point.

WILL DEDICATE NEW SHOP.

The employes of the Fort Wayne Electric company have asked permission to dedicate the new addition to the works by giving a dance there. The floor will be completed in a short time and as it is a large one and free from all obstructions, it will make one of the most pleasant dance places imaginable. The officials will give their answer in a day or two.

PICNIC AT NEW HAVEN.

"Irish day" will be observed this year by the various associations of that nationality holding a grand picnic in the grove on the Wabash railroad just west of New Haven. At least this is the incompleted arrangement at present. The Wabash company has made a proposition in the line of train service to and from the picnic grounds which seems to meet the approval of the men having the affair in charge. The exercises in previous years were held at Robison park and were enjoyed by thousands of people. The men thought a change of scene would be better this year, hence the selection mentioned in the foregoing. "Irish day" is the 28th of August.

L. E. & W. COMING TO THE FRONT

Concerning the Lake Erie and Western road the Cleveland Leader says: "The appointment of A. H. Smith to the general superintendency of the Lake Erie and Western has called the attention of the railroad men to the physical condition of that property. Interest in the physical regeneration of that road has been reawakened only to come upon the discovery that in a large measure it has been perfected. The groundwork has at last been completed, and the finer details will be worked out as time and finances permit. For instance, it is now learned that the construction crews are at work, and have made wonderful progress at relaying the entire line with a heavier grade of steel rail, either a seventy-five or an eighty-pound "T." In addition to that work the reballasting is being pushed with as much vigor as possible, and everything is being done to bring the Lake Erie and Western system up to the Lake Shore standard of track. The extensiveness of the work will necessitate that some great amount of time be consumed before it is all completed, and the end of the working season may not see all done which they intend to do. While, therefore, Mr. Smith will not have the honor of reclaiming that road physically, he will be able to put the finishing touches upon it. Mr. Blodgett had worked on the line fully a year before Mr. Smith took hold, but their methods are so nearly alike, being of the same Newell school, that the change of heads of the operating department at this time will make no difference whatever in the style of work being carried on. The traffic redemption of the line will come later, when available funds will be applied to the purchase of new equipment. It has been supposed that since Mr. Smith has taken charge of the Lake Erie and Western he would be given an assistant general superintendent on the Lake Shore. The understanding is that the place which he vacated to take Mr. Blodgett's post will not be filled for the time being."

LABORERS VERY SCARCE.

In response to the inquiry, "What's the news?" Supt. T. R. Pickard, of the Bass works, said this morning: "The most important thing I can think of is the fact that we are short of laborers and our work is badly delayed on that account." Inquiry at other establishments showed that the same conditions existed there, though to a less extent. This scarcity is due to the many opportunities for work on the streets and elsewhere outdoors, where the wages are slightly in advance of those paid for common labor in the shops.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

After a two weeks' illness William Altevogt has reported for duty in the Bass machine shop.

Otto Morall, machinist at the tool room, Wabash shops, is sick at the company's hospital in Peru.

Foreman James Murray, of the Wabash boiler shop, attended to business at Peru for the company today.

H. W. Meyers, foreman of the Bass machine shop, was in Wabash yesterday, combining pleasure and business.

The injury of a finger while at work at the east shops has disabled J. A. Sarazen, a car builder, several days.

Pittsburg Engineer J. McMullen and Fireman R. Finney reported for duty this morning, after a few days' lay off.

Yard Engineer Harry Kelker, of the Pittsburg, who was sick three or four days, reported for work this morning.

F. Helberg, of the Pittsburg boiler shop, who had a hand injured last week, was able to resume work this morning.

Foreman C. F. Knothe, who was sick all of last week, resumed charge of his room at the electric works this morning.

Foreman C. F. Knothe, who had been sick a week, resumed charge of his department at the Electric works this morning.

E. T. Davis, foreman of the Pennsylvania freight house at Indianapolis, was the guest of his son, Gregg Davis, yesterday.

Signal Superintendent Hill, of the Pennsylvania, went to Hobart this morning to install signal bells at a railway crossing.

M. Schenlein, J. Edelmann, W. Fetters, J. F. Engle, W. C. Ropa, John Rost and R. H. Mauk, Pittsburg shopmen, are sick and off duty.

C. T. Fudenski, who resigned a position as patrolman in Captain Stoll's forces, will engage in the mercantile business at Wanatah with his father.

Mr. Bell, general foreman of the Wabash shops at Ashley, was in the city Saturday to see Master Mechanic G. S. McKee concerning shop affairs.

Lawrence Cox, the plumber, who had both knee caps injured at the Pittsburg shops last Wednesday by jumping from a scaffold, is getting along nicely, considering the extent of his injuries. He will probably be confined to the hospital two or three weeks by the injuries.

Albert J. Piepenbrink, electrician at the Jenney Power and Light station, and his family have gone west to spend ten days at Chicago and Milwaukee.

The Pittsburg will handle the Harris Nickel Plate show this week. It will exhibit Tuesday at Bucyrus, Wednesday at Delphos and Thursday at Van Wert.

The Pennsylvania did a big passenger business at Plymouth today. A circus is there and it drew big crowds from all stations between Larwill and Valparaiso.

Alex. Thavenet, who was injured a week ago by a car door falling upon him, was able to resume work in the Pennsylvania yards this morning. He is a switchman.

Nickel Plate Brakeman Grimme has been assigned the position of flagman for the Western Union linemen, who are at work in the vicinity of Leipsic at present.

The annual Sunday school excursion from Mentone, Ind., will take place August 14 and will be to Robison park. The Nickel Plate will run a special train on that occasion.

Engineer Ames, of the Grand Rapids and Indiana, who has resided at Kalamazoo for several years, has moved his family to Grand Rapids. He is now on a through passenger run.

Chris Geiger, of Agent E. H. Kirkland's clerical force, is taking a vacation. He will spend a few days at his old home in Lima, Ohio, and then go to the Pan-American exposition.

Joseph DeWald has returned from Columbia City, after a three weeks' outing. George Platts, also of the Electric works, has returned from Rome City, where he spent a week in fishing.

Machinist W. T. Marks resigned his position at the Wabash shops last Saturday and will take a position with another shop. He is a good workman and there is a demand for his services.

C. A. Hartman resumed his duties at the Wabash store room offices this morning after a week's sojourn at the lakes in Whitley and Kosciusko counties. He caught quite a number of fine bass and shad.

William Geiger left at noon today for Cherry, Ky., where he will spend several days in measuring lumber for the Pennsylvania company. Last week Mr. Geiger was similarly engaged at Ashland, Ky.

Last week there were repaired and turned out of the Pittsburg shops engines 45, 148, 175, 187, 191, 276 and 288. During the same time there were taken in for repairs engines 276, 412, 165 and 120.

William Mungovan, Grand Rapids engineer, has resumed work and this morning took his position at the throttle of the Kalamazoo work train engine. Mr. Mungovan was burned on the face and neck a week ago.

Indianapolis Journal: "The Panhandle is short of motive power on both the Indianapolis and Logansport divisions, having been too liberal in loaning some of their engines to the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago."

The Packard company is preparing for the shipment of 233 of its superb organs to England, where instruments made by this firm are in great demand. The Packard company shipped forty organs to Europe last week.

Peter Chamberlain and his family have moved here from Lafayette and he has taken a position as machinist at the Kerr Murray works. Mr. Chamberlain was formerly the engineer at the soldiers' home at Lafayette.

Frank Wright, of the Withington handle factory, was allowed to return to his home on East Wayne street Saturday, after a couple weeks' absence. A son had the scarlet fever and the house was quarantined during the progress of the disease.

Trainmen from the west and north report copious rains in those directions within a very few miles of Fort Wayne. It rained nearly all of last night between Columbia City and Chicago and there were several showers along the lines of the Wabash road and the Grand Rapids.

Engineer B. F. Campbell and Firemen O. J. Glock, M. Brennen and H. L. Kennedy are sick, and Firemen H. P. Bitner, C. F. Keim, W. H. Keller and Henry Sayner are off duty by permission. The latter's wife is sick. All these men are Pittsburg employes.

Agent E. H. Kirkland, of the Pittsburg freight department, has put into service two book typewriter machines which, facilitate work considerably. These machines are similar in many ways to those in service in the superintendent's building and at the shop clerk's office and are quite costly.

Tomorrow Col. R. G. Thompson will be at the Wabash shops to distribute tickets to the employes who wish to take in the Detroit excursion next Saturday. Colonel Thompson does this in order that he may make pretty accurate estimate of the number of excursionists and prepare accommodations for them.

Men's pants discounted 10 per cent. during our sale.

Scrofula

Scrofula is an unwelcome legacy, but one which the children of blood poisoned parentage must accept, with all its humiliating consequences. It is an inheritance that makes one poorer; that brings wretchedness and disease instead of health and riches, for the child whose ancestral blood is tainted with Scrofula or the loathsome virus of Contagious Blood Poison is unfitted for the arduous duties of life so long as any of the transmitted poison remains in its veins. Scrofula manifests itself in various forms; swollen glands about the neck and throat, catarrh of the head, weak eyes, hip bone disease, white swelling and offensive sores and abscesses are familiar symptoms, attended usually with loss of strength, poor digestion and pale or bloodless complexion. The skin is sometimes most dreadfully affected, eruptions breaking out on all parts of the body. Scrofula destroys bone, tissue and flesh; no part of the human system escapes its withering, benumbing touch. Parents whose blood is poisoned by their own misdeeds, or who themselves may be suffering for the sins of some remote ancestor, must restore their own blood to its normal purity and strength, or they cannot expect healthy, robust children. S. S. S. cures Scrofula, like other diseases of a deep-seated, constitutional character, by restoring life and purity to the profoundly poisoned blood, and the rich, strong blood that is carried to the swollen and diseased glands absorbs and destroys the tuberculous deposits, and the painful, disfiguring sores and other evidences of Scrofula disappear.

When nineteen years old, and about one year after the birth of my first child, the glands on the left side of my neck began to swell. Four of the glands were lanced and became open running sores; risings came under my left arm, and the discharge was simply awful. The doctors said I had the worst case of Scrofula they had ever seen. I took iodide of potassium, but this nor the other drugs given for this disease brought relief. When the physicians advised me to have the glands removed, I decided to try S. S. S. A few bottles cured me completely; no signs of the terrible disease are left.

MRS. RICHARD WASSON,
Golden Corners, Ohio.

S. S. S. should be begun immediately upon the appearance of the first symptoms, or where there is a known predisposition to Scrofula. Our medical department will be found of great help to those who are struggling with this wasting disease of heredity or any other blood trouble, and we invite you to write us. Should you or any member of your family need advice, our physicians will cheerfully give the information you desire, for which we make no charge. Book on Blood and Skin Diseases free.

QUESTION OF WHO AND WHAT.

Sunday evening at about 8:30 the patrol wagon was called to the corner of Lafayette and Wallace streets to convey Henry Holland or Boland to his home at 252 John street. He was found lying with a broken nose, and it is presumed that he was struck by a street car. One policeman reported that he was taken to No. 252 John street, suffering with a broken nose, and another officer said he was taken to No. 52 John street and had been overcome by the heat and each officer gave the victim a different name. The reader of the report can take his choice and meanwhile he can ponder over the question whether officers should not be required to give intelligent reports of what comes under their observation.

ABOUT THE COURT HOUSE

Last evening Sheriff Stout received a telephone message from Aboit, stating that Alfred Cattin, a resident there, had assaulted his wife and was threatening to clean up the neighborhood. Deputies Huguenard and Reichelderfer were dispatched to Aboit and they returned with the belligerent last night. Cattin is supposed to be demented and did not do as much damage as the telephonic report indicated. He was locked up for safe keeping and this afternoon a commission in lunacy, presided over by Justice Bullerman, is inquiring into his sanity.

Charles Weller has commenced suit against John Leiknuf et al, on a note and claim for $600.

John G. Theime et al. have commenced suit against John G. Baker on a note for $140.

James W. Squires has commenced suit against Frank and Cynthia Dolin to recover on a note for $295.65.

The cases against Ida Novitsky and Anna Edwards, for assault and battery on Iren Laisure, said to have been committed on the 14th inst., will be heard in Bullerman's court tomorrow.

COLONEL HOGELAND SPOKE

CURFEW EXPLAINED THREE TIMES YESTERDAY.

Author of the Institution and the Newsboys' Friend Will Speak on Street Tonight.

Col. Alexander Hogeland, author of curfew and newsboys' friend, spoke three times yesterday in this city. His first address was delivered at the Berry Street M. E. church at 11 o'clock in the morning. At 3 in the afternoon he addressed the newsboys at the Railroad Y. M. C. A. It proved to be a real novelty, inasmuch as everyone of the newsboys took some part in the meeting, either repeating the Lord's prayer from the stand one at a time, or giving their testimony. Colonel Hogeland's main address was given at the Wayne Street M. E. church, where he spoke for about an hour. He stated briefly that the curfew in its present form was only eight years old, but that fully 2,000 cities had adopted it. He said it was without doubt the most important municipal reform of the present and last century. He said twenty whistles were blowing curfew in St. Louis, ten in Louisville, Ky., and ten in Indianapolis. Even the curfew signals had proven to be an educator to fathers and mothers of their obligations to the children. He stated that he had visited forty cities during the last year, and all former opposition to the curfew had disappeared. He said the government was educating 30,000 Indian children, everything furnished gratis, and each receiving small annuities and some land, and he endorsed that attention to the Indian child. At the same time the government of the United States was allowing 250,000 white American young men and boys to roam the country and do pretty much as they pleased, to eventually be graduated into hold-up men, house-robbers, safe-blowers and train ditchers. It was shown that absolutely the only remedy for reducing the ranks of this now growing army of thieves and tramps was the curfew in their boyhood. The colonel will make an open-air speech tonight at the corner of Calhoun and Berry streets. This address will be illustrated and every man, woman and child in the city ought to hear it. There is no salary attached to Colonel Hogeland's work and those who feel disposed to aid him can do so by purchase of his charts. It shares an expense in a small way the good results of which are left with the people.

IN THE JUSTICES' COURTS.

The retaliatory provoke case filed against Malachowski by Hoppe and Ciegloskaski, all of the knitting mills, were tried in Justice Huser's court this morning. Attorney Kuhne, who can tear off German by the acre, represented the state, and R. B. Dreibelbiss, another German orator, appeared for the defense, and so the court being likewise familiar with the language, the services of an interpreter were dispensed with and the trial was conducted in the German language, interspersed with hieroglyphics and an occasional Polish phrase. Everybody except Attorney Dreibelbiss sidestepped for the Polish interjections; he said he could get away with them about as well as with anything else. The evidence appeared to the justice to show that the affidavit was filed as a result of some spitework and he acquitted the prisoner, the state having failed to make a case.

Hugh P. O'Reilley was arrested last week for selling liquor without a license and on a plea of guilty was fined $20. He made his plea all right, but failed to settle and led the officers a merry race while they were trying to get him to produce the coin or stay the docket. Meantime another affidavit was filed against him and he was called into court again. He then hired an attorney, who appealed the first case and took a change of venue on the second. As O'Reilley is still without the necessary license the prosecutor will keep right on filing affidavits until the saloonkeeper finally finds out where he is at.

William Pope and Daniel Irwin were sent to jail this morning by Justice Bullerman for assault and battery on Henry Blaising, of New Haven, last Saturday evening. The men are both typical tramps and were released from the county jail only on Saturday morning. Blaising is a saloonkeeper at New Haven and on Saturday night when it came time to close up his place the two hoboes refused to go out and showed fight. Blaising undertook to eject them and during the fracas he was cut with a knife in the hands of Pope. The marshal of New Haven was deputized as a special sheriff to arrest the men and he succeeded in landing them in jail. Pope was sent over for forty-seven days and Irwin, who was only an accessory, was sent up for thirty-seven days.
